Macmillan, Khrushchev Chat On Berlin, Cold War Thaw

MOSCOW —(AP)— Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Premier Nikita Khrushchev talked over world affairs privately Sunday at a Soviet government villa in a pine woods 50 miles southeast of Moscow. They toasted Britain's royal family.

The visiting British leader was the overnight guest of Premier and Mrs. Khrushchev at the villa, a sprawling, one-story house once owned by Joseph Stalin.

Soviet and British spokesmen announced the government chiefs, accompanied by top aides, discussed all subjects of mutual interest in informal sessions before and after lunch.

Although the announcements did not go into detail, West Berlin's future and the issue of German unity rank high among subjects of mutual interest.

Formal conferences open today in the Kremlin.

Macmillan was accompanied at the villa by his Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, and Sir Patrick Riley, the British ambassador to Moscow.

With Khrushchev were Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, a recent visitor to the U.S.; Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, and Jacob A. Malik, Soviet ambassador to Britain.

The villa lies outside the 25-mile limit beyond which foreign correspondents and photographers are forbidden to travel from Moscow. So Western newsmen were dependent on the Soviet news agency Tass and briefings from Western officials for the news.

A British spokesman said the ministers' conversations—one lasting 75 minutes before lunch and the second lasting two hours — were held in a relaxed atmosphere.

"The two great men got on very well together," he said.

The villa was built in 1939 for Stalin, who often used it to entertain guests. The British spokesman said he saw no police or soldiers on the grounds.

People fished and skated on a lake near the house.

All unfavorable mention of Britain appeared banished from Soviet newspapers with the arrival of Macmillan Saturday for a 10-day visit avowedly aimed to see about chances of easing cold war tensions. Attacks against West Germany and the U.S. were printed as usual.

The Soviet press was full of news of Macmillan.

The full text of his speech at a Kremlin dinner Saturday night in which he warned against the danger of "muddling" into war was carried in the papers, including his declaration that colonialism and imperialism were bygone episodes.

Observers noted it was the first time in years that the Soviet picture of "the aggressive West" had been contradicted so effectively in the papers reaching millions of Russians.

The papers hailed Macmillan's "return visit" for a 10-day state tour — a reference to the fact that he said Saturday he had last been in Russia as a private tourist in 1929.

Fignole Readies Move Against Regime

Haiti Told to Expect General Strike Call

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti —(AP)— Daniel Fignole, ousted as Haiti's provisional president by a 1957 army coup after 19 days in office, Sunday told his followers to get ready for a general strike against the government.

Broadcasting over Radio Havana's Radio Progresso, Fignole urged his backers to join with other opposition groups in a drive to oust President Francois Duvalier.

A check around the city showed listeners tuned in to his broadcast in all sectors of Port-au-Prince. It had been scheduled since Thursday.

In many slum areas, long lines of prospective listeners formed outside of homes with radios hours before the broadcast. The United Opposition, which includes former Sen. Louis DeJoie and onetime presidential candidate Clement Jumelle, broadcasts three times a week over Radio Progresso.

Wouldn't Foil You; It IS Aluminum

A shiny example of the versatility of aluminum foil and The Herald's presses is in your hands today.

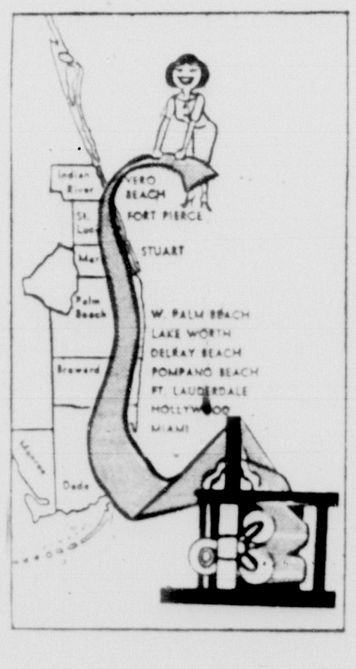
In Section E you'll find a full, newspaper-sized sheet of the super-thin metal foil that is so familiar to housewives as a convenient wrapper for foodstuffs.

Alcoa Aluminum Foil manufacturers wanted to put samples in the home of Floridians, and chose The Herald as the logical distributor.

Two-hundred-pound rolls of the foil — enough to stretch 150 miles from Homestead to Vero Beach — were placed on Herald presses in the space usually occupied by newsprint.

The foil proved its great tensile strength by holding up through the press runs which at times reach a speed of 52,000 copies an hour.

Actually, it is only seven ten-thousandths of an inch thick—just one-fifth the thickness of a regular newspaper sheet. Tests you can make yourself show a one-inch wide strip will support a weight of six pounds.



Alcoa's message is carried by The Herald throughout Florida in all editions — an exciting "first" in newspaper advertising.

Kennedy Not in Race --Just Yet

Talmadge Gives Plug to Johnson

The New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts said Sunday that "the appropriate time" for him to announce his plans regarding the Democratic presidential nomination would be in 1960.

The senator, generally regarded as the leading contender for the nomination, declared on the CBS-TV program, "Face the Nation," that he was "not a candidate at this time."

He said he thought Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas had a "practical chance" to win the nomination, and that Adlai E. Stevenson, the defeated candiate of 1952 and 1956, could conceivably be nominated again if the convention were deadlocked over other candidates.

Sen. Herman Talmadge, (D., Ga.), appearing on ABC-TV's "College News Conference," endorsed Sen. Johnson for the nomination. He said he was one of the ablest men he had ever seen and was qualified to hold any office in the country.

House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, appearing on another program, emphasized the obvious by predicting that "established candidates will start in ahead of the game" at next year's Republican convention. The "established candidates," he explained on Mutual radio's "Reporter's Roundup," were Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Rep. Halleck said he did not think the vice president was assured of the nomination. The convention, he said, would as usual be "unbossed" and would consider "all the best candidates."

Kennedy denied again, as he had in other public appearances, a recent assertion by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt that his father, Joseph E. Kennedy, was making large financial contributions to his campaign and had "agents" working for him in many states to line up delegates.

"There are no such expenditures and no such agents," Kennedy said. He said he had so informed Mrs. Roosevelt, who said she had heard the reports in "casual conversations" with persons whose names she couldn't remember.

Masferrer Friends Shot

HAVANA, Cuba —(AP)— Two civilians and two policemen were wounded Sunday in an exchange of gunfire involving friends of former Sen. Rolando Masferrer, a Batista supporter now in exile in Miami.

Police identified the civilians as Manuel Morales and Jose Alberto Garcia, Masferrer's friends.

Officers had arrested Garcia and Jesus Basulto for lack of proper identification, then stopped to let Morales identify them. An exchange of shots followed, and Basulto escaped.

'Sent Up My Buddy,' Assailant Says

Three Thugs Slash Judge

GREENSBURG, Ind. —(AP)— Three thugs lured Mayor Sheldon Smith to his downtown office late Saturday night and methodically sliced his face, hands and body with a double-edged razor blade.

He was reported in fair condition Sunday.

The 39-year-old mayor, former state chairman of Indiana Young Republicans, also is judge of the Greensburg City Court.

He told police the man who did the slicing, while his companions held Smith, snarled:

"You sent up my buddy, and you're going to pay for it."

Smith, mayor of this town of 7,000 for 10 years, said all three men were strangers to him, but he had seen the razor-blade wielder Saturday afternoon in a restaurant.

One of the men enticed Smith to his private accountant's office by telephone, saying he wanted help in preparing an income tax return. He gave the name, J.B. Patton, but Police Chief Warren Melick said it undoubtedly was fictitious.

The mayor was able to call police before he collapsed. He was sliced on both hands, the end of the nose, behind both ears, on the abdomen and on the right thigh.

Under heavy sedation, the mayor could give only meager descriptions of his attackers. He said two were in their 20s and the man with the razor blade was in his 30s.

Higher Wages Come First

Shortened Work Week? Hoffa Gives It the Cold Shoulder

By TOM LOWNES

Herald Staff Writer

Teamster Boss Jimmy Hoffa turned his back on the mainstream of America's labor leaders in Miami Sunday when he came out strongly against any shortening of the 40-hour work-week.

"I'd be the first to oppose it if it came up before the board," said Hoffa, who met with his 15-man Teamster executive board at Miami Beach's Eden Roc Hotel to begin a four-day quarterly business session.

Hoffa said members of his truckers' union are more interested in higher wages than shorter working hours.

"We're not going to worry about a few hours off until we've raised living standards first," said Hoffa.

"Who wants to stand still with the same wages for two or three years just to have the extra time," Hoffa asked reporters gathered in one of the Teamsters' ocean-front suites.

"If you took a vote on it, I don't think the workers in our union would stand for it — and they're no different from the workers in any other union," said Hoffa.

His remark was pointed at Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, who dropped his fight for shorter hours in favor of other demands during the UAW's last bargaining campaign in Detroit.

"And shorter hours," said Hoffa, "wouldn't change the employment situation one bit. If a man had to work only four eight-hour days at one job, he'd just take another part-time job — probably for less pay."

On the subject of secondary jobs, Hoffa — who is part owner of at least one trucking firm — defended his right to have as many outside businesses as time permits.

"A labor leader is no different from anybody else," said Hoffa. "As long as he takes care of his union, he shouldn't be limited to one professional pursuit."

Hoffa said his board may meet this week with the three court-appointed monitors who oversee the union he heads only as "provisional" president.

Even while discussing charges in the Teamster auditing system with the monitors, Hoffa and his lieutenants will huddle with their lawyers to duscuss new ways of getting rid of the monitors.

Trouble on the national front, or not, Hoffa was pleased with "the model campaign" his six full-time organizers are waging in Dade County.

"We have 4,900 Teamsters in Miami now," said Hoffa, "and the ones who are organized are in good positions to organize the rest."

What pleased him most, Hoffa said, was the local drive on the concrete industry, which resulted last month in a Teamster contract with Acme Cement. Acme is second in size only to Maule Industries, which was already a Teamster holding.

"We'll get the whole industry now," said Hoffa. "It's an important break because it gives us a base to work from in the construction industry."

Next on the Teamster's Dade list, said Hoffa, will be building supply firms, block shops, and lumber yards.

He also said his organizers are beginning to make progress with Dade's hotel doormen and gas stations.

Hoffa had news for loan-hungry Florida businessmen: "There will not be any more Teamster investments in Florida," said Hoffa, who has put nearly four million dollars from his union's retirement fund into Dade mortgages.

"The poeple here — particularly the newspapers — didn't like it," said Hoffa.

Doctor Beaten Fatally

RICHMOND, Va. —(AP)— Dr. Austin I. Dodson Sr., 67, nationally known urologist and head of the urology department at the Medical College Virginia, was found beaten to death early Sunday in Monroe Park in midtown Richmond.

While robbery apparently was the motive for the attack, said Detective Patrolman George Perkins, it appeared nothing had been taken from the physician.

DR. DODSON

Dr. Dodson and his wife were planning to attend a musical concert at the nearby City Auditorium. Mrs. Dodson said her husband dropped her off at the auditorium and then went to park the car.

Police theorized the doctor parked the car and was on his way through the park to the auditorium when he was attacked.

Newfoundland Cable Is Out

LONDON —(AP)— The 35-million-dollar telephone cable between Scotland and Newfoundland was still out of operation Sunday night, 24 hours after developing a fault toward the western end.

The British post office said service was being maintained by radio channels "but there may be delays in connecting telephone calls to North America."

In Montreal, Douglas F. Bowie, president of the Canadian Overseas Telecommunication Corp., said the fault had been tracked to a spot about 200 miles east of Clarenville, Nfld. A cable ship has been sent to the area, he said.

GETTYSBURG, Pa. —(AP)— President Eisenhower went for a drive Sunday and made a bee-line for his country estate.

Eisenhower motored up from the White House just to spend the day. His son and daughter-in-law and their four children already were at their cottage in a corner of the Eisenhower estate.

Neuberger Criticizes Colleagues

Says Secretary Entitled to Time

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Key Democratic senators split sharply Sunday over whether President Eisenhower should immediately name a successor to ailing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D., Ore.) now back in the Senate after an attack by cancer, the same ailment suffered by Dulles, commented sharply on suggestions by some of his Democratic colleagues that Dulles be replaced.

Neuberger said that President Eisenhower and Dulles doctors "should be allowed a decent interval in which to decide the secretary's future without being hounded to force his resignation.

Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (D., Minn.) and Stuart Symington (D., Mo.) called for an early decision by the President. But Neuberger was joined by two others—Sens. John J. Sparkman (D., Ala.) and John F. Kennedy (D., Mass.) — in urging that the President be given a little time.

A Republican, Sen. Karl E. Mundt (S.D.) summed up most GOP reaction when he said he hoped Dulles would remain.

Symington touched off the controversy Saturday when, after voicing sympathy for the stricken Dulles, he said Eisenhower should promptly name a successor so the nation would have a firm hand at the foreign policy helm.

Humphrey endorsed the suggestion Sunday asserting that the nation must have its strongest and best qualified spokesman at the foreign policymaking level "at this very critical period."

Humphrey is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee — as are Kennedy and Sparkman.

Sparkman, in taking a go-slow approach to any Dulles replacement, said the secretary may bounce back from his hernia operation and cancer ailment if given a reasonable time. Sparkman said, "if anyone can, I believe he will."

Neuberger said "the faithful service of Mr. Dulles to our country merits a reasonable time in which to appraise his future."

Meanwhile vice president Richard M. Nixon paid a hospital call on Dulles Sunday—his first since the secretary underwent his operation Feb. 13. They discussed the Berlin situation for 45 minutes.

Dulles brother, Allen W., head of the Central Intelligence Agency, also called to give the secretary a briefing on the world situation.

There was no indication whether Dulles discussed with Nixon the Democratic calls for a new secretary.

Tomato, Tomahto, Potato--Ah, Nuts

TOKYO—(UPI)—A Chinese Red with a green thumb claims he has developed a plant which grows fat potatoes on its roots below ground and plump red tomatoes above ground, it was reported Sunday.

An issue of the magazine "China Reconstructs," a Peiping publication, arrived in Tokyo Sunday and described the work of Chiang Shao-fang, 22, who is rapidly approaching the status of hero in China and is, by his own account, leaving Luther Burbank in the shade.

Chiang, who had a "cleaner's job" at the Normal College at Yulin, Kwangal province, in 1955 reported "surprising results" with animals as well as plants.

"By taking the white from a goose egg and injecting it into a hen's egg, I also succeeded in producing a large bird of great stamina with very fine grade meat," he said.

But his "proudest achievements" were in the plant world.

Along with his potato-tomato plant, he said he developed drought-resistant rice by crossing rice with sorghum. He admitted that even Communist textbooks said this was impossible.

Merry Cypriot Prisoners Stream Out to Freedom

Liberation Joy Rocks The Island

NICOSIA, Cyprus —(UPI) — Nearly 1,000 Cypriot prisoners released by the British streamed out of detention camps to freedom Sunday. Their liberation touched off one of the greatest outbursts of celebration ever seen on this once-embattled island.

British troops were confined to their camps to cut down the risk of clashes with the jubilant Cypriots, who poured into the streets at the first reports that all detention camps had been closed and their prisoners freed.

Troops in one section of the Mediterranean island were reported to have stoned carloads of released Cypriots — an incident reflecting bitterness over the amount of blood spilled in the past four years.

To Cypriots, however, the release meant the official end of the long "emergency" on this disputed island, the acceptance of their independence.

As wildly cheering detainees, many of them bearded, streamed into the island's cities, the emotions of Greek Cypriots exploded into celebration.

It was virtually impossible to move in the heart of Nicosia because of the crowds shouting, "the emergency is really ending," and, "we're happy — we're happy."

The detainees, many of them political prisoners, had been ordered released by Cyprus Gov. Sir Hugh Foot, who returned from London Saturday. The release was a result of last week's London Cyprus government which established independence for the island.

But the bitterness of years of struggle between Greek Cypriot and Briton still remained like an ugly cloud over the celebration.

Inflation Necessary?

NEW YORK—(AP)—Dr. Sumner Slichter, Harvard economist, took issue Sunday with efforts of the Eisenhower administration to balance the federal budget.

To achieve maximum production, he said, about 97 per cent of the labor force would have to be at work — three per cent more than the present level of employed.

Slichter, appearing on the NBC-TV program, "Meet the Press," said a measure of inflation is a necessary cost of achieving maximum economic growth.

The administration, he said, is placing too much emphasis on a stable price level and halting inflation, and too little on maximum growth.

Molasses Even Slower

GOSHEN, Ind. — (UPI) — Goshen firemen discovered something as slow as molasses in January.

It's molasses in February.

A tank truck sprang a leak during the night and, by morning, 300 pounds of the stuff had oozed its way across a Goshen street. The temperature was below zero and firemen had to use a high pressure hose to get rid of it.

Pro-Nasser Mobs Riot In Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon, —(UPI) —Pro-Nasser crowds battered and burned five street cars in downtown Beirut Sunday in an outburst of rioting that climaxed the city's celebration of the United Arab Republic's first anniversary.

Gangs of pro and anti-Nasser youths clashed in fist fights in the heart of the capital following the trolley attacks.

The Lebanese army rushed seven truckloads of helmeted troops into the city to separate the rival gangs and prevent the outburst from erupting into wider violence.

At least two persons were injured, both of them members of the Christian Falangist Party that backed ex-President Camille Chamoun.

The fighting broke out after pro-Chamoun youths scrawled slogans denouncing U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser on street cars traveling through the city's Basta Moslem quarter where the population was celebrating the U.A.R. anniversary.

Crowds of Nasser backers angered by the slogans ordered passengers out of the street cars, then smashed the windows, ripped out seats and attempted to set them afire.

Two double trolley cars and a single car were badly damaged before police scattered the demonstrators.

After attacking the street cars the angry crowd surged down the main street of the Basta quarter in an attempt to track down the slogan writers.

It was the first incident to mar the U.A.R. anniversary celebrations in Lebanon and the first major outburst in Beirut since the nation's civil strife ended last autumn.

Farmland Drained Of Flood Waters

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill. —(AP) — With a section of more than 100 feet blown out of a Wabash River levee, a floodwater lake over some 33,000 acres of Illinois farmland Sunday drained back into the river.

The clay dike, east of and across the Wabash from Vincennes, Ind., was dynamited late Saturday by Lawrence County farmers seeking to save their soaked grain plantings.

The affected land in southeastern Illinois was inundated Wednesday when the levee collapsed at a point near Russellville, Ill., some 10 miles north of Vincennes.

In effect, the second breach downstream was like pulling the stopper from a bathtub. Water boiled through the opening into the falling Wabash River. Upstream, the river level was low enough so that no new flood water came into the area from the Wabash.

'Changed His Position'

Collins Should Quit, Says Segregationist

By JOHN McDERMOTT
Herald Political Writer

Tampa segregationist Sumter Lowry said Sunday night in Miami Gov. LeRoy Collins should resign, charging that Collins has "changed his position" on segregation by not resisting integration of a Dade school.

Lowry, who was runnerup to Collins in the 1956 gubernatorial campaign, said Florida's governor has ignored the state constitution by his willingness to accept some racial mingling in Florida schools.

The retired National Guard general said that during the campaign for reelection, Collins "made the people believe that he was for segregation."

Lowry made his statements while being quizzed on the Channel 10 television show, "Important."

In calling for the governor's resignation, Lowry said, "He should let someone do the job, provide the leadership which we need to prevent integration in the schools."

He said he does not believe that the Dade school board's decision allowing four Negro students to enter Orchard Villa Elementary School next September will have a deterring effect upon integration in other parts of Florida.

Many observers feel the Dade decision will strengthen the pupil assignment law by showing that under the law "some" Negroes were admitted to white schools.

Lowry said that the only way to insure segregation is "total resistance," and if he were governor, he would permit integration only if federal troops with fixed bayonets forced the issue.

Philip's Visit Starts a Riot

SINGAPORE —(AP)— A crowd of 150,000 surged out of control at the Singapore Constitution Exposition Sunday during a visit by Prince Philip. Several persons were hurt in the crush, but the prince, surrounded by police, escaped harm.

The Prince, husband of Britain's Queen Elizabeth II, toured the fair on foot and by car.

Moscow Warns Tehran

Link With U.S. Riles Soviet

TEHRAN, Iran — (UPI) — The Soviet ambassador to Tehran warned Sunday that Iran "definitely will become our enemy" if it signs a planned mutual military aid pact with the U.S.

In a separate statement, Iranian Premier Manutscher Eghbal retorted: "We are not afraid of any threats."

The semi-official newspaper Etelaat reported the government Saturday sent the Soviets a strongly-worded note protesting against recent anti-Iranian propaganda.

Ambassador Nikolai Pegov bitterly assailed Iran's "open insult" to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev by abruptly breaking off non-aggression pact talks in Tehran earlier this month. He said Iran brushed off Russia as it would a postage stamp power.

"Iran treated us as if we were Luxembourg," he complained.

"We cannot tolerate this insult and we withdraw our proffered hand of friendship. Since Iran has taken such an attitude, she herself must be expected to suffer the consequences."

Iran, he warned, "definitely will become our enemy if it signs a bilateral military agreement with the U.S."

The Shah of Iran announced Saturday that such a pact would be signed. Only last Sunday, the government announced that despite Russian threats, it was remaining solidly in the Western camp.

Iranian Premier Eghbal appeared unruffled.

"Let them shout and abuse us until they get tired," he said. "If they think they can intimidate us and force us to relinquish our rights and interests by these means, they are sadly mistaken. On the contrary, the more the Russians attack, the greater will be the unity of the Iranian nation.

"We must all die once, and it is much better to die honorably than live dishonorably.

"We know the Soviets would not dare invade Iran because if a single Red Army soldier steps on our soil, it will mean the beginning of World War III and the destruction of the Soviets themselves."

Mother of 2 Kills Self

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Mrs. Helen T. Gardner, 51, former wife of Trevor Gardner, one-time assistant Air Force secretary, was found shot through the heart at her suburban McLean, Va., estate Sunday, police said.

Detective Sgt. William Haines of the Fairfax County, Va., police said Mrs. Gardner was shot with a .22 caliber pistol. Haines termed the death a suicide.

Haines said Mrs. Gardner was found in a bedroom of her home by her son, Trevor Jr., 17, who had been downstairs with his sister, Anne, 15. He said neither child heard the shot.

Haines said the children told him their mother had been despondent over the breakup of her marriage with Gardner, who has since remarried.

Jobless Aid Skirmish Coming Up

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Battle lines began forming Sunday for a third major budget skirmish between congressional Democrats and the Eisenhower administration. The issue will be legislation to help areas plagued by chronic unemployment.

Already partially successful in their drive to push through housing and airport aid bills which exceed the President's requests, the Democrats were expected to press for an ambitious area redevelopment program.

Eisenhower vetoed a big redevelopment bill last year that carried a 275-million-dollar price tag. He followed up this year by resubmitting his own 55-million-dollar program.

The Senate Banking Committee will begin looking at the administration program and Democratic counter-proposals Wednesday. A House banking subcommittee will start its hearings on the widely varying bills March 9.

Both houses were expected to come up with programs that would cost more than the administration wants to spend despite Republican objections that this would upset the President's delicately balanced 77-billion-dollar budget.

In announcing the House hearings, Chairman Brent Spence (D., Ky.) of the banking committee said area redevelopment legislation is "urgently needed."

"Despite extreme effort, people in many economically depressed areas have been unable to improve their economic position," Spence said. "Continued and persistent unemployment in these areas now constitutes a national problem."

TV Ads Haunt Us --Even on Road

Metro police don't hold up traffic for license-check roadblocks anymore. They hold up traffic for television commercials.

At 3 p.m. Sunday, smack dab in the midst of the home-from-the-beach crowd, three officers stopped traffic on the Miami-bound lanes of Rickenbacker Causeway on Crandon Park.

The reason: Filming of television commercials displaying pretty young models driving Studebaker cars.

As Sunday afternoon motorists fumed, traffic backed up bumper-to-bumper for blocks.

It was only last week that Judge George E. Holt ruled that police roadblocks for license checking was unconstitutional.

All's Faroe in Love

Little Fishin' Smack Smacks of Cupid

ABERDEEN, Scotland —(AP) — A Faroese fishing smack bobbing over the North Sea was Cupid's little helper Sunday.

It was taking U.S. Airman Walter Baldwin, 28, of Cleveland, to the remote Faroe Islands. There, if chance boat schedules can be fitted together, he will pick up Kristen Anthons and take her off to Iceland, where they plan to be married.

Baldwin, on a short leave, has been under way for a week. He has covered 1,600 miles by sea, to call for his bride-to-be. He went from Iceland to the Shetland Islands, north of Scotland, from which, normally, small ships ply to the Faroes. But not even for love — in the winter time.

Unable to go directly to the Faroes Baldwin caught a cattle boat for Aberdeen. Here he hoped to make contact with a fishing boat headed for the Faroes. He was in luck.

Tramping along the waterfront talking to seamen with whom he hoped to hitch a ride, Baldwin encountered Hans Jenssen, master of the Faroese fishing smack Grunnigen, which was homeward bound.

Who, asked Jenssen, is the prospective bride?

Baldwin said Kristen Anthons, and skipper Jenssen exclaimed:

"Why, I know Kristen, and a fine girl she is."

When the Grunnigen left Aberdeen, Baldwin was aboard.

There is some urgency. Baldwin needs a good combination of weather at sea and boat timing. His tour of duty ends on April 2. To marry before then, Kristen must be in Iceland by Feb. 28 to comply with Icelandic marriage laws.

Paper Strike In Second Day

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — The American Newspaper Guild said Sunday it will present a revised pension plan to striking members of the Globe-Democrat unit in a meeting today.

A guaranteed pension plan is the only matter of contention in negotiating a new contract. The newspaper strike is in its second day.

The guild said it intends to ask for federal conciliators to call a meeting of the union and management as soon as the plan is completed and approved by the membership.

The guild said it is calling in a representative of a Detroit firm which specializes in setting up pension plans to aid it in making the revised plan.

Keeping Up to Date

What Ever Became of . . .

THAT MILE-HIGH SKYSCRAPER? — Famed architect Frank Lloyd Wright proposed in 1956 to build it in Chicago. He said it would be 528 stories tall, could hold 100,000 people, would cost about $100 million. The "eighth wonder of the world" was to be erected of steel and glass, with floors extending outward from a central core like branches from a tree trunk. Wright's design drew jeers and cheers. The architect insisted the structure was "practical and expedient."

Today, more than two years after Wright bared his daring idea, the mile-high building is no further along than a drawing. A spokesman for Wright says no group is currently interested in building or backing it.

Molotov Is Back

MOSCOW —(AP)— Ex-Premier V. M. Molotov is back at his post as ambassador to Outer Mongolia, diplomatic sources said.

Bearers to Lug Boats to King

KATMANDU, Nepal — (AP) — Nine tons of Soviet motorboats are waiting at the India-Nepal border for bearers to carry them on their shoulders over the mountains to King Mahendra.

The king will use the three motorboats on the lakes at Pokhra, 140 miles west of Katmandu. Soviet President Klementi Y. Voroshilov gave them to the monarch last January, along with an Ilyushin plane, several Soviet automobiles and some Russian bicycles.

Keep Schools Open, State Jaycees Urge

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — The Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce went on record here Sunday in opposition to any move to abolish Florida's free public school system.

Without mentioning the segregation-integration issue, the Jaycees adopted a resolution supporting the free public school system established under the constitution of Florida.

It ordered copies of the resolution be sent to all members of the Legislature.

"The Jaycees believe the public schools must be preserved and that it is the responsibility that preservation and control of the public school system rest in the hands of the citizens of Florida," the resolution prepared by the Jaycees Public education section declared.

The Jaycees also said it is the "inherent duty" of civic organizations to involve themselves in issues which effect the life of the community it serves, and "the Jaycees are deeply concerned with the invaluable role which public education plays in the continued growth in Florida."

In another resolution, the Jaycees expressed full confidence in the existing public school program in Florida and urged adequate financing of the minimum foundation program for public schools.

It turned down a resolution which called for strengthening of the federal pollution control act and doubling the current sewage treatment plant construction grant program to provide for a maximum of $500,000 for any one grant.

It passed resolutions that:

CALLS for enactment of a law requiring annual automobile inspections at private garages approved by the state.

REQUIRE erection of warning equipment at every railroad crossing in Florida, complying with safety standards of the American Railroad Association.

REQUESTS FOR adoption of a four-cent stamp bearing the American flag in its true colors.

Other resolutions asked enactment of state laws requiring a license for "cane pole" fishermen, a state boat licensing law, and a law requiring those 18 and under to complete a hunter safety program before being issued a hunting license.

Who's This 'Occupant'?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (AP) — Kenny Sherrard, a mail carrier, meets all kinds of people.

"But nothing will top the man who ran out of his house after I'd dropped a letter marked 'occupant' in his box," Sherrard recalls.

"Hey," the man yelled, "nobody by this name lives here."

Also Threatens Los Angeles as Demo Choice

Philadelphia Leads in GOP Site Race

By W. H. LAWRENCE
The New York Times Service

N. Y. Times News Service

WASHINGTON — Philadelphia suddenly has emerged as a favored 1960 convention site for Republicans, and also may be threatening Los Angeles as the choice for the Democratic meeting.

A shift in GOP sentiment toward Philadelphia became known from talks among Republican leaders who previously had leaned toward Chicago. The question will be settled at a national committee meeting here early in April.

The Democratic National Committee meets here next Friday with a recommendation from its site subcommittee that the party hold its next nominating convention in Los Angeles the week of July 11, 1960.

But his recommendation will be opposed by a group including Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, Jacob M. Arvey of Chicago and Carmine De Sapio of New York. Chicago and New York are strong contenders, as is Philadelphia.

One problem of the Lawrence-Arvey-De Sapio group is that each of the three leaders favors his own city and it will be difficult for them to pool their strength against the forces backing the site subcommittee selection. Paul M. Butler, Democratic national chairman, is confident the Los Angeles selection will be upheld.

Miami has bid strongly for both conventions and is regarded as attractive, but there is fear of an incident affecting Negro delegates which would create bad publicity and embarrassment.

Republican and Democratic leaders said sentiment for Chicago was declining. Both expressed disappointment with the Chicago presentation in bidding for the convention site.

Western Democrats favor Los Angeles to open the 1960 campaign in the "backyard" of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who is the front-runner for the GOP presidential nomination next year.

His Duct Idea Worth $1,625

SAN FRANCISCO — (UPI) — An idea for a quick-opening cover for ship ventilation ducts brought Frank Monsler, San Francisco naval shipyard worker, a $1,625 award.

A shipyard spokesman said it was the largest beneficial suggestion award in the yard's history and would save the Navy $600,000.

A typical aircraft carrier uses more than 2,000 such covers.

In Three Booming Counties

Super-City By The Shore

A SUPER-CITY is taking shape along Florida's southeast shore.

Its portrait is painted for the first time in a booklet just published by the University of Miami's Bureau of Business and Economic Research. The 65 pages of figures show the phenomenal growth of Dade, Broward and Palm Beach counties, where they stand today and a glimpse of their future.

The facts are meaningful to everyone who lives in these three counties, to their government officials, investors and others all over the country.

What emerges is a three-county metropolitan area on the bank of the Gulf Stream with 1,327,000 people. Their number will reach the two-million mark six years from now, then leap by another million every 10 years to four million in 1985.

OF THE 1,327,000, nearly 400,000 are non-agricultural workers and almost 250,000 are children and teenagers enrolled in public schools. Around 100,000 are drawing Social Security pensions, but the median age of the whole population is about 33.

Retails sales in the three counties, when last tallied, had nearly trebled in eight years and passed the two-billion-dollar-a-year mark.

More than 660,000 motor vehicles gulped gasoline at the rate of nearly half a billion gallons a year, and both these figures had more than doubled since 1950.

Money deposited in banks and savings and loan associations of the three counties rose from $1.508 billion to $2.659 billion in the past five years.

Since 1950, 225,000 new residences have been built, employment and payrolls have better than doubled, and jobs in manufacturing industry have doubled.

Tourist accommodations have risen 100 per cent in 10 years.

AT THE SAME TIME, the number of farms in the hinterland of the cities has been growing. In a five-year period, acreage farmed grew from 626,000 to 769,000 and the value of farm products sold from $54 million to $82 million.

Thus the only subtropical corner of the United States can be seen as a growing urban region already extending south into the Florida Keys and northward along the Atlantic.

Men who study such matters say Southeast Florida today is the beginning of a super-city which eventually will reach all the way to Jacksonville. They note, too, that something similar is happening along the Mediterranean shores of Italy and France.

Climate is the attraction. Here, as there, it first drew a few settlers, then tourists and farmers, then industry.

The vision of the great city of tomorrow a-building here and now carries its own lesson.

Let The Pork Barrel Wait

AFTER SO LONG a time, it seems, a man can get across a point.

President Eisenhower did—in part—in calling on Congress last year to begin "an orderly withdrawal from the airport program." Though he had to pocket-veto a high-spending airport bill, evidently he has persuaded the 86th Congress that economies can be achieved.

Thus on Thursday the House adopted an airport bill matching dollar for dollar the amount the President had requested for the next 16 months, keeping the budget in balance for the time in this department.

Beyond that, however, both houses have voted substantially more for airport development than the President requested.

THE EISENHOWER program calls for $200 million spread over four years. The Senate approved a $465 million program. The House cut its original bill from $437 million to $365 million.

Somewhere along the line these two amounts must be reconciled. They may well match the Presidential budget figure for 1960, but it is unlikely they will come within hailing distance of the Administration's $200 million figure.

The reason for this is simple.

Airports are to many communities what rivers and harbors are to towns on the coasts, the lakes, the rivers, and maybe even up the dry gulches. They are capital improvements. Many congressmen are politically committed to their development, and the commitments go 'way back.

•

THE NATIONAL INTEREST, we submit, is totally different.

Our first priority now should be air safety and navigation. And in a sense it is. Nearly $500 million has been earmarked for these necessary improvements in fiscal 1960. The near misses and blind approaches that have turned our air space into a shooting gallery in months past ought to rivet all attention on this program.

The Herald repeats: The aviation problem today is Safety First.

The airport pork barrel will have to wait.

Toward More Dynamic Schools?

TALK in Tallahassee and elsewhere of various proposals to preserve school segregation, or at least slow down the pace of integration, obscures the fundamental fact that Florida schools are facing a financial crisis.

The school department's request for the next two years is just over $390 million and it is estimated that the need will be $558 million in three years. When state budgets reach such figures (this is more than half a billion dollars) it is time to wonder where the money is coming from.

Legislators are doing just that. There has been a demand to cut out "frills" in the school system—supposing there really are any. Sen. Wilson Carraway, the Tallahassee banker who heads the appropriations committee, said school costs are getting out of hand, with "expenses mounting at both ends and in the middle." Fred Kent, Jacksonville attorney who once headed the State Board of Control, said the schools "are about to spend themselves out of business and the state of Florida into bankruptcy."

Florida, of course, is plagued by rising costs from two sources. Along with the general increase in all expenses—salaries, maintenance, construction—we have the explosive growth that adds from 8 to 10 per cent to school enrollment each year. No other state has that to contend with.

DESPITE the criticism of costs, no one is seriously advocating a cutback in the amount of public education. On the contrary, the growing complexity of the world we live in requires more training, particularly in technical and scientific subjects. The realization grows, therefore, that the answer is in finding new concepts in education, such as the experiment now under way in Dade County to teach by television.

One new idea, and a highly intriguing one, has just been proposed by the National Association of Secondary School Principals, as the result of a study supported by the Fund for the Advancement of Education.

The concept is to change the basic pattern of education in the senior and junior high schools, to stimulate young minds for experimentation and research.

Instead of the formal classroom organization with rigid schedules, the educators suggested informal classes with as many as 100 students coming together for lectures by specialized teachers. This would be supplemented by small discussion groups, with the teacher as "consultant, not taskmaster." Lectures and discussions would take up only about half the student's time. The remainder of his school hours would be spent in individual study. Such activity, the report said, would be designed to "develop ability to study, think and solve problems, in contrast to today's emphasis on memorizing facts."

One result would be more inspirational teaching. Specialists freed from the mountainous chores of paperwork and the dull classroom routine would be better able to stimulate young minds. And young minds, challenged, would mature more quickly.

Whether the principals' association has come up with some real answers remains to be demonstrated. But the proposal is one more indication that educators are groping toward new outlooks and ideas for ways to make public schools more dynamic, stimulating and rewarding.

The suggestion of the nation's high school principals may seem drastic, but the whole idea of free public schools as the right of every child is only about a century old. In truth, it is still too young to become hidebound by tradition. The cries of tax-conscious lawmakers may be one of the best means of bringing about constructive change.

Not To Exist. But To Live

THE FRIENDLY VISITORS here are getting ready for their first birthday. It should be a happy one for several reasons.

In the first place, a group called the Friendly Visitors can take pleasure in the name alone. The 67 volunteers in Greater Miami banded together under that title have other grounds for satisfaction.

All have been trained in the art of paying friendly visits to senior citizens referred to them by welfare workers. In each case, this means some experienced worker knows an elderly man or woman will find life brighter through having a Friendly Visitor.

For a blind or disabled person, the visitor may read or write letters. For one without relatives or friends here, the visitor can serve as a stand-in for both.

It was in March of last year that the first of the Friendly Visitors started their unpaid but rewarding rounds for the United Fund's Welfare Planning Council.

So, next week, they will start their second year of helping isolated senior citizens really live, not just exist.

Shall It Be Vanishing Eden?

Editor The Herald: The members of the Indian River Audubon Society asked me to thank you for Jeanne Bellamy's article, "Guarding Our Treasures Is a Must." We are deeply interested in the conservation and wise use of the natural resources of Florida.

In Brevard County, many of us are doing our best to preserve the shallow saline waters of the Banana River.

Research work done by the Marine Laboaratory of the University of Miami proved that just such still, shallow waters as real estate people like to bulkhead for cheap creation of lands that may be sold at high prices, are the richest, most valuable of all the waters of the state from a wildlife commodity point of view.

Yet those shallow waters, belonging to all of us, are constantly shrinking because the Internal Improvement Fund sells them for a song and at the same time permits the destruction of equal or greater areas of the valuable bottoms for fill.

If guarding our natural resources is a "must," and I believe your headline is a sound one, surely every effort should be made to educate the public about the valuable commodity in wildlife they are losing.

Our great Floridian, Thomas Barbour, called this state "the vanishing Eden." Many of us feel that he was all too precise in his statement.

Man, It Was Cold 'Way Back In '95

Editor The Herald: The temperature in Miami was 80 degrees on Feb. 11, 1959.

Florida historical records will tell you that on Feb. 11, 1895, the cold killed every orange tree except in a small area in extreme South Florida. But, it is generally assumed that last year was the coldest winter ever in Florida.

Florida history seems today to have begun only in the past 10 years. All else is just imaginative tales told by Florida Crackers.

I think it is in execrable taste and undoubtedly will excite a lot of admiration in the minds of undiscriminating teenagers.

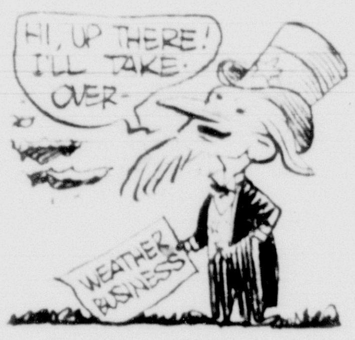
Blame It All On Government

Editor The Herald: We should not expect too much from the fact that the government has put a "weather eye" in orbit.

We remember the story of the old man who, for many years, enjoyed quite a reputation as a weather prophet.



HI, UP THERE! I'LL TAKE OVER-
WEATHER BUSINESS

One day someone asked, "What do you think it is going to do, Jim?"

"Deed, I don't know," was the answer. "I used to be pretty good on the weather, but I can't tell a thing about it since the government took it over."

Heart Victims Can Take Heart

Editor The Herald: Larry Thompson's article about heart victims and Florida living was encouraging . . . but I wonder if there is any way a man who is not yet a heart victim can determine the likelihood of becoming one?

Frequently we read about men — often quite young — dropping dead of heart failure. Never, friends say, did they have a sick day.

With many diseases, there are minor advance symptoms which enable treatment to forestall real trouble. With the heart, though, it seems that all we can do is hope we live through that first attack. Then, as a victim, we really have an advantage over our neighbor, who never had a sick day in his life.

Off-Track Parlors Would End Bookies

Editor The Herald: Why not be realistic about bookies, the police, and most of all, the people? The police know what people want. They know the majority want to bet on horses or dogs. Or grasshoppers, if they could.

Morals legislation always fails. It failed with prohibition. It is failing now with gambling. It makes crooks out of police and public officials.

State controlled and operated halls, strategically placed, are the solution. The commission on bets within the state should go to the proper tracks and to the state. The commission on bets at outside tracks should go wholly to the State of Florida.

The results? No state sales tax. Other taxes reduced. Adequate money for state and county programs which will come in no other way than forcing a greatly reduced standard of living on the people.

'Gramps' Right About Redskins

Editor The Herald: Why must the white man always double-cross our American Indians? Their schools are inadequate, their medical provisions insufficient, their health poor, jobs are few and poorly paid.

Mrs. Roosevelt has often brought these facts into the open, but nothing is ever done about the forgotten Indian.

My grandfather was raised with a Western tribe of Indians and I was taught much about the strong morals behind their strange ways.

And what was good enough for "gramps" is good enough for me.

When they take the Indians out of our cowboy shows I will sell our television. And that joke about turning the country back to the Indians may not be such a bad idea.

Peace People Have A Stake

Editor The Herald: There certainly will be a bitter struggle for Mr. Dulles' job if he resigns. Big business and the military have literally billions of dollars at stake on how the State Department is run and will put up a fight to get their man in.

But peace peoples and the taxpayers also have billions of dollars to pay and a war to fight if a peace man does not head our State Department. Why not try men with new faces and new approaches like Sen. J. W. Fulbright or Harold Stassen?

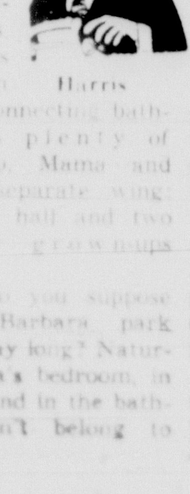
Model Home? Don't Believe It

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

THE ONLY thing wrong with those new "model homes" is that they don't come fully equipped with model children. After a few weeks, those lovely plans for "comfortable living space" might as well have been drawn in vanishing ink.



Harris

My own menage has spacious quarters. The little ones have their own rooms, with a connecting bathroom. There is plenty of play-space. Also, Mama and Papa have a separate wing: bedroom, study, hall and two bathrooms "for grown-ups only."

And where do you suppose Michael and Barbara park themselves all day long? Naturally — in Mama's bedroom, in Daddy's study, and in the bathrooms that don't belong to them.

I have yet to shave in the morning without two little ones twining themselves around my legs, tossing a sailboat in my wash-basin, tangling themselves in the electric shaver cord.

★ ★ ★

IN OUR "private" hall, I continually stumble over drums, tractors and doll-beds. In my study, when I look for a copy of Fowler's "Modern English Usage," I have to wade through "Chicken-Licken," "The Rattle-Rattle Dump-Truck," and an assorted mound of coloring books.

You would think that the children's own rooms were perpetually quarantined. "Nothing is duller to them than an area that is not inhabited by adults. "Go to your room and play," sounds to them like a death-knell; they would much rather punch holes in my hi-fi speaker, or climb up the draperies in the living room.

And these are, on the whole, tractable and obedient children. But, good as they are, they are children — and to a child, unless he is severely repressed, there's no business like the old folks' business.

If the phone in my study rings, Barbara is there to perform her incoherent answering-service. If the doorbell rings, Michael the Butler is out in the hall, (usually trouserless) to greet the startled visitor.

★ ★ ★

IF WE HAD put them into airless dungeons, with prison bars and snarling tigers ready to leap out at them, the children couldn't be more disinclined to stay in their rooms. On the rare occasions when they do, we immediately phone the doctor; illness has set in.

This is just a friendly note to young inexperienced parents about to make delicious plans for a "model home." Don't believe it. Until the kids have reached the adolescent stage of being utterly bored by all adults, there won't be an inch of space in the house you can call your own.

I'm writing this while sitting in the children's bathroom.

Behind The Front Page

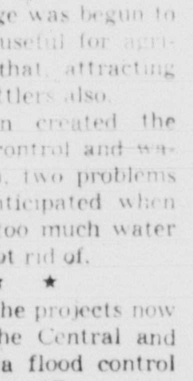
Coming And Going Growth Costs Money

By JOHN PENNEKAMP

WATER RESOURCE experts put it this way: "Florida spent $100 million in 100 years to cure its water problems. Now it must spend $400 million to cure the problems the first $100 million created."

Which is just one of the paradoxes of the water and drought situation in the state.

The spending of the first $100 million did much to induce the state's spectacular expansion of recent years. That growth now is supplying the pressure for the additional expenditure to undo some of the effects of the $100 million.



Pennekamp

In the beginning, drainage was the byword. There was too much water in the wrong places at the wrong time.

So the drainage was begun to make the land useful for agriculture. It did that, attracting investors and settlers also.

They in turn created the need for flood control and water conservation, two problems that weren't anticipated when there was just too much water that had to be got rid of.

BIGGEST of the projects now under way is the Central and Southern Florida flood control plan embracing 17 counties along and near the southeast coast of the state.

Its cost has been estimated at $286 million of which the federal government will pay something like 60 per cent.

To implement the other related water programs it will be suggested to the Legislature that it set up a revolving fund of one million dollars a year.

This money would be loaned without interest to the district where work is required, the money to be repaid by the district within 20 years. The interest which is saved by the district would be regarded as the state's contribution.

★ ★ ★

DURING WORLD WAR II, Florida's Everglades became recognized internationally as one of the great potable water resources of the world. Allied nations sent their hydraulic engineers here to study the area for development where similar situations might be encouraged elsewhere on earth.

At the same time, earlier measures were destroying the resource.

Drainage and settlement were making such inroads that conservation measures had to be taken.

Other paradoxes:

Hurricanes in 1926 and 1928 blew water out of shallow Lake Okeechobee upon surrounding settlements, costing a total of 3,000 lives, millions of dollars of property loss.

To combat this situation a dike was constructed along the south and east banks of the lake. The impounding of this water and the drainage of water from the Kissimmee Valley which provides most of the water for the lake, dried up the Everglades to the south.

That is the "sponge" in which this area's fresh water is held.

That, too, made vast acreages subject to peat fires.

The ground was lost forever. Similarly the reduction of the water level resulted in subsidence—the organic-based land just evaporated.

★ ★ ★

AS THE FRESH water disappeared, salt water began to intrude into the coastal wells of businesses and municipalities.

And, as in 1947, surface floods which developed from rains, stood on the flat land for weeks. That year three million acres were flooded with damages estimated at $59 million.

What it all amounts to is that there is no pat formula for dealing with Florida's fresh water resources.

Drainage can be destructive, and so can impounding.

So a process of meeting the situation by areas and by needs has been set up and is being cooperatively administered by the state and the Corps of Engineers.

"Now," says the state board of conservation, "water has become our slave instead of our master."

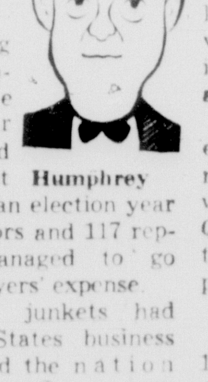
Travel Is Broadening

Our Congressmen Really Get Around

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — Congressional junkets are here to stay.

Even though 1958 was an election year, representatives and senators found time to travel to every corner of the earth.



Humphrey

The traveling wasn't as extensive as the record off-year junketing logged in 1957 — it never is during an election year — but 42 senators and 117 representatives managed to go abroad at taxpayers' expense.

Most official junkets had sound United States business behind them and the nation ended up with better informed, more qualified statesmen in Congress as a result.

★ ★ ★

TAKE, for example, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D., Minn.) who was junketing through seven European countries for 33 days during which he spent eight hours with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. He was one of six congressmen who went behind the Iron Curtain last year.

Nineteen other members spent half of November at the NATO Parliamentary Conference in Paris — the biggest 1958 attraction from the point of view of congressional numbers.

Floridians Like Home

WHILE many of their colleagues in the halls of Congress were seeing a lot of the world in 1958, Florida's delegation did a lot of staying home.

Only Sen. George A. Smathers and Rep. William C. Cramer, St. Petersburg Republican, were found by Congressional Quarterly to have been out of the country at taxpayer expense.

The Floridians' record:

George A. Smathers — Oct. 13-Nov. 1, traveled to Mexico, Guatemala, Honduras, Panama to study Latin American problems for Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee; government expense.

William C. Cramer (Rep.) — Aug. 29-Oct. 1, traveled to Amsterdam as congressional representative at outer space conference, to Brussels to observe World's Fair, to the U.S.S.R., Berlin, France, Italy and to Geneva as congressional adviser to International Conference on Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy; commercial transportation, government and personal expense.

That Florida Flood Story Is Weak--and Unchecked

By DAVID KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The Florida congressional delegation is still trying to figure out what was behind the Harper's Magazine blast at the Central and South Florida Flood Control project.

There is some indication that Harper's pulled a switch when it decided to run the article.

KRASLOW

Sen. Spessard Holland, the project's principal nursemaid in Congress, had no advance knowledge of the article. Apparently this was the case with everybody else in the delegation.

Gov. LeRoy Collins also was caught by surprise—but for a different reason.

* * *

ON A RECENT TRIP to Washington, Collins informed Holland that he had received a copy of a proposed article from Harper's about a year ago.

Collins undertook to convince the magazine's editors that the project was not a waste of tax funds.

The exchange of views ended with Collins believing he had the magazine's assurance the article would not be published.

Months later, apparently without a word to Collins or anybody else, the story is in print.

* * *

HARPER'S, OF COURSE, is under no obligation to check its articles with anybody. And its right to criticize the project as a scheme to make rich landowners richer is not being questioned.

The editors brag about all the research done on the story by the author, a California reporter.

Yet Holland, perhaps the leading authority on every facet of the complicated project's history, says he was never asked for his views by the author or anyone else connected with the magazine prior to publication of the article.

The research was not quite as complete as Harper's would have its readers believe.

* * *

THE ARMY IS WEIGHING plans to consolidate its reserve forces, cutting the number from 5,500 to 4,300.

The 940th Field Artillery Battery which serves South Florida, may be taken out of Miami and merged with a unit in Tampa.

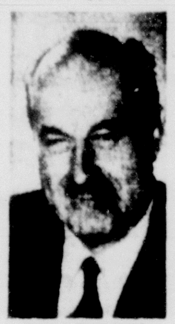
Reps. Dante Fascell and Paul Rogers are trying to talk the Army into dropping the idea.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Ike Speaks For Economy But Doesn't Practice It!

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Stung by President Eisenhower's evangelistic outbursts against the "spenders," Democratic leaders are taking a sharp look at how Ike practices the economy he preaches.



PEARSON

Their findings reveal he has been the most extravagant President in American history.

He spends twice as much to run the White House as former President Truman ever did. During Truman's last year, his operating expenses came to $2,467,000.

This is petty cash compared with the $5,013,750 bill Ike turned in for the fiscal year ending June 30.

He also left the White House out of his fervent campaign to balance next year's budget. While he ordered everyone else to slash expenses, he boosted his own budget by a generous $332,250.

Truman was able to get along with an office staff of 245. Ike has added another 153 employes to the payroll. He has also increased the White House work crew from 62 to 71.

Among their new duties are hunting lost golf balls and keeping squirrels off Ike's putting green.

The cost of operating the whole executive office has soared even more spectacularly under Eisenhower.

This includes all the octopus arms of the White House, such as the National Security Council, Budget Bureau, Office of Defense Mobilization, and Council of Economic Advisers.

* * *

TRUMAN SPENT $6,703,000 on the whole works his last year in office. Ike's total budget for the executive office his year is $52,736,250. Next year he is asking for $91,880,000.

Of course, 89 per cent of the increase will go to the newly created office of Civil and Defense Mobilization.

But a full 5 per cent will go to the same Budget Bureau which is supposed to enforce his economy edict.

Many of Ike's little luxuries are charged to other government departments, so they don't show up in the White House budget.

The two helicopters which whisk him and his staff to Gettysburg on week ends are charged to the Marine Corps. Sometimes he makes the hop in a light, twin-engined plane, kept at his disposal by the Air Force.

* * *

IKE DIDN'T WAIT long after moving into the White House to get rid of Truman's hand-me-down plane and order a deluxe new model for himself.

The Air Force paid $3,800,000 out of its pocket for the Columbine, which was decorated to suit Mamie's tastes. Last year, the President decided the plane needed another rest room and running water.

However, the story leaked out before the new plumbing was installed, causing such unfavorable publicity that he withdrew the order.

The Presidential launches, the Barbara and Susie E. are maintained and operated by the Navy. One was dispatched all the way to Newport, Rhode Island, last year to ferry the President between the golf course and his vacation quarters.

Incidentally, he has taken more vacations at the taxpayers' expense than any other President in history.

His biggest year was 1957 when he took 22 vacations, counting long week ends at Camp David and his Gettysburg farm. Last year, he was away from the White House 16 times. Already this year, he has slipped away for four brief vacations.

* * *

THE EISENHOWERS also use White House servants on their farm. Their personal belongings are frequently hauled by Army truck. Once Ike brought in GI's to dig a ditch around his farm when he couldn't find civilians who would work in the rain.

Besides his extravagance with the taxpayers' money, Ike has accepted expensive personal gifts.

Certainly the deep freeze which caused Truman such painful publicity was a five-and-dime item compared to what Eisenhower has received.

Gifts he can't use are usually kept in the family. Mamie's sister, Mrs. Gordon Moore, is the chief beneficiary.

White House intimates say the President's fervor over economy is inspired by the tight little circle of millionaires who have become his closest friends. They include:

Former Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, now head of National Steel; William Robinson, Coca-Cola's board chairman; W. Alton Jones, Cities Service chairman; Clifford Roberts of Reynolds & Co.; Barry Leithead, president of Cluett, Peabody & Co.; and George Allen, a director of many big companies.

NOTE — This column called the White House for details of Ike's finances, but Jim Hagerty was in Mexico. No one else was permitted to discuss the subject.

African Savagery Isolated

By ROBERT C. RUARK

KAABONG, Uganda, British East Africa — We have just set up shop here in the north of Uganda, close to the Sudan.

RUARK

It is what might well be called a still-unspoiled part of Africa. We are only the second modern safari to pass through these parts.

It is a restricted area, and I doubt if very few Karamojans have ever been as far away as nearby Kitale in Kenya.

It is probable that as little is known of the Karamojans as of any tribe in Africa.

They are big people, absolutely coal black, who still go as proudly naked as they did 50 years ago when an Englishman named Bell literally settled the country single-handed on elephant safaris.

W. D. M. Bell was a young man alone in an Africa which had just been born—an elephant hunter who had heard of the fabulous elephant herds to be found in these parts.

Slavery was rampant, and raiders came in from Ethiopia to kill and loot.

And Bell, a white man alone on foot safari with as many as 90 bearers, was the first white man the fierce Karamojans had ever seen.

What Bell saw was what we see today—huge, fierce-looking, completely naked natives, whose adornments were mainly ornate headdresses of mud and feathers, who carried spears.

They warred on each other constantly — for pleasure, for women, for blood, for cattle. Cattle, here as in so much of Africa, is much more than money as a root of human evil.

* * *

AS A CLOSED area, Karamoja today is much as Bell found it, except in the elephant country. Lions and leopards pester the flocks, and the dramatically naked warriors still swoop down on rival villages for a hot-blood raid.

Considerable road-building is going on now, and it comes as a shock to see modern earth-moving machinery being worked by completely stark savages.

It is a strange and wonderful country, unlike the parts of Africa I know best in Kenya, Tanganyika and the pants-wearing portion of Uganda.

A white face stands out as starkly as a lump of coal in a field of snow, and clothing after a while gives you an uneasy feeling that you are overdressed and somehow vulgar.

One thing I have noticed here is a solicitude on the part of the few British whites who maintain the boma, the district commissioner, his assistant, the game ranger, and the isolated overseers of road construction.

It is a highly paternalistic view of the Karamojan — almost the solicitude of parents over children.

This effort to maintain and preserve simple savagery in a changing world may be short lived, however, in view of present political stirring.

Compliment Has a Barb

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. — (AP) — Mayor Harold Frankel received a call from an acquaintance offering congratulations on Huntington's selection as an All-America city in a national contest. But as the mayor was saying thanks for the kind thoughts, the caller added:

"Now get your All-America garbage truck over to my house and pick up the garbage."

Commuter Lines Cost Railroads Lot Yearly

(One of a Series)

By PAUL GAPP
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

CHICAGO—Mention railroads to Joe Commuter and he turns purple.

"Railroads don't want any part of the commuter business," he snarls. "That's why they keep upping the fares—to scare the customers away.

"Maybe they are losing millions, but don't kid yourself. They couldn't quit the business if they tried. They have a responsibility to the public."

That's one side.

* * *

NOW LISTEN to Edwin Haefele, assistant director of Northwestern University's transportation center.

"It just isn't true that a railroad can continue commuter service indefinitely no matter how much money it loses.

"Eventually, when the equipment goes to pot and the losses become unbearable, a commuter line just dies. It's a mistake to think a commerce commission can force a line to stay in the commuter business."

These are the facts of railroad life: Commuter lines have been abandoned in the Chicago area and elsewhere.

They will continue to be abandoned unless they get help.

Aid is available in two potential forms, legislative relief and outright subsidization.

Western roads, including those serving suburbanites here, favor help short of an actual handout.

Chicago area commuter lines have proposed lower taxes and freedom to increase fares and change schedules without prior approval of the Illinois Commerce Commission.

* * *

THE EASTERN ROADS want direct subsidies, including federal cash, and have begun getting them.

The Lackawanna railroad has announced it wants to drop its passenger service in New Jersey unless it is relieved of all property taxes.

Massachusetts subsidizes the New Haven Railroad to keep a Boston commuter line in business. Philadelphia has agreed to meet losses incurred by branches of the Pennsylvania and Reading railroads.

The western men view this as a menacing trend.

"In our opinion, it's the worst thing that can happen," said Rock Island President D. B. Jenks, whose road loses a reported one million dollars annually on its commuter service.

"Subsidy is like cancer," said Jenks. "It spreads. It's hard to stop. It might lead to nationalization."

* * *

WHAT HAS HAPPENED to the nation's suburban rail service?

The number of riders decreased from a peak of 445 million in 1926 to 243 million in 1957. The number of trains in service has been reduced. Fares have steadily increased.

Increased wages, higher operation costs, taxes and other economic factors have made commuter operations more expensive.

Commuter equipment and personnel are used intensively only during morning and evening hours. Their idleness the rest of the day makes them particularly costly.

That's why the suburban lines operating out of Chicago want more freedom to pare their off-peak schedules and increase fares.

Rail officials have an answer to Joe Commuter's charge that the railroads are trying to scuttle their suburban services by raising fare.

"Why would we sink millions into our service if we were trying to dump it?" they ask. The Northwestern, for example, has 5.6 million dollars worth of new suburban coaches on order.

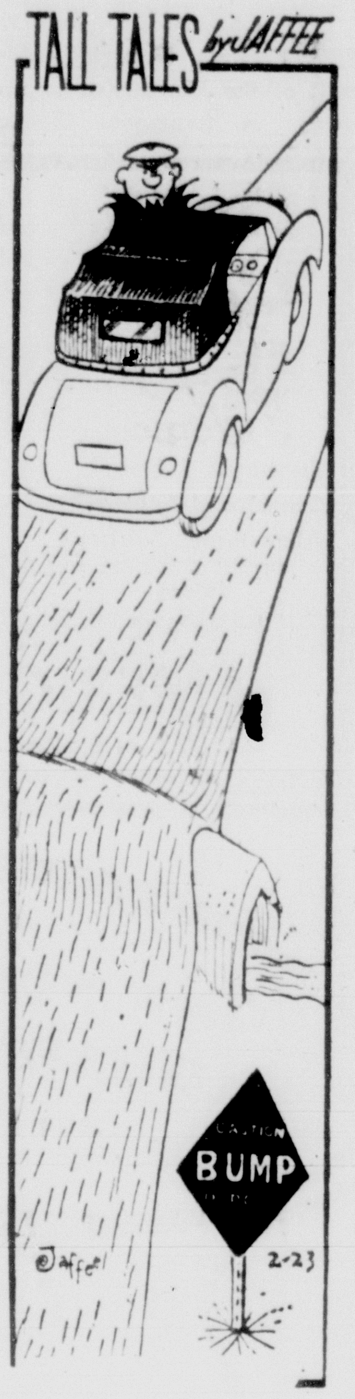
* * *

THE OVERALL PASSENGER picture including inter-city service is equally dismal.

Class 1 railroads lost a record 723 million dollars on passenger hauling in 1957, the latest year for which Interstate Commerce Commission figures are available.

Passenger losses on some of the smaller eastern roads were so huge that freight earnings were almost wiped out. When that happens, bankruptcy may be the next step.

NEXT—The labor viewpoint.



School Superintendent Has Hard Job at Best

By PAUL WOODRING
National Education Expert

NO MAN in American life faces more conflicting pressures than a city superintendent of schools.

His legal responsibility is to the school board but everyone in town has an opinion about how the schools should be run: parents, taxpayer leagues, patriotic groups, and religious organizations, not to mention the teachers and pupils.

WOODRING

The superintendent receives a great deal of unsolicited advice from editors and newspaper columnists, including this one.

Unfortunately, the advice points in many different directions.

Everyone has a right to an opinion because the schools belong to the people.

* * *

THE SCHOOL board wants him to find a way of selecting the best teachers and paying them more money.

The NEA and other professional organizations tell him he mustn't do this — that any merit-pay system is unprofessional.

The architect assures him that he will save money in the long run by constructing school buildings of good materials.

But the taxpayers organizations want the cheapest buildings possible or none at all.

* * *

THE SUPERINTENDENT must listen to all the arguments. But, as the administrative head of the school system he must make decisions.

He must sift the facts, make some value judgments about what is most important, and put a plan into action. The job calls for a tremendous amount of intelligence, patience, wisdom, and courage.

It is not easy to find enough men who possess all these traits, have the necessary educational qualifications, and are willing to devote their lives to a job that offers rather modest pay.

It is hardly surprising that, in the face of these enormous pressures, many superintendents give up trying to be real leaders and become mere jobholders or, at best, managers.

* * *

BUT THE JOB calls for something more than management of a going concern.

In a period such as that today, when it is clear that the schools must undergo important changes, the pressures on the superintendent are enormously increased.

Fortunately for American education there are many superintendents who are able to meet the challenge and to become real leaders in their communities.

But they can do it only if the enlightened and reasonable citizens give them the necessary support.

Can Little Rock Beat the Courts?

The New York Times Service

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — The collapse of massive resistance in Virginia has left militant segregationists at Little Rock unshaken in their confidence that racial integration can be avoided here.

Reassurance from Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Congressman Dale Alford of Little Rock apparently have helped mold the widespread conviction that the events in Virginia have little or no bearing on Little Rock.

But while the segregation leadership is unalarmed — outwardly at least — over the desegration of 11 schools in Virginia, the developments have given Little Rock's moderates new hope.

* * *

"VIRGINIA PROVIDED a wonderful example of what can be done without the difficulty we had here last year," said an officer of the woman's emergency committee to open our schools, an organization formed last fall to try to get the public high schools reopened.

The committee officer added: "Of course, the main difference between Arkansas and Virginia lies in the attitude of the two governors."

Gov. Faubus has maintained consistently that Virginia's retreat on the school front means only that "they are coming around" to the kind of anti-integration plan he has proposed.

I don't think Gov. Almond and his people are giving up," Faubus said. "They appear to be assuming the attitude we assumed in Arkansas. They have repealed their compulsory school law and are coming around to the school aid plan."

* * *

ARKANSAS REPEALED its compulsory attendance statute in 1957 to enable white students to boycott integrated schools if they desire. Faubus has in the legislative mill several proposals to provide tuition payments to students who don't want to attend integrated schools.

The president of Little Rock's strongest pro-segregation groups expressed the firm belief that the acceptance of integration in Virginia would not be repeated here.

"I cannot see any connection between Little Rock and Virginia," said Mrs. Margaret C. Jackson, president of the Central High Mothers League.

"The people of Little Rock are more determined every day not to accept the federal court orders to tell us how to run our schools."

QUESTION: Are practically and virtually synonymous? —C. C. B.

ANSWER: Not absolutely. There is a fine distinction between them which the careful writer or speaker will want to preserve.

In the strict sense, practically means "in practice" as opposed to "in theory." Virtually means "in effect," though not actually or expressly so. Thus in Henry VIII's early years as king, Cardinal Wolsey was practically king of England. That is, in fact he was the ruler, though in theory he was Henry's servant. After George III had become totally insane, his eldest son was virtually king of England. Under the title of Prince Regent, he exercised all of the functions of a monarch, but he was not actually and expressly king until his father died many years later.

The real fault is in using practially as a synonym for nearly or almost. To say "We are practically there" when you mean "We are nearly there" is to abuse the word, because you cannot be there in effect or practice until you are there.

Navy Blasts Old Menace

NORFOLK, Va. — (AP) — The old battleship San Marcos, once the battleship Texas, has at last lost her title as a menace to navigation in Chesapeake Bay.

The USS Salvager reported her at least 20 feet below the surface after exploding 1,500 tons of explosive on her rusted hulk. The San Marcos was sunk by guns of the battleship New Hampshire in 1920. Before that she was used as a target in other firepower demonstrations, including a bombing by Brig. Gen. Billy Mitchell. The Navy has made numerous efforts and exploded many tons of explosives in an effort to destroy the wreckage.

Labor Is Called On to Help Banish African Colonialism

By A. H. RASKIN
The New York Times Service

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico — The merged labor federation called on unions throughout the free world Sunday to undertake a major drive to end colonialism in Africa.

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations made a special plea to unions in countries still maintaining African colonies. It urged them to intensify their pressure on their own governments to free their colonies.

"The longer colonialism lasts, the greater the danger of Communist penetration," the federation declared.

It recommended immediate action by the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions to strengthen and expand its educational and organizational work in Africa. It asserted that moves by African nationalists to create an all-African labor federation made such action a necessity.

The insistence of the AFL-CIO on more effective labor pressure against colonialism is likely to cause irritation in the labor movements of Great Britain, France and Belgium, all of which have frequently differed with the federation on this issue.

Two months ago George Meany, AFL-CIO president, sent a letter to J. H. Oldenbroek, secretary general of the World Labor Confereration, offering to send representatives of U.S. labor to aid in organizing African Unions. The offer drew a frigid reply.

In another foreign policy resolution issued Sunday, the federation condemned the Franco dictatorship in Spain and warned that its continuation "can only lead to growing opposition among the American people to further economic aid from the U.S. to a government which oppresses the Spanish people."

THE George Bernard Shaw of dogdom, this Yorkshire terrier was entered in a London dog show. The animal is named "Wade Holme Happy Quest," and sports a beard like that of the late British playwright.

Honest, He's Not Jilting

WICHITA, KAN. — (AP) — Mrs. Neva Gray, marriage license clerk, was somewhat startled when A. D. Shinkle, 26, asked her to issue him a marriage license.

She told him she couldn't issue the license. "Why?" he asked.

"You were in here this morning and applied for a license to marry Jacqueline L. Morrison — that's why."

Shinkle grinned. He explained that he planned to wed Mary Hayden and that his identical twin, L. D. Shinkle, was engaged to Miss Morrison.

Japan Plans Plea For 2 Stragglers

By ROBERT TRUMBULL
The New York Times Service

TOKYO—The fate of two Japanese soldiers still hiding out on a remote island of the Philippines Archipelago has become a nationwide sentimental concern in Japan.

The pair, identified as Lt. Hiroo Onoda and Pvt. Kinshiohi Kotsuka of the Imperial Japanese Army, shot and killed a Filipino on Lubang Island early this month. Philippine authorities have ordered their capture, dead or alive.

N. Y. Times News Service

Moved by pleas of relatives, Japanese authorities are considering an appeal to the Philippine government to spare the two soldiers and permit the Japanese to assist in trying to effect their surrender.

Mrs. Tamae Onoda, 74-year-old mother of one of the stragglers, has presented a petition for clemency to the Philippine embassy in Tokyo. Maokichi Kotsuka, 68, father of the other, has also come to Tokyo from his small farm to try to save his son.

Members of both leading political parties, the Liberal-Democrats and the Socialists, are preparing a joint resolution asking the government to intercede with Philippine authorities on behalf of the fugitive pair.

The Japanese generally seem to feel that the two stragglers should not be treated harshly for their crime, considering the hardships they may have undergone in hiding out for 14 years.

"Probably they do not know of Japan's defeat in the war," the newspaper Mainichi commented. "Local inhabitants may still appear as enemies in their eyes. Or they may still be under the impression that being captured is a greater disgrace than death."

Averell Resumes His 'W'

By Herald Wire Services

PEOPLE

When financier-diplomat W. Averell Harriman went into the rough-and-tumble of political campaigning five years ago, the "W."—for William — disappeared.

All the time he was running for governor, and during his four years in that office, he was just plain Averell Harriman.

Now the "W." is back.

Recent seating lists at political dinners, and a new batch of personal stationery, testify to its return.

Some observers consider the change a subtle way of announcing that he no longer has any political ambitions.

Garcia Defends His New Yacht

PRESIDENT CARLOS P. GARCIA of the Philippines defended the acquisition of a $2,500,000 yacht as a combination presidential travel craft and fleet flagship as "a necessity."

Garcia denied that the yacht Lapu Lapu, constructed in Japan under a war reparations agreement, cost more than the yacht of the queen of Britain.

The old presidential yacht, Santa Maria, is old and unseaworthy, Garcia said, and the decision to get a new one was "based on necessity."

Defending his controversial decision to make the Lapu Lapu the flagship of the Philippines fleet, he said the old Santa Maria has been the flagship and he was merely replacing one outmoded yacht with a new one.

Algerian Frenchmen Stage Protest

By the Associated Press

ALGIERS — About 500 right-wing Frenchmen clamored here Sunday for death to Algerian rebel leaders and to Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba, who supports the rebellion.

Police squads finally broke up the demonstration — triggered by ceremonies commemorating the 43rd anniversary of the World War I battle of Verdun — and arrested several youths. A few persons were injured.

"Bourguiba to the gallows!" the crowd shouted.

"Paratroopers to Tunis!

"Algeria is French!

"Shoot Mohammed Ben Bella!"

Ben Bella, a prisoner of France, is first deputy of the Algerian rebel regime based in Cairo. President Charles de Gaulle's government recently transferred him from Sante Prison in Paris to an island fortress with more confortable living conditions.

Most of the slogans were directed against the Bourguiba regime. Algeria's Europeans bitterly resent Tunisia's backing for the cause of Algerian nationalism.

Hungarian Chief Tightens Controls

News Around the World

BUDAPEST — Hungary's Communist Party Boss Janos Kadar has returned home from a visit to Czechoslovakia amid mounting signs of a new drive to tighten Hungarian communism.

During his stay with the more orthodox Czech party leaders, Kadar spoke out with new sharpness against independent communism, or Yugoslav "revisionism."

A communique issued by Kadar and Czech Party Leader Antonin Novotny again stressed the danger of "revisionism." It welcomed the development of Czech-Hungarian ties on the basis of Marxist-Leninist international proletarian solidarity.

British Testing Nyasaland Strength

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland — Police and troops fanned out over Nyasaland's trouble spots Sunday in a test of strength between the Central African Federation and Dr. Hasting Banda, fiery president of the Nyasaland African National Congress.

An uneasy quiet lay over the British protectorate of three million Africans, 6,000 whites and 7,000 Indians after several days of violence.

Three Africans were wounded Saturday when police opened fire on a crowd of Africans throwing bottles and stones.

At Livingstonia, a store was set on fire and burned to the ground.

Set Target Date of 10 to 15 Years

Scientists Call Mars Flight a 'Must'

WINTER PARK —(AP)— The Army's top space experts said Sunday that manned flight to Mars is a "must," and set a target date of 10 to 15 years from now for the trip itself.

Four scientists, headed by Dr. Wernher Von Braun, Army Ballistic Missile Agency chief, spoke on "a road through the sky from Earth to Mars." The voyage itself would be undertaken from a space station and take two years and eight months round trip.

This will be the crowning achievement of the man-in-space program (called project Mercury) already in progress," Von Braun said.

Lecturing at Rollins College with Von Braun were ABMA deputy technical director Eberhard F. M. Rees, propulsion specialist Arthur Rudolph and Fritz Mueller, head of the ABMA guidance and control laboratory.

They said two 1,870-ton space ships—one to carry passengers and the other cargo—would be used on the flight of more than 34 million miles each way.

Mars next will be in the best position for the space journey Aug. 6, 1971, Rees said.

The cargo ship would be abandoned by the spacemen after they reached Mars. They would make their return on the passenger ship.

"Both space ships could be built with missile hardware on hand, but nuclear power would make the trip easier," Rudolph said. "A souped-up Atlas ICBM could handle the job."

Further Cuts Indicated

Plunging Prices Force Quota Slash on Sugar

LONDON—(AP)—The International Sugar Council Sunday announced an immediate 2½ per cent cut in world export quotas and met urgently to decide if it should slash them lower.

The cut was caused by falling prices. It was expected to reduce exports of sugar-growing countries by a total of 159,750 metric tons during the year.

About 40 states participate in sugar council agreements, either as importers or exporters.

As the council met, there were indications that further quota cuts might be on the way. An extension to five per cent is automatic if the council session is unable to agree on policy. Well-informed British financial sources have been freely predicting a sharp cut for several weeks.

War Buddies Talk Over Old Times

Holland In 1943 . . . Miami in 1959

By MIKE MORGAN
Herald Staff Writer

A couple of World War II buddies got together in Miami for the first time in 16 years Saturday under conditions slightly less hectic than when they parted company.

The last time Charles Baxter saw Harry Horton, Horton was bailing out of a flaming B17 at 24,000 feet over occupied Holland on Aug. 17, 1943.

Horton, now personnel director of the Miami Herald, was much too preoccupied to wave good-bye to Baxter, the tail gunner in a nearby plane.

They were members of the same bomb group.

They had trained together and gone to Europe together.

Although Baxter could not identify him from his plane, he knew Horton escaped the blazing plane because he counted 10 chutes open—the full crew.

That happened on Horton's ninth mission as a waist gunner. He managed to get to the Dutch underground and was smuggled back to England by January, 1944.

Just a few weeks after Horton jumped to safety, Baxter's plane was shot down and he had to bail out.

It was his 13th mission.

Baxter was captured by the Germans and held at Stalag 17 — the prison camp which was later celebrated in a play and a movie.

Baxter is an actor who has appeared in several Broadway productions and on many television programs.

Horton moved to Miami in 1956. Saturday the circle closed when they got together—it was here that the two first met in 1942 while in basic training.

League Urges Gas Tax Hike

Special To The Herald

JACKSONVILLE — The Florida League of Municipalities in a brief meeting Sunday approved a four-point program recommended by its legislative committee for presentation to the 1959 State Legislature.

Major proposal in the program is for an optional one-cent county gasoline tax to pay for local improvements to state roads and arterial streets connecting with state roads.

The league will also ask the Legislature to pass a joint resolution calling for a constitutional amendment that would permit Florida cities to receive federal funds for slum clearance.

Other league proposals are for minimum housing standards to be enforced by municipalities and for special registration for freeholder elections in cities.

The league approved the legislative platform at a six-minute meeting of some 250 delegates to the biennial meeting here.

Pakistan Talks

KARACHI, Pakistan —(P)— An eight-man official Indian delegation headed by M. J. Desai, secretary of the foreign affairs ministry, arrived Sunday to open negotiations on border disputes between India and Pakistan. The talks are expected to last a week.

Jacksonville Mayor Seen as Governor Hopeful

By JOHN BOYLES
Capitol Bureau Chief

TALLAHASSEE — Jacksonville's Mayor Hayden Burns is seen by some capital observers as a definite starter in the 1960 gubernatorial derby.

BOYLES

Burns frequently has been mentioned as an aspirant for higher office — governor, U.S. Senator, or perhaps a state cabinet post.

Well informed sources believe the veteran mayor is counting on being able to develop a strong organization through friends in the state municipal league.

His long association with that organization has helped him develop contacts in city halls throughout Florida.

And Faircloth

IS EARL Faircloth preparing for the next gubernatorial primary on the banquet circuit?

The Miami attorney sounded like a candidate the other night in a speech before the Orange County Bar Association and he indicated he thinks former Gov. Millard Caldwell may be in the race.

In fact, Faircloth hinted he's ready to contest Caldwell for the office.

He told the lawyers that "according to the papers, former Gov. Caldwell pitches a temper tantrum every time he makes a public appearance."

Faircloth said Caldwell "would lead us to believe that breathing fire and brimstone toward Washington will reverse procedures well established."

Faircloth, however, commended Sen. Talmadge of Georgia for what he called being truthful with the people in advising that the Supreme Court decision desegregating schools can be changed only by a reversal of the court itself, or by a constitutional amendment.

Caldwell told us recently he isn't a candidate, but he just wants to arouse the people to meet the issues of the day. It is evident that if he is going to run for governor he has "aroused" a possible opponent.

New Hit Tune

GOV. LEROY Collins predicts that the snappy tune "Follow The Sun," which happily tells about the wonderful Florida weather while they are shuffling through the snow in Chicago and Buffalo, is going to be a hit.

Dick Pope of Cypress Gardens gave the recording of Ken Somerville's song by Ray Trotta and his orchestra to Collins, who played it for newsmen at a recent press conference.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Insurance Bill Offered WASHINGTON —(AP)— Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D., Pa.) joined with)Sen. Russell Long (D., La.) and other colleagues in proposing to give World War II and Korean veterans another opportunity to resume their National Service Life Insurance.

A similar bill introduced by Long last year passed the Senate but was substantially watered down, reducing its applicability to a very limited group.

The bill would enable veterans who did not apply at the proper time or let their policies lapse to apply anew for the insurance.

Dead Guatemalan Dictator Called on to Pay Old Debt

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

LATIN ROUND-UP

A DEAD Guatemalan dictator is paying an old debt.

Gen. Jorge Ubico, who ruled Guatemala from 1931 to 1944, died in exile in 1946 at New Orleans and his estate has been tied up in the courts of his country.

After 13 years of legal fights the Supreme Court of Guatemala has ruled that the Ubico estate must pay $80,000 to Judge Neftali Navas, who was tortured by the dictator's regime.

Judge Navas, crippled for life from the tortures, committed the "crime" of speaking freely and openly against Ubico's dictatorial measures.

The 12-year-old daughter and wife of the judge died while he was in prison for the lack of food, shelter and medical care.

Interviewed by a reporter in Guatemala City, Judge Navas told of the torture. He said he was tied down and his arms spun around until torn from the sockets at the shoulder, then lashed 500 times and carried back to his cell and left for dead.

'White Paper' Tells of Feud

JOAQUIN BONILLA, consul of Guatemala in Miami, has passed along a "White Paper" explaining his government's position concerning his country's seizure of shrimp boats that led to a break in diplomatic relations with Mexico.

Guatemala says flagless ships have been fishing illegally in her territorial waters for years and had engaged in smuggling of arms and drugs.

Authorities in Guatemala say the illicit fishing activities continued even after the governments of Mexico and the U.S. were advised that such vessels would be dealt with in an energetic manner. The boats turned out to be Mexican.

It was not until these boats "had refused to withdraw and began to ridicule the authorities" that the order was given for the ships to sail to the nearest Guatemalan port.

* * *

'Disobedience' Of Men Blamed

"THE CREWS of these vessels disobeyed the orders," the report says, "and it became necessary for the air force to intervene . . . fired warning shots . . . then fired across their bows.

"It is unfortunate that there were some victims, but the responsibility for this must be taken by the crews themselves for failing to obey the orders given them."

Mexico wanted the entire matter submitted to the International Court of Justice, but Guatemala refused because she considers the events as "internal acts carried out in the legitimate exercise of national sovereignty."

"Guatemala deplores the incident . . . and views with great sorrow the decision of the Government of Mexico to break off diplomatic relations.

PAINFUL SCIATICA

Sciatica is an inflammation of the sciatic nerve, the longest nerve in the body, which extends from the small of the back down the entire length of the leg. Sciatica is extremely painful and frequently renders the patient bedridden. The cause of this condition is displacement, usually of vertebrae in the small of the back, which irritates the roots of this nerve as it emits from the spine.

"Chiropractors by correcting these displaced vertebrae remove the nerve irritation and inflammation, pain subsides and the patient is again able to resume normal activities," stated Dr. Harold Lee of the Dade County Chiropractic Society. "In a recent survey of 564 cases of sciatica, 540 or 95.8% reported welcome relief under chiropractic care."

If you are handicapped by the stabbing pains of sciatica, seek help from your nearest member of the Dade County Chiropractic Society.

Is the Dade School Board unrealistic in demanding that all students, bright or dull, meet the same standards of achievement?

That's the rule the board passed a year ago in its Sputnik-inspired "get tough" program. But James B. Conant, author of a widely-praised report on "The American High School Today" and former Harvard president, says there's something to be said for a double standard — at least in required courses.

MEYER

Here's a summary of some of Conant's recommendations as compared to the findings of Dade School Assistant Superintendent Wesley Matthews and Curriculum Director Jeff West on the practices followed here.

* * *

CONANT SAYS high school students should take at least seven elective courses and all should be urged to include art and music. Electives should be planned in "significant sequences" leading either to marketable skills or academic preparation.

* * *

DADE SCHOOLS are set up for eight or nine elective courses per student. Both academic and vocational courses are available.

* * *

CONANT SAYS that in the advanced academic elective courses — languages, math and science — teachers should be tough and not hesitate to fail students who don't master the subject matter.

Their work "should be judged on a standard of performance so high that students who do not have the ability to handle the subjects are discouraged from electing these courses," he said. But on the other hand, he feels that grades in required courses should be based more on whether a student works to the best of his ability.

Further, he proposes a series of English composition exams to insure the development of "a minimum skill' and an 11th grade math test to be followed by a 12th grade remedial course for those who fail.

* * *

DADE SCHOOLS follow standards set by the school board in setting up a single standard of achievement for all pupils. No distinction is made between required and elective courses. We do have the 11th grade tests and the remedial courses proposed by Conant.

* * *

ACTION PROPOSED by Matthews and West is to take a close look at our grading policies, put into effect by the School Board just last year.

* * *

CONANT SAYS there should be three types of classes for each required course: one for bright students, one for poor ones, and one for the average group. He does not mean across - the - board grouping. For example, a student could be in the top group in algebra and the middle section in English.

Boy Killed -- As Forecast

CHICAGO —(AP)— The judge looked down at the youth and said:

"If you don't mend your ways, my boy, you'll wind up with your mother identifying you on a slab in the morgue."

The judge, Chief Justice Abraham L. Marovitz of Criminal Court, was talking to Joseph Basile, 16, who had violated probation after pleading guilty to car theft charges.

That was Jan. 16.

A probation officer appeared before the judge this week and asked the probation be ended.

Basile was shot and killed during a holdup attempt Feb. 10, three days after he was 17.

If Commissioner High Can Lose Enough Resolutions He Ought to Be a Big Winner

By JOHN MORTON
Herald Staff Writer

Politics, it's wonderful!

At a recent meeting, Commissioner James W. High introduced resolutions to name long-time Attorney Wallace Ruff to a municipal judgeship, and to stop the State Road Department from using solid-fill overpasses on the North-South Expressway.

MORTON

Both proposals were smashed.

Later, the commissioner tried to delay the transfer of the Graves Tract to the Interama Board — and lost again.

Sounds like three strikes against Commissioner High.

But he says it isn't so.

According to High's reasoning, the other commissioners' votes against the appointment of Ruff (except B. E. Hearn, who seconded the resolution) won High the support of Miami's Shriners.

The votes against his proposal to "stop solid fill" got him in solid with northwestern Miami, High believes.

As for fighting transfer of the Graves Tract, he thinks he'll pick up the support of voters who feel no transfer should be made until every detail is restudied.

Commissioner High's post comes under the voter gun again this year, and according to his logic, if he proposes enough unsuccessful resolutions, he ought to be able to line up everybody in town.

Pallot to Get Word On Retirement

WILLIAM L. PALLOT, ailing city attorney who is applying for $10,000-a-year disability retirement, should get the final word pretty soon.

The retirement board will consider his case in a meeting at City Accountant Andy Forger's office at 2 p.m. today.

The attorney claims a faulty caster mounting on his office chair caused him to fall backward and the impact brought on heart trouble.

Navy Seeking Base On Watson Island

NAVY PLANS for a small base on the west end of Watson Island won't take much landslide space, City Manager E. A. Evans reports. The Navy has asked commissioners to study a proposal which would grant a 50-year lease on some 1,200 feet of bulk-headed waterfront.

Evans said the "fleet" would need about 150 feet of land along the bulkhead and that the only major building would be a small power station.

Dock and warehouse needs would be filled by the city's coming Dodge Island Port facilities. The Navy indicated it would like to base four destroyers or comparable-size ships here.

Doctors Back City Drive for Health

BACKED by the endorsement of some nationally known doctors, including heart specialist Dr. Paul Dudley White, the city is launching a major publicity campaign describing Miami as "The Healthiest City in the World."

Climate, purity of the air and Florida-filtered sunshine are high on the list of reasons why, said City Publicity Director Lew Price. The campaign is designed for New York, Philadelphia and Chicago.

City Hall Puzzled By Metro Silence

TOP CITY HALL management is perplexed because Metro hasn't responded to a Miami invitation to sit down and discuss what city services can be integrated into Metro . . . No fireworks have developed yet over the commission's passage of a regulation requiring trailer parks to pay $60 per space. It use to be $37.50 for the first 25 spaces and 75 cents for each addition . . . NOTE TO ECONOMY BLOODHOUNDS: The Havana Publicity Department is picking up the transportation tab for commissioners and other city figures headed for the Independence Celebration. The city will pay room and board, plus $1,500 for its crack police motorcycle drill team.

Father, Sons To Hear Judge

Judge Ray Pearson will give the keynote address at Miami Edison High School's annual Father and Son Dinner tonight.

Pearson is former president of the Edison sutdent body.

The dinner will be attended by a select group of students and their father, plus 14 county and city officials.

Reds Spurned By Pakistan

KARACHI, Pakistan — (UPI) — A Foreign Office spokesman rejected a Soviet warning as part of a deliberate campaign to mislead international public opinion and the Russian people.

He was commenting on a Soviet Tass News Agency warning that Pakistan, a member of the Baghdad Pact, would have to bear the consequences if it turned its territory into a foreign military base.

Moroccan King Frees Frenchman

BASTIA, Corsica —(UPI)— King Mohammed V of Morocco flew to this French Mediterranean Island and, in a surprise peace gesture, personally returned a French soldier held captive in Morocco for two years.

The Moroccan king left Rabat on the first leg of a tour of the sites of his French-imposed exile in Corsica and Madagascar from 1953 to 1955. His voyage into the bitter past was made as an honored guest of France.

The monarch sprung his surprise as soon as his plane landed at Bastia's airport. He brought the long-time captive, Warrant Officer Ignace Cacciaguerra, out of the aircraft with him and told the welcoming crowd: "Gentlemen, here is Warrant Officer Cacciaguerra."

The soldier's mother was in the crowd. She burst into tears and the rest of the throng went wild with joy.

Cacciaguerra, a Corsican, had been captured in February, 1957, by guerrillas of the Moroccan National Army of Liberation, an organization pledged to rid the newly-sovereign country of foreign domination.

Answers to Last Week's Puzzle

Across

1—It's apt to shake a flirtatious woman when she finds it hard to RETAIN masculine attention (regain)—Apt to shake understates with REGAIN, which indicates that she has already lost masculine attention. RETAIN suggests she hasn't yet lost it, so that it won't be quite such a shock.

5—Guests are apt to be very critical of a party on which the host has spent a TINY amount (Tidy). — A TIDY, considerable, amount doesn't arouse criticism so much as appreciation. TINY implies the host is miserly.

7—A wife usually resents being asked by her husband to PUT down household expenses (Cut) —Usually fits PUT; it implies she's incapable of managing household affairs. With CUT, he's merely asking for her cooperation; there's no reflection on her ability.

8—The more spiteful a person, the more likely he is to welcome an opportunity to tell an enemy his SIN has done much harm (Son).—Not SON; the man might be in no way to blame; he might even believe his son to be a bad type! With SIN, the man himself is to blame; he has done the harm.

11—We don't often have to be long in a man's company to tell that he's SORE (Bore) —Almost invariably we can tell immediately that a man is a BORE, that he's dull, uninteresting. There are occasions however when we could be with a man for hours until we realized that he was SORE, angry. The anger might not be directed against us at all. SORE is better, in light of don't often.

13—Employes who SEEK to understand their boss's problems often do well for themselves (Seem). —Often understates with SEEM; whether or not they do understand them they give the impression that they do. The restraint is better with SEEK; they try to understand his problems, but whether they succeed is another matter.

14—Often men are by nature much less inclined than women to be NEAR (Neat). — NEAT, tidy, doesn't make a true statement. NEAR, thrifty almost to be point of stinginess, might seem a reflection on women; but the clue merely says often. It's to their credit that women have a deep appreciation of the value of money, particularly in regard to the home.

15—How gratifying it usually is to be able to expose the GUILT of someone who has tried to cheat us! (Guile). — GUILE is cunning; to expose cunning is not to prove GUILT conclusively. It's more gratifying when we're able to expose GUILT, which might also embrace GUILE.

Down

1—He's seldom a happy husband whose wife continually tries to RULE him (Rile).—He can scarcely ever be happy if she tries continually to RILE or anger him. RULE is better with seldom; for one thing, he might not be aware of it.

2—Few people take kindly to criticism of their AIRS (Aims). — Not AIMS; criticism of the objectives might be constructive and helpful. AIRS is better; a person who has airs has an affected manner, and to criticize his AIRS is to reveal his pretense.

3—When success goes to his head, a man often tends to AMUSE his former friends (Abuse). — He might even ignore them; but ABUSE is too strong a term with often tends. AMUSE fits; his former friends know him for what he is; and because of his newfound airs and graces he often tends to AMUSE them.

4—Being in the company of cute people sometimes makes a person MUTE (Cute). — CUTE is weak; it's scarcely so easy to become CUTE, clever, shrewd. We're more likely to keep MUTE, silent, in such company.

6—Doctors are apt to frown on visitors who MADDEN their patients (Sadden). — The mildness of apt to frown points to MADDEN, because it's only when the patients suffer from certain afflictions that their being maddened, wildly excited, might be truly harmful. SADDEN applies to most pateints, and apt to frown doesn't go far enough.

9—Many of the things that children are NOT allowed to do would probably astonish parents of a century ago (Now). — Probably understates with NOW. Modern children have much more freedom. NOT is better.

10—Knowing that people NEED our advice usually makes us more ready to give it to them (Heed) — The weakness in HEED is that when we know our advice is going to be acted on it might make us more hesitant; we must hold ourselves responsible for the outcome. But when they NEED our advice it doesn't necessarily follow that they will need it.

12—Children who REBEL in school may well go far in life (Revel).— Children who REVEL, make merry, in school are apt to lose most of the value of their lessons and thus handicap themselves for the future. Those who REBEL at least show initiative in bucking the order of things. There is no indication they REBEL constantly. It is quite possible their rebellion indicates that they may well go far in life.

'Dumped' at 85, Hardly Dented

White Hunter Rescues Animals in Path of Flood

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia —(UPI)— A 46-year-old white hunter and his badly undermanned staff pushed ahead Sunday with a 20th Century "Noah's Ark" operation designed to save thousands of terrified animals from drowning or starvation.

But it appeared that the rising man-made Lake Kariba, formed by the huge Kariba Dam, would take an enormous toll of the jungle animals.

The dam, an 1,800-foot arc of concrete in the Kariba Gorge 200 miles from Victoria Falls, was sealed last December. The waters began backing up and now stretch 120 miles from the dam site.

On islands dotted along this stretch live the animals who have been trapped by the rising waters. Game wardens are trying to save them by moving them from the islands onto high land.

The game includes antelope of all kinds, monkeys, baboons, correspondent as he sat in the tiny game department launch on Lake Kariba.

At the bottom of the launch, five coal sacks performed an eerie mambo. Each sack contained an enraged dog baboon which had been plucked from the tops of water-covered trees in the course of the "biggest animals rescue operation since Noah's Ark."

Heading this "Operation Noah" is Rupert Fothergill, a Rhodesian white hunter. He has two white helpers and eight African trackers to aid him.

Unless Fothergill can save them with the pitiably small resources and makeshift equipment at his disposal, thousands of animals are doomed to drown as the muddy Zambesi waters engulf the islands.

The game includes atelope of all kinds, monkeyes, baboons, wart hogs, genet cats and porcupines.

Adding to the perils of animals and rescuers alike are the crocodiles which swim around the drowning islands.

And as the islands shrink, the animals find themselves competing for space with such deadly snakes as the black mamba, whose bite can kill a man in 10 minutes, puff adders and Egyptian cobras.

The islands are getting so small that food is disappearing. Monkeys are even attacking the mamba, their deadly enemy, in a desperate attempt to get food. On some islands the monkeys have stripped bark from trees as one way of getting some nourishment.

Fothergill's plan of action is simple. Landing on an island, he deploys his small force to beat it from end to end, thus forcing the animals to take to the water where they are more easily handled.

Then the hunters and trackers, wearing bathing suits and sheath knives "to give us a fighting chance" against crocodiles, plunge after them.

To catch baboons and monkeys, the men swim behind one and grasp his tail with one hand while clamping the other hand on the back of the animals' neck. Any other method of capture can lead to dangerous wounds from the fangs of the fear-crazed animals.

Most difficult to catch are the porcupines, and even in the water three men are needed to handle them. One grips its tail, trying to avoid wounds from the quills, another grabs its head and front feet, and the porky is then lowered gingerly into a sack held by a third.

Slam Prospects Not Too Bright

(© 1959: By The Chicago Tribune)

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—As South you hold:

♠10 5 ♥A K 9 6 3 ♦A 7 5 ♣J 3 2

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 NT.	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
3 NT.	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. With this evenly balanced hand prospects for slam are not bright even if partner has a maximum. Your hand is worth 13 points valued at hearts and partner has a maximum of 18 points in high cards. Assuming he has a distributional point in addition, the play for slam should still be indifferent.

Q. 2—As South you hold:

♠Q 8 5 3 ♥A K 8 7 ♦6 ♣K Q 5 4

The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1 ♦	Double	Pass	1 ♥
Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two hearts. This hand is not quite strong enough for a double raise in view of the fact that partner was forced to bid. A double raise in this situation should be based on 19 points.

Q. 3—As South you hold:

♠7 5 ♥K Q J 9 8 ♦A 6 ♣A K 9 8

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	1 ♠	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—With this strong hand, a jump bid of some kind is indicated, and our choice is three hearts. It is not quite strong enough to make an absolute force to game, and therefore we veto a bid of three clubs.

Q. 4—You are South, vulnerable, and you hold:

♠K 6 ♥10 9 4 ♦A K 9 8 2 ♣K J 5

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	3 ♦	3 ♥

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. This is to enable partner to contract for three no trump if he has a heart stopper. Do not fall into the error of bidding four diamonds, for a contract of 11 tricks might be out of reach.

Q. 5—As South you hold:

♠A J 10 8 4 ♥10 6 5 4 2 ♦6 3 ♣9

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
3 ♦	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three spades. In this case nothing is to be gained by showing the anemic five card heart suit, and it might easily delude partner into taking more aggressive action than is warranted.

Q. 6—Partner opens with one club and you hold:

♠7 4 2 ♥8 5 3 ♦9 7 4 3 2 ♣K 6

What is your response?

A.—While it is our practice to stretch a point to keep alive an opening bid of one club, we do not feel justified in such action in this particular hand with only one king and no distributional advantages. A pass is therefore clearly indicated. We occasionally keep the bidding open with five points but not with four.

Q. 7—As South you hold:

♠A J 10 4 ♥A J ♦Q J 10 5 ♣K J 6

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♥	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—A rebid of one spade is our clear choice. The hand contains only 17 points in high cards and is therefore two points short of the requirements for a jump to two no trump. You must therefore bide your time with a bid of one spade, and hope to get another chance. On hands of this type we find that it is superior strategy to open with one no trump in the first place.

Q. 8—As South you hold:

♠K 6 2 ♥A Q 9 7 5 3 ♦K 7 4 2

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	1 ♠	4 ♥	5 ♣
5 ♥	Double	Pass	6 ♣
Pass	Pass	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass

What is your opening lead?

A.—The slam double convention should not apply to this case, for it is very clear that East is sacrificing against your bid of five hearts because he cannot stand his partner's double. As the bidding has developed it is reasonable to suppose that West, the dummy, has a good spade suit so that the king of spades is trapped. There is a great likelihood that East is void of hearts and the recommended lead therefore is the two of diamonds. It would be very surprising if partner did not have the ace of that suit.

Reds Reveal Details of Atomic Ship

LONDON — (AP) — Russia announced Sunday some details of a power plant aboard the world's first atomic surface ship and indicated the vessel will soon be ready for the sea.

Moscow radio said technicians were completing dockside tests of the 16,000-ton Soviet icebreaker Lenin which was launched at Leningrad in December, 1957.

The broadcast said the Lenin's power plant, developing 44,000 horsepower, consists of three atomic reactors. "But two reactors suffice to meet all the needs of the ship and one is kept as an auxiliary unit," it added.

There are two control panels for running the atomic engine, "but one is a reserve," said Moscow.

The broadcast said the crew's safety from radioactivity was guaranteed by using heavy concrete and metals to sheath installations. It added that a special health monitoring system had been installed to check radioactivity.

It said also that a "self-propelled base" is being built to service the icebreaker on Arctic trips. It said the base would carry a section of an atomic plant which could be fitted into the Lenin in mid-ocean.

The radio claimed the Lenin would be able to cruise for two or three years without touching port — but did not say if this was with or without the help of the servicing base.

The Boat Washington Crossed the Delaware In Held Only a Handful of Men

. . . but a galleon would be needed to carry all the ancestors claimed to be aboard

Washington's Boat Rockin' As Hundreds Leap Aboard

WASHINGTON CROSSING, Pa. —(AP)— Historians seeking new slants on George Washington and his fighting men are in the throes of a fine how-do-you-do.

They have an oversupply of other people's ancestors, men who supposedly rode in Washington's own boat that Christmas night of 1776 when the general crossed the Delaware River and whipped the enemy at Trenton, N.J.

Washington's boat, like others of the fleet which moved 2,500 in all across the river, was called a Durham, after the original place of manufacture in Britain. Sturdy but small as troop boats go, it held only a handful of men, a dozen or so, some say, scarcely more than 20.

Yet many now claim the honor for their forebears. Not a Durham boat, but a galleon, would have been needed to transport so large a force right alongside the commander-in-chief.

"It has become almost another Mayflower business," says Mrs. Ann Hawkes Hutton, who has written two Washington books and has another on the way.

"Think of all those who now boast of forefathers who came over on the Mayflower. They even form societies of descendants. They grow family trees. It may come to that among those who feel so sure that their soldier ancestors rode in Washington's boat."

Mrs. Hutton said the biggest stimulus to the ancestor-spotters is the famed painting by Amanuel Leutze of Washington crossing the Delaware.

Schoolboys and their elders alike are familiar with the heroic figure of Washington, erect and unflinching in the bow of the boat, one foot raised and resting near an oarlock. Behind him stands a man holding a flag. That probably is James Monroe, a young officer who was to become the fifth president.

Floods Soak Peru

Australians Flock to Graham

Billy's column, Section E

MELBOURNE—(AP)—In a gay carnival atmosphere and hot sunshine, 70,000 people heard American evangelist Billy Graham preach his second Sunday sermon of his Australian crusade.

People from all over Melbourne started out early in the morning to get good positions.

When Graham faced the crowd from the open air music bowl in King's Domain, one of Melbourne's city parks, he saw thousands spread on the lawns, perching in trees and sitting in the shade of gaily colored beach umbrellas.

Only 3,000 were protected from the hot sun by the bowl's canopy. Nearly 400 were treated by ambulance men and doctors because of the 90 degree heat.

Graham told the crowd there would be no peace in the world until there was peace in men's hearts.

"The world's international troubles are only a reflection of our individual troubles," he said. "In Christ's cross lies the solution to world problems."

Among more than 1,000 who made "Decisions for Christ" was one deaf and dumb teenager for whom the sermon was translated in sign language.

After the crusade meeting police spent several hours clearing the traffic. They said it was the heaviest in Melbourne since the 1956 Olympic games.

New Squash Is Developed

GENEVA, N. Y. —(UPI)— A new variety of squash to meet the needs of growers and processors has been introduced here by Cornell University's New York State Experiment Station.

The new vegetable, named "Red Skin," represents more than 20 years of selection and breeding to develop a high-yielding squash with fruits of uniform size, color and shape and with flesh of a uniform color and quality.

It was developed by crossing inbred lines of Knobby Levithan with Golden Delicious, according to plant breeder Prof. W. T. Tapley.

Lenten Prayer for Today

'Lead Son Down Path of Challenge'

By JIM BISHOP

The five-star Gen. Douglas MacArthur was born in an Army post at Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 26, 1880, the son of a distinguished Army officer. His long and brilliant military career reached a climax which won him world acclaim when he was Allied Supreme Commander in the Southwest Pacific during World War II, then commanding the occupation forces in Japan after V-J Day.

Go With God

After decisive service as commander of the United Nations forces in the Korean war against Communist invaders, Gen. MacArthur became chairman of the board of Remington-Rand.

Gen. MacArthur has one son, and this prayer is called "A Father's Prayer."

Build me a son, O Lord, who will be strong enough to know when he is weak, and brave enough to face himself when he is afraid; one who will be proud and unbending in honest defeat, and humble and gentle in victory.

Build me a son whose wishbone will not be where his backbone should be; a son who will know Thee — and that to know himself is the foundation stone of knowledge.

Lead him, I pray, not in the path of ease and comfort, but under the stress and spur of difficulties and challenge. Here, let him learn to stand up in the storm; here, let him learn compassion for those who fail.

Build me a son whose heart will be clear, whose goal will be high; a son who will master himself before he seeks to master other men; one who will learn to laugh, yet never forget how to weep; one who will reach into the future, yet never forget the past.

And after all these things are his, add, I pray, enough of a sense of humor, so that he may always be serious, yet never take himself too seriously. Give him humility, so that he may always remember the simplicity of true greatness, the open mind of true wisdom, the meekness of true strength. Then I, his father, will dare to whisper: "I have not lived in vain."

FIRST woman president of India's ruling National Congress Party, Mrs. Indira Gandhi is busy with her new duties in New Delhi. She is 42 and the daughter of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

Well, Back to the Salt Mine

By DAVID BINDER
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

BERLIN — You know those stories about the Communists putting prisoners to work in the salt mines?

Well, they are true.

The prisoners are some 50,000 chickens, held captive a quarter of a mile beneath the earth's surface in a salt mine near Stassfurt in East Germany.

According to Neues Deutschland, organ of the East German Socialist Unity Party (Communist), they are paving the road towards the glorious victory of socialism. With eggs.

And not one of them can fly the coop.

On the other hand, maybe the hens don't want to. Up above; the temperature is wintry; down below, it varies comfortably between 64 and 68 degrees. The humidity is a pleasant 65 per cent.

These conditions are ideal for poultry, say Communist functionaries. They expect a yearly production of more than five million eggs and tons of meat.

Ironically, 15 years ago the Berlepsch salt mine was indeed an infamous prison-factory for forced laborers.

It was here that the Nazis erected an underground aircraft factory, safe from all bomb attacks. The werkers were drawn mostly from concentration camps.

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

BELL

JOSEPH NOCERA dropped in Friday. What, you don't know Joe? Maybe you don't remember Jackie Mason either — unless you were a fight fan away back yonder. Or maybe you bet horses and Jackie ran your money to the book. Or you bet fights and Jackie was stakeholder. Joseph Nocera is Jackie Mason — full of spaghet.

Of all the bangers we ever had around here none was more colorful than this cocky little loud-mouth.

He was his own manager, trainer and financial adviser. He wasn't much of a fighter, but no man could be more cute for two minutes of each round, and more furious and slambang the last minute. Jackie always went to the corner with the fans whooping. So he worked his way up to main bouts, and was careful not to get overmatched.

Jackie was a money hustler after he quit fighting in 1931. Then he drifted up to Columbus, Ga., where he went into business. He now has three restaurants there. Friday was his 51st birthday. The years have added plenty of poundage.

McCullough Corp. of Los Angeles, manufacturer of Scott outboard motors, is trying something that might catch on with other national firms.

Well, outboard salesmen are sittin' on their hands all winter up north. So 18, from several eastern and midwest cities, are being brought to Miami. They'll be distributed among the six agencies here. All this week the visitors will work in the local stores.

Then on Saturday they've Sea Fair, a water show on 79th St. Causeway. Visitors will get free outboard rides, see Freddie Turk's free water ski show — and get a bit of free sales talk from the visiting salesmen.

Sign, Please!

When President Arturo Frondizi of Argentina visited Miami to christen our new airport, Mrs. Mary E. Newman, 775 Dade Blvd., Miami Beach, got an idea. Why not get the President's autograph for her 10-year-old grandson, Andres Jose de Poinsteau, who lives in Buenos Aires and whom she hasn't seen?

Well, she huffed and she puffed and she almost blew the Fontainebleau down trying to get close to the president. No luck. In desperation she mailed him an old Christmas card, asking please would el presidente????

He would, and did. It came up from Buenos Aires this week and now is on its way back to Andres Jose de Poinsteau.

Six Miamians Plucked From Sharks

By GENE MILLER
Herald Staff Writer

A Miami couple, and the three daughters they lashed to a dinghy as sharks circled their sinking yacht, landed safe in Los Angeles Sunday — thousands of miles from their Haiti destination.

It was 17 days ago that a sudden Caribbean storm broke up the 62-foot yacht Harpoon about 400 miles southeast of Miami.

The dramatic story unfolded Sunday as a rescue ship docked in Los Angeles after taking the survivors through the Panama Canal.

Miamian Al Ard, 45, his wife, Betty, 39, their children, Sharon, 20, Candy, 12, and Sandy 10, the Ards' pet chihuahua, Penny, were 23 out of Miami on a pleasure cruise to Haiti when they ran into a fast tropical storm.

Ard radioed for help as the once-expensive 42-year-old yacht began to take on water in rough seas and a driving rain.

"The whole ship was opening up," said Ard. "We knew she was going down and we were getting pretty nervous.

"The pumps didn't help. We couldn't control the water. So I got on the radio and started calling 'May Day, May Day.'

"Nothing happened. We didn't get any confirmation immediately.

"So we lashed the kids to a small dinghy. We figured maybe they would be saved even if we drowned. We were going to take our chances in the water."

But a San Juan Air Base radioman picked up the distress signal. He relayed it immediately to the Miami-based U.S. Coast Guard Air and Rescue Headquarters.

And from here an all-ships bulletin promptly went out.

Just as the Ards were ready to cast off the dinghy, the Greek ship Igor, a 9,000-ton freighter, came into sight through a lashing rain.

Los Angeles newsmen who interviewed the Ards described the Igor as a rusty old tub.

"To us," said Arb, "it looked like Noah's Ark, the Queen Mary and the Salvation Army. It was the most beautiful ship in the world."

"Sharks were circling the Harpoon," said Igor Capt. Issadores Los. "We knew we had to get them off in a hurry.

"We dropped a lifeboat and had them, their dog and a crewmen safely up in no time."

"We lost everything," Ard said. His three blonde daughters escaped barefooted.

"We stood on the deck and watched my boat sink — 35 minutes by my watch after we left her."

The Igor dropped off the crewman in the Panama Canal Zone, then continued to California.

"We plan to stay here a few days," Ard said in Los Angeles. "Then we'll go back to Florida."

Ard said he sailed from Dania Jan. 13.

The Ard family is believed to reside at 5901 SW 113th Ave. here.

Miami Family Doesn't Mind Close Race With Inflation

Second of a Series

By STAN JOHNSON
Herald Business Writer

A Miami family with an income of $5,600 a year finds that it's not hard to live with inflation.

"Sure, we have to spend more to live these days, but we've got more to spend," says Gardiner Snyder, an outside plant engineer for Southern Bell Telephone Co.

Cost-of-living indexes hold no special interest for Snyder. He has his own yardsticks:

His youngest child, born six months ago, cost $400 in doctors' and medical expenses — twice as much as his oldest, born eight years ago.

A few years ago, he remembers, his wife paid a dollar for three pounds of hamburger. Now she pays 69 cents a pound.

His electric bill averages $20 a month, compared with $10 a month in 1952.

He spends twice as much on gasoline as he did two years ago because he lives farther from his job.

His automobile insurance costs $160 a year, compared with $100 in 1956.

His income tax has climbed from $137 in 1952 to $680 last year, real estate tax has increased from $5 to $40, and gasoline tax is two cents higher.

On the other hand, Snyder's income has jumped from $1,500 in 1951, when he was going to college and working at part-time jobs, to $5,600.

He figures his home at 3000 SW 81st Ave. is worth $2,700 more than it was when he bought it in 1954.

He's wearing better clothes than he used to, and he has better furniture and more appliances at home.

Summing up inflation, Snyder has this to say:

"We're eating more macaroni and cheese and less steak than we used to, but that's because we're paying for a new car now.

"We don't go to as many movies, and I've cut down on my hunting trips, but we've got a TV set that we didn't have four years ago.

"I guess the worst part of inflation is the taxes. They're the most damaging because I can't find anything that makes up for the increase."

Snyder expects both taxes and prices will go higher in the next few years, but he's hoping, too, that his income will keep up with them.

No Bets Allowed, Bar Owners Say

The owners of Jack's Bar, 1361 NE 2nd Ave., said Saturday they had no knowledge that one of their patrons was accepting horse bets.

A Herald reporter placed a $5 bet last Wednesday with a man in the bar who said, "just call me John."

A representative of the bar's owner, Mrs. Sonia Pomeranz, said Saturday she and her husband have operated Jack's for four years, "and there has never been gambling or bookmaking going on" to their knowledge.

No Fare Bus Rides On Today

By TOM LOWNES
Herald Staff Writer

Miami's downtown merchants want to take you for a ride—and it all seems pretty unfare.

In fact, there'll be no fare at all for the free shuttle bus service offered to shoppers by the Downtown Miami Business Council starting today.

The round-trip buses will leave the city's free Orange Bowl parking area at eight-minute intervals from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily and deposit shoppers right in the heart of Miami's business district and take them back again.

The service, paid for by some 1,200 Miami business and professional men, may bring in as many as 1,500 customers a day, according to Kendrick Clifford, merchandise manager for Burdine's and president of the DMBC.

Clifford said the no-pay buses, operated by the Miami Transit Co., will be run on a five-week trial basis and continued if it brings in the business.

Arthur Darlow, Miami's traffic engineer, suggested the new free-ride plan after a survey showed the present free-park-but-pay-ride system was used mainly by downtown workers, instead of shoppers.

Miami Transit spokesmen said the old Park-Ride plan will also be continued from 7:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. and from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. with regular 20-cent fare and free parking at the Orange Bowl.

If the all-free plan works out, Clifford said, the DMBC will open similar operations from locations in the southwest and northeast sections of Miami.

Gerstein Set To Continue Bookie War

State Attorney Richard Gerstein vowed Sunday to "keep the pressure on" Greater Miami police agencies to continue the crackdown on bookie operations.

"They should keep making arrests," he said.

Since disclosure of wide-open bookmaking here in last Sunday's Herald, 13 suspects have been arrested in raids.

Gerstein said he will meet again with the police officials on Friday to hear their reports on what they have done to stop hoodlum activities.

Gruesome String Of Wrecks Kill Three, Injure 10

By JOY WINANS and EDDIE GONG
Herald Staff Writers

Three persons were killed and 10 injured Sunday in a gruesome succession or wrecks which boosted Dade's 1959 highway death toll to 35.

Five major accidents and dozens or minor ones plagued county and city police as Greater Miamians jammed the highways on Sunday outings.

The two fatal accidents occurred in unincorporated areas. They helped push this year's death count six notches higher than the 29 recorded at this time in 1958.

The first came about 2:30 a.m. on State Road Nine about a half-mile north of Opa-locka when a speeding car carrying three Negroes veered off the highway for some 90 feet, smacked the abutment of the Snake Creek bridge, rolled down a bank and landed upside-down in four-feet of water.

Killed were Willie Doyle, 34, of 1437 NW Sixth Ct., and Eugene Clark, 23, of 1521 NW 68th St. In critical condition at Jackson Memorial Hospital was James Gray, 30, who lived at the same address as Doyle.

Highway Patrol Trooper W. E. Turnley said Clark's body was not found until about 12 hours after the wreck when volunteer divers pulled it from eight feet of water in the canal. Apparently Clark was hurled from the careening car after it hit the bridge.

★ ★ ★

Shortly after 11 a.m., Herbert Rose, 37-year-old construction worker of 10945 SW 40th Ter., turned abruptly from talking with friends in his car parked on the Tamiami Trail 28 miles west of Miami — and stepped to his death in the path of a passing car.

Trooper Charlie Johnson said Rose died of a skull fracture, multiple other fractures and internal injuries. He was knocked 50 feet by a car driven by J. A. Kurtz, 18, of Hanover, N.J., who was driving here with his family for a vacation.

Johnson said no charges would be pressed against Kurtz.

★ ★ ★

Six passengers in an auto were injured Sunday afternoon when their car smashed into a truck at Silver Palm Dr. and Farmlife Rd. in Homestead.

In serious condition at James Archer Smith Hospital were Mary Ellen Huffstetter, 30, of 420 S. Krome Ave., Homestead, driver of the car, and Mayo Bridges, 32, of 100 S. Second Ave., Homestead.

Four other persons were treated for less serious injuries.

Mrs. Sylvia Crawford, 29, of 1001 Caribbean Blvd., Cutler Ridge, and Ethel Carroll, 46, of 1181 SW 59th Ave., Miami, were seriously injured about dusk Sunday when their car collided with another at Caribbean Blvd. and South Dixie Highway.

Two University of Miami students in the other car and Mrs. Crawford's two children received minor injuries. Police said Mrs. Crawford's car ran a stop sign.

★ ★ ★

Airman 1C Roland L. Clemne, 29, stationed at Homestead Air Force Base, was seriously injured south of Goulds Sunday night when his motorcycle was struck by a car driven by Willie Lee, Goulds Negro. Police said Lee would be charged with failure to yield the right of way.

In Dynamite Cap Blast

Explosion Tears Boy's Finger Off

A seven-year-old South Miami boy lost one of his fingers, split his hand and received severe cuts over his body Sunday when a dynamite cap exploded while he was playing with it.

Andy Learner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Learner of 6171 SW 72nd Ave., was taken to Variety Children's Hospital following the accident at his home about 2:30 p.m.

The boy's father said Andy apparently was playing with a dynamite cap brought home the week before by his older brother, Dennis, 11.

He said Dennis found a box of dynamite caps in a shack on Lower Matecumbe Key, where he went last weekend with neighbors.

After Andy was sent to his room for a nap Sunday, his father said, the parents and a visiting neighbor heard a bang "that didn't sound very loud" in the upper part of the house where the boy's bedroom is located.

They found the boy in the bathroom trying to wash the blood off, Learner said. The father said the boy lost a finger on his right hand, split the hand, and had deep lacerations "from head to foot."

The boys' parents said they found a flashlight battery in Andy's room, and that apparently the youngster had sent an electrical charge into the dynamite cap.

Physicians reported Andy was "resting comfortably" at the hospital following emergency surgery Sunday night to remove dozens of tiny metal pieces which peppered him in the blast.

Police End Men's Room Dice-Rolling

Two Miami Beach policemen, who wandered into the men's room of the Deauville Hotel at 2:30 a.m. Sunday, found themselves in the middle of a dice game.

Rolling the bones on the hard terrazzo floor were five well-dressed gentlemen, all of whom were promptly arrested.

The gendarmes, William Webb and Gene Addis, also picked up $30 "evidence" for the judge.

The men are Vernon Leonard Davis, 35, Lido Beach Motel; Clarence Herman Lovett, 24, Madison Heights, Mich.; Verlon Miller, 31, Detroit, Matt Savu, 42, Fort Lauderdale, and Fred Rothman, 31, Miami Beach.

Bond was set at $2,000 each. Only Rothman made it.

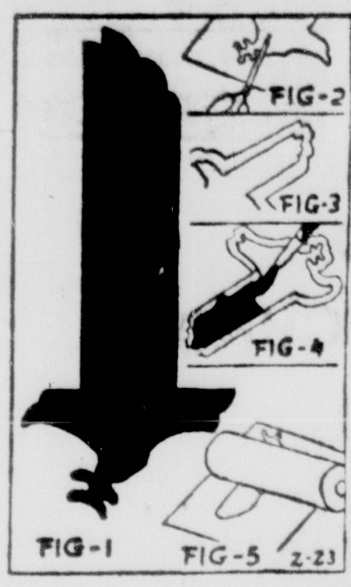
Stamp Your Property With Homemade Blotter

By CAPPY DICK



Hobby Club

HERE'S something new for boys and girls to make: Blotter stamps.

They are used about the same as rubber stamps. With a blotter stamp you can imprint your books and papers with any design you choose.

In Figure 1 of the diagram is a pattern to use for your experimental stamp, a silhouette of a modernistic eagle. To transfer this pattern to a blotter, lay a piece of tissue paper over the eagle and trace its outline with pencil.

Then place tissue tracing on a piece of blotter — the kind that blots on both sides is best — and with a sharp-pointed pencil and plenty of pressure trace the outline of the eagle. When you have done so, lift the tissue pattern and you will find the pencil point has neatly impressed the outline on on the blotter.

With scissors, cut the eagle out of the blotter as in Figure 2. The scissors must follow the outline exactly. In small corners where it is hard to manipulate the scissors, use the point of a sharp knife.

The next step is to make an underlay for the blotter eagle. This also is cut out of the blotter. Simply place the eagle on the blotter and trace its general outline with pencil, making the shape about one-eighth of an inch larger all around than the original eagle. Cut this underlay out and glue the two eagles together as in Figure 3.

When the glue has dried, brush ink over the entire surface of the first blotter eagle (Figure 4). Do not put ink on the underlay. Place the inked side of the blotter stamp on a piece of paper, then roll an empty bottle or rolling pin over it lightly (Figure 5). Lift the stamp and you will discover the eagle has been imprinted on the paper. To print again, simply brush more ink over the stamp.

Artist's Conception of Projected Anti-Missile Missile

. . . army says it will be able to blast H-Bomb carrier from sky

Army Offers Its 'Answer' To Missile-Borne H-Bombs

McELROY

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Embittered Army sources claimed Sunday the U.S. is much closer to a workable defense against intercontinental ballistic missiles than testimony before Congress would indicate.

The sources for this story—three months in the gathering — stretch from Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala., to Fort Bliss, Tex., to Washington. None can be identified.

Permission to use some of the information gleaned since early November was granted by these sources after testimony before Congress by Dr. Herbert C. York, director of research for the Defense Department's Advanced Research Projects Agency.

At the moment the nation's major defense problem is development of a missile which can intercept and destroy warheads loaded with small hydrogen bombs aimed at this country over intercontinental ranges and traveling at speeds of 15,000 miles an hour plus.

The Army believes it has such a defense in the projected anti-missile missile, the Nike-Zeus. The Zeus is a nuclear missile which is intended to destroy enemy ICBMs out in space.

An artist's sketch of the Nike-Zeus accompanies this story. It is based on well-authenticated details and, so far as is known, is the first reliable sketch of the kind to be published.

What has embittered the Army sources is Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy's rejection of a request for 730 million dollars to produce the Zeus.

On Feb. 17 York testified before the House Space Committee that he believed McElroy was right in making the turndown; that Zues had not reached the point in development where large scale production was warranted.

Douglas Aircraft Corp., at Santa Monica, Calif., is now in limited production on components of the yet-to-be produced prototype of the Zeus.

At present the plans are to mount 24 Zeus missiles on a launching pad which will look from the air like a rectangular, perforated ceiling tile.

In each Zeus defense complex there will be three or more such launching pads capable of hurling between 60 and 90 anti-missile missiles into the air almost simultaneously.

Each Zeus would be propelled initially by engines remaining on the ground which generate 450,000 pounds of thrust in less than three seconds. Such an engine was test fired successfully at Redstone Arsenal Aug. 26.

As the Zeus takes off, an airborne booster cuts in and sends the missile streaking upward at an even faster speed. This booster eventually will drop away and a sustainer engine will begin operating as a source of power for space travel.

At burnout of the third stage — the second airborne stage — the missile is designed to travel at substantially the same speed as the incoming missile on an intercept course.

All of the engines involved will employ solid propellants which burn almost instantaneously, giving off a controlled explosion.

None of the Zeus launching complexes would be located near populated areas as are the antiaircraft Nike Hercules, but would be scattered on what one source called "our far flung continental frontiers."

The key to the success of any antiaircraft of anti-missile missile is radar.

Since a ballistic missile would require only 30 minutes to reach from Moscow to New York, the first 10 minutes of flight would be vital.

In these 10 minutes, the ballistic course of the enemy missile must be computed. At the end of another six minutes, the target track must be firmly established by radar.

The Army sources figure that as soon as the missile's track has been ascertained they have four minutes in which t[illegible] aim, fire and intercept. [illegible] brief, the missile's [illegible]head-containing nose cone must be knocked down 20 minutes after launching and 10 minutes short of U.S. targets to protect against even partial nuclear destruction.

Under the Zeus system as now contemplated the Air Force's long range radar would be used to give early warning of an enemy launch and the Army's newly designed target tracking radar would take over and fire the anti-missile missiles automatically.

Periodicals Purchased

MADISON, Wis. — (AP) — The University of Wisconsin has purchased the Sukov collection of 10,617 "little magazines."

Recently the collector, Dr. Martin Sukov of Minneapolis, donated a one-half interest in the collection to the university and the school agreed to buy the remaining half for $30,000.

"Little magazines" are periodicals possessing a small number of subscribers and usually few advertisers but containing a high grade of intellectual content.

Will he take away an American steelworker's job?

Meet Vladimir Petrov, Russian steelworker. He earns about 56 rubles a day.

American steelworkers earn $24.00 a day... four times as much as steelworkers of Western Europe, over four times as much as Vladimir, and seven times as much as Japanese steelworkers.

So what?

So this: Many foreign countries have zoomed their output of steel—they're selling it all over the world—and in increasing amounts even in the U.S.A. For instance, more barbed wire is being imported here from abroad than American mills are producing.

Soaring costs in this country are hurting the American steelworker as he tries to compete with his counterparts all over the world... European and Japanese steel producers are even now underselling American steel right here in this country. Some American steelworkers have already lost their jobs just for this reason; foreign steelworkers have gotten their jobs.

Certainly it will not help America if the spread between U.S. and foreign wages is increased. It will only serve to export jobs.

Isn't it time to stop this inflationary rise in wage costs that is undermining the job security of American workers?

The American Iron and Steel Institute brings you this message from the steel industry because

Inflation robs us all

Warner's Wants Jimmy Stewart As Teacher in Delinquency Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

James Stewart
. . . sought

Natalie Wood
. . . salary?

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. While Jack L. Warner was in New York he purchased "Undercover Teacher" by George M. Allen. This is an exposure of juvenile delinquency in the John Marshall School in Brooklyn, and where Allen, who is a reporter, taught school.

He was actually an undercover agent, and prepared a series of articles for one of the New York newspapers.

This may have the same impact as "Rebel Without a Cause" one of Jimmy Dean's last pictures. Jack has Jimmy Stewart in mind for the reporter-teacher, and since Jimmy has made so many important pictures for Warner Bros., he probably will accept.

Jack has returned from his successful job buying $5,000,000 worth of the studio's stock. I talked to him while he was in New York, and it's great to hear he's feeling so well again.

* * *

BY THE TIME you read this, Natalie Wood should be back on the Warner Bros. lot — on full salary and with all her troubles solved. I am reliably informed that attorneys for the William Morris agency, Natalie's agents, and Jack Warner's attorneys, met to iron out the final points involved.

"I'm told Natalie didn't care as much about a raise in salary as the right to do outside pictures. I assume both these factors will be taken care of, although neither Natalie nor Warner Bros., will comment.

I also understand that the announcement of Natalie's next picture will be made simultaneously with the announcement of her reinstatement.

* * *

POOR Ernie Kovacs. Just a plain "Mr." with all the "Sirs" — Sir Ralph Richardson, Sir Alec Guinness, with Sir Carol Reed directing "Our Man in Havana!" Come to think of it, Ernie has company in Noel Coward whom many people think should have a sir in front of his name — but hasn't.

Shooting on Graham Greene's novel starts in Havana April 20, which means that Ernie probably will be away when Edie Adams has her baby. Edie wrote me from the Tropicana in Las Vegas that when she completes her engagement she'll do a TV spectacular on March 3.

* * *

IN THE MIDST of the excitement of the announcement of her engagement to Buddy Bregman, Anna Maria Alberghetti signed a contract with Desilu Playhouse to star in a musical called "A Diamond for Carla." Anna started Tuesday.

Anna said that she believes now that her mother will come to her wedding, if only too much isn't said. Several prominent people have talked to Mrs. Alberghetti and unless she has another change of heart she'll be in St. Ambrose Church April 12 when Anna Maria marries Buddy, and also at the reception which will follow the small church service.

Top 10 Films Reaped Billion Gross in '58

MOVIE MAGS are being dominated by Ricky Nelson, whose first film has not been released . . . There isn't one Big Name among the Top Ten records . . . Despite weepy statements by pessimists the top 10 films grossed over one Billion last year. As some wit once said: "Flowers in Hollywood smell like dirty old dollar bills." . . . "A Majority of One" (at the Shubert Theater) made me laugh louder than any comedy this season . . . Gertrude Berg, the popular Molly of the network shows, is the leading lady . . . In a hyphenated word, she is Berg-time . . . The Music Hall's new show is accurately named "Times Square Extravaganza." More glamorous than the Big Street itself . . . "The Best of Brigitte Bardot" includes 140 pictures of the famed Eve wearing her skin . . . Alexander King's book "Mine Enemy Grows Older," is all that the orchid-flingers called it . . . We call it witerature . . . Rodgers & Hammerstein's "Flower Drum Song" is playing to capacity houses. Can't sell standing room tickets. No place to stand. If you are a syndicated colyumist they allow you to use Mr. Rodgers' "house seats." They are the rear steps . . . The ads for Marilyn Monroe's "Some Like It Hot" have her face and some other gal's torso. Prob'ly because she was enciente at the time.

Ricky Nelson
. . . profuse

Gertrude Berg

John D. MacDonald

MARLON BRANDO'S fee per film has zoomed to $1,000,000, most of which he cannot keep . . . Frank Sinatra's "Only The Lonely" (in-stereo) is really sumpin' . . . "Rashomon" is based on a story written by a Japanese writer, who was a suicide at 35 . . . His name reads like an eye-chart; Ryunosuke Akutagawa . . . England's angry young woman is Shelagh Delaney, 20. She now earns $1,000 a week from her first play, "A Taste of Honey," a London sensation. A few months ago she was making $20 a week working in a factory . . Don't invite Broadway producer David Merrick and the N.Y. Times drama-item collector to the same continent . . . The Isle of Limbo is New York's only Calypso spot. On 57th near 6th . . . "The Rivalry" (at the Bijou) had quite a tryout tour . . . 72 cities . .. Kim Novak, who became a movie star three years ago, still goes to acting school. Smart Girl.

* * *

John Chapman and this column were alone in their warm appraisals of the late "Legend of Lizzie." The sour notices frightened the new producers into closing it on the second night. It didn't deserve its horrible fate . . . The new pet of the platter pilots appears to be "I Want You." It sounds like music. Really swings . . . Nick Kenny's adroit ass't, Jim Grady, is recovering from a Big Scare at French Hospital. Friends may now contact him . . . Mutual readers of Life and this Col'm wondered if we could identify the masked chorus girls on Life's Feb. 16 front. They were: Thelma Sherr (wife of a Miami attorney), Kay Masters and Maureen Cunningham. They appear in Diosa Costello's swift Latin revue at the Lucerne Hotel, Miami Beach . . . Add doyty trix: Sophia Loren now wears bulky sweaters "to hide my bosom" . . . Newsweek echo'd our Valentine to Gwen Verdon: "Redhot Redhead."

* * *

JOHN D. MACDONALD is the least known, best-selling writer in the United States. His next book, "Please Write For Details," arrives about March 18. His books have sold over 10,000,000 copies in the last eight years (in the U.S. alone) and if you include his last six novels the total is nearer 15 million . . . The N.Y. Press Photographers' Ass'n is seeking a Queen. Candidates must be single and pretty. Applicants should phone Circle 5-2511 or Judson 2-0300 for an interview. Sorry, Miss Verdon, you cannot enter. It would be unfair to the other girls . . . When we witnessed Shirley MacLaine in "Some Came Running" we kept thinking of her chorus-girling in "Kiss Me Kate" and "Oklahoma." That was only a few years ago. She lights up a theater . . . Ina Balin's beauty is eye-perfume. A natural player, whose support is another high spot of the new Cedric Hardwicke-Gertrude Berg laugh hit, "Majority Of One."

Clarke to View 'Life of Edison'

Edward Clarke will present Marlene Hurwitz, soprano, as soloist at his 10:45 a.m. Thursday talk on books and music in Miami Woman's Club auditorium. Mrs. Orville Winterstella will be accompanist.

The book to be reviewed is George S. Bryan's "Life of Thomas Edison."

Paiging 'Maisie'

Baltimore K-9 Corps Heads For Drama Series on TV

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Move over Rin Tin Tin and Lassie. An adventure series based on the Baltimore police department's K-9 corps is headed for television.

Police Commissioner James M. Hepbron announces that he has signed a contract with Television Production Services, Inc., of Hollywood, Calif., for production of a 13-week trial series aimed at attracting sponsors.

Professional actors will depict the work of the police-dog unit, which is nearly two years old. Documentary portions will be filmed in Baltimore.

Hepbron said the department will receive at least $250 for each initial showing and an additional $100 for each repeat performance. He said profits will be given to "some charitable phase of police work."

YOU'LL BE WARMED BY THE WELCOME IN THE DOMINICAN REPUBLIC
Take your pick of two Intercontinental Hotels
El Jaragua and El Embajador

It becomes apparent the moment you set foot on this friendly isle: you're more than welcome—you're wanted!

And the warmth of our island welcome is matched by the pleasant coolness of our gentle Trade Winds!

But those are just two of the pleasures of life here on Santo Domingo.

You can laze around where Columbus sun-bathed, shop for free-port bargains, build muscles on golf course and tennis court, build character in the gaming casino and enjoy some of the finest hunting and fishing in the Western Hemisphere.

Or if you prefer, you can just allow yourself to be spoiled silly in either of the island's two fine Intercontinental Hotels, El Jaragua and El Embajador.

Both offer you daily gamboling in the sun — nightly gambling at the hotel's own casinos—nightly floor shows that are out of this world. Both offer you accommodations, cuisine and company that will add up to the greatest vacation under the sun.

Rooms are available right now—at rates so reasonable, you just can't afford to stay home: from $7.00* and $9.00* a day.

So be our guest. For further information and reservations, see your travel agent or call Intercontinental Hotels at FRanklin 1-6661 in Miami.

Jewish Communities in France, Italy Growing Free of U.S. Aid

By WILLIAM H. STONEMAN
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

PARIS — Jewish communities in France where 300,000 Jews are living, and in Italy which has a Jewish population of 30,000, are heading in the direction of self-sufficiency and independence of American aid.

STONEMAN

As a result the Joint Distribution Committee, which draws most of its funds from the U.S., will be able to concentrate increasingly on the colossal and costly job of settling new refugees in Israel and aiding other Jewish communities outside Israel which lack sufficient means of their own.

This welcome news has been gathered by a group of Chicagoans during an exhaustive study tour in connection with the United Jewish Appeal of metropolitan Chicago.

The group, which is headed by Morris Norian, chairman of the 1959 appeal, visited reception centers for newly arrived refugees in Vienna and spent 12 days touring Israel.

Since leaving Israel Feb. 15, it has visited institutions financed by JDC in Italy and France.

The trip culminated in a visit to the school at Montreuil, near Paris, where ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation and Training) is now training 850 full-time and several hundred part-time students in useful professions.

The majority of these people will probably continue to live in France where, as in Italy, Jews are free from discrimination.

Mrs. Henry Burnett Serves Her Husband Fish Chowder
. . . at Biscayne Bay Yacht Club's 73rd chowder party

By HELEN WELLS and NORA OPHULS
Herald Staff Writers

Party, party, party — that's what the weekend just over amounted to. Saturday and Sunday turned out to be two busy days on the social scene.

Biscayne Bay Yacht Club, continuing a long tradition, held its 73rd annual chowder party on Sunday, Washington's birthday, also the anniversary of the club's founding 72 years ago.

Campaign workers for the Combined Jewish appeal took an evening off Saturday to go dancing at the Fontainebleau Hotel. The event was the CJA Celebrity Ball.

Another gala benefit ball was held Sunday evening, again at the Fontainebleau. This time the occasion was the Heart Ball.

* * *

Annual Chowder Party

"Soup, soup, beautiful soup . . ." except that contrary to Lewis Carroll's soup of the evening, Biscayne Bay's Yacht Club offered chowder of the afternoon Sunday afternoon.

Even some of the earliest chowder sippers were at this year's party. Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Grosvenor, he in white flannel trousers, blue jacket and multi-color straw hat, came on the Dewey Knight's boath with Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Smith.

But the key figure in the success of the feast is Henry Germaine, BBYC chef, whose secret is the chowder recipe. He won't even tell what kind of fish goes in with the milk and potatoes, and woe unto him who dares ask. The chowder is made back at the club house, then re-cooked over open fires in five huge iron resin pots at the party.

A tradition that no member would dare break is that everyone must arrive by boat, although the grassy clearing at the west end of Key Biscayne canal is accessible by car. It was a proud steam of vessels that swept into the canal, the larger ones mooring three-deep along the bulkhead.

Among the club officers on hand were Commodore Woody Piere, Hardy and Hugh Matheson, Jack Skinner, Jack Gardner and Wirth Monroe. Woody and wife Shirley came on Merry Wing with Betty Ann and Herb Johnson, Martha and Russell Grove, and Joe and Paul Ware. Hardy and Towsie were among some 25 who steamed over from the mainland on Trader, a converted Coast Guard 83-foot patrol boat. Bill and Faith Matheson had sailed the boat down from Stuart on Friday with Bud and Ginny Menninger. Martha and Seneca Anderson, Evelyn and Tom Guyton, Pat and St. Julian Rosemond were only a few of those aboard. Another load came aboard Hugh and Sally Matheson's Smugler.

Most spectacular was the 113-foot yacht Sunset, owned by Lewis Adams. Aboard were 20 guests and six uniformed crew members, plus a canape-serving bulter.

Sennet and Woody Duttenhoffer brought Bill Driesbach, Mr. and Mrs. John H. J. Pearce and Bill and Emilie Gibbs. Emilie matched her aqua striped shorts with a straw hat practically as tall as she, decorated with white shells and aqua raffia.

Speaking of hats, Mary Mairs, there with Ned, started the afternoon with a tall red Christmas present straw, then switched to last year's, an orange lid with a pale pink full blown rose out of sight inside the pointed crown.

The Heart Ball

"You gotta have heart, miles and miles and miles of heart . . ." and there were miles and miles of automobiles outside the Fontainebleau Hotel Sunday night for the Heart Ball.

Chairman of the ball was that dynamic redhead Marianne Reynolds, who never wore a more spectacular dress than her pale pink bouffant faille with big pink and deeper pink roses all over. The flowers were accented with green velvet leaves and stems interspersed with brilliants. Her necklace was of diamonds and rubies, and she tossed her red mane with verve. Her date was Harold Lieberman.

In the receiving line with her was her co-chairman Claire (Mrs. Sydney) Weintraub, in short gold satin, also decorated with roses. With them stood Dr. Louis Lemberg, head of the Heart Association in Miami. The ball was a benefit for that group.

One of the handsomest couples at the party was Barbara and Dr. Ralph Millard. She wore elegant black lace and breath of spring mink. Nancy Greene, who was a guiding star in decorating the grand ballroom of the hotel, was with husband Bob. Her gown was of stunning wide white tulle studded with crystal beads. With her was her houseguest Mrs. Richard Doane, better known in Miami as Herald columnist Mary Goodfellow.

The cocktail hour was held in the foyer where the winter art show, Art Is Forever, is on display. Admiring the fine are exhibit were Evelyn Mitchell, in pink satin, Jamie (Mrs. L. W.) Mertens, who were holding down the table Arthur Vining Davis had taken. He didn't attend the party, however. Mana-Zucca, one of Miami's foremost composers, was in gold brocade. She and her husband Irwin Cassel exclaimed over a bronze bust of Sir Winston Churchill, executed by Sir Jacob Epstein, a cousin of Mr. Cassel.

"Even though he is a cousin by marriage, he's still kissin' kin," said Irwin.

Dinner tables in the ballroom all had pink tablecloths covered with hundreds of hearts and arrangements of red chrysanthemums with a tall red stem on which blossomed a big heart with the table number. Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians played for dancing and his wife Virginia joined Marianne's table. Marianne's sister, Dorothy, a pretty blonde, was there with her husband, New York newspaper man Al Buck.

CJA Celebrity Ball

Close to 500 supporters of Combined Jewish Appeal attended the CJA Celebrity Ball Saturday night, a benefit for the appeal's 56 welfare organizations. The hardest work done all evening at the Fontainebleau was probably the energetic cha-cha-cha.

There was no need for a receiving line since guests flocked around the three chairmen and their attractive wives. Jay I. Kislak's tall stautuesque wife Beverly has been as busy as he has of late, as chairman of the South Miami Elementary School PTA art exhibit. Sue Stevens, another tall gal, came with her chairman husband Bernard and Laurence Tisch was accompanied by his fine-featured wife Billie.

Jack Carner, general campaign chairman, appeared to be an excellent man to take shopping. "Antique jewelry affects him like catnip does a cat," said his wife. As a result, her throat was set off by a pendant of clustered heart-shaped diamonds which had belonged to the mistress of Emperor Franz Joseph of Austria. The Carners found the pendant in Vienna eight years ago.

For the most part gowns were short but floor length sheaths were worn by Sue Berkowitz and Mrs. Sam M. Rost, hers a silver threaded white satin. Glitter was everywhere — in the brocade bodice of Mrs. Leo Eisenstein's chiffon skirted gown, in the aqua and gold sari cloth gown worn by Mrs. Joseph Cohen, and on the gold pins engraved with their names worn by each of the hostesses.

A Christening Party

Herald Society Editor

PERSON TO PERSON

Spines tingled with excitement when the Scottish Piper, incidentally a woman, the drummer, and three Scottish lads, all in kilts, came marching into the Boathouse for the launching of Maud and Mac (William) McKnight's handsome new boat, Scotchie III.

Mr. McKnight is the Scotch Tape King and chairman of the board of the Minneapolis Mining and Manufacturing Company. This was his first launching and he did it up in style at a boatyard on NW 11th St. There was a long bar and equally long buffet table decorated with ice figures and champagne flowing like the Miami River. The 85-foot houseboat has four staterooms, each with its own elaborate bath. She has two, 12 cylinder diesels, the first made by General Motors for a pleasure boat and is costing Mac a mere $400,000. C. E. Osborne and his pretty wife were on hand from Detroit. He's a GM vice president.

Down from Minnesota for the the launching were the McKnight's daughter, Ginney, her husband Jim Binger and their three children, Mac, Judy and Cynthia.

Ginney Binger, wearing yellow shantang with a flowered sweater, and her mother, in royal blue and white, were presented with arm bouquets of pink carnations when they stepped up to the prow of the Scotchie for the ceremony. Ginney was handed a gaily wrapped bottle of champagne. She took one swing and missed but on the second try she corrected and wine popped, bubbled and foamed.

Many of the McKnight's guests dashed over from Hialeah and after the launching rushed back for the Widener, a nice compliment to the host. Youngest guests there were two small daughters of the houseboat captain, J. F. Manson and his wife. They were Sandra, 2, and Linda, 9, wearing frilly blue organdy dresses, hats and white gloves.

Long time friends of the McKnight's, Marge and Nate Hunt recalled the day they had launched their fishing boat at the same boatyard. With Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hooper was their daughter, Mrs. Walter Truettner. George Ritter, president of the Surf Club, and his wife Mary were on hand. During the cocktail hour before the launching, an orchestra played Scotch ballads and after the Scotchie had been christened the 200 guest joined the orchestra in singing, "O Bring Back My Scotchie to Me."

With Mrs. Robert Butler were her pretty daughter, Catherine, and her husband Joe Ringland Jr., here for a visit from Minnesota. Mrs. David Molloy, the Lowry Walls, and Mary and Dick Plumer were a few cheering the launching.

Whom will Cinderella's slipper fit at the Cinderella Ball in the "King's Palace" at Coral Gables Country Club on Saturday? The lucky one will find out when the Cinderella dance is performed.

Jet-Propelled Visit

Jet-borne from Needham and Boston were Helen and Charles F. Potter, who arrived Friday to visit his mother, Mrs. Charles P. Potter and the Levi Gardners at their home on Collins Ave.

After their stay here, they will go to St. Petersburg for ten days to visit Helen Potter's mother, Mrs. Clarkson Earl, before returning to Massachusetts.

Mrs. Potter directs debutante parties and weddings.

RX for "Une Affaire de Coeur" to be taken with cocktails and buffet, says an invitation from Katie (Mrs. Fred) Rank who is sparking a series of these parties at the Miami Heart Institute. This one is set for Thursday, 6 'til 8.

Dr. J. Holden Beckwith, retiring chairman of the advisory board of El Centro Club, was honored at a dinner party with the first life membership given by the Club.

Surf Provides a Background

Cocktails under the palms to the tune of the surf rolling in was on the agenda for Cele (Mrs. Harry) Anderson when she entertained outside her villa at the Gulfstream.

Cele Anderson

The hostess is from Pittsburgh and many of her guests were from the now smokeless city. They included Adm. Ben Moreell and his daughter, Pat, Betty and Gurdon Flagg, the Tom Browns, all of whom have villas at the Gulfstream.

Next Wednesday the Admiral is having his plane sent down from Pittsburgh to fly him, Pat and Mrs. Anderson back north.

* * *

Here for their annual sojourn in Miami Beach are Gen. and Mrs. Omar Bradley of Washington. They arrived last week and are staying at the Kenilworth House in Bal Harbour.

* * *

Communique from Lillian Garrett says she is in Palm Beach visiting Dolly O'Brien, "having a wonderful time" and will arrive in Miami Beach soon.

How Can I Entertain Guests?

DEAR MRS. RICKER:

I am a girl of 15 and I live on a farm. I want to have a party and plan to invite about 30 boys and girls.

Can you suggest ways to entertain my guests? I don't want to have a dancing party. Do kids my age think games are too childish? If you think games are O.K. will you please suggest some that we can play?

Which is the best way to invite the kids? Should I let the girls invite the boys they like?

Or should I ask certain boys to bring certain girls or what?

NANCY

I think the best way to invite your friends to your party is by mailed invitation.

Since you know them well, you also will probably know 'who likes who' in the group so that should take care of the boy-girl situation.

As for games to play, I have a booklet "GROUP GAMES FOR PARTIES," which will help you.

The games in the booklet have been tried and tested by groups of teen-agers with whom I have worked personally. The booklet also contains suggestions for ice-breakers, party stunts and inexpensive refreshments. Just send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed, envelope with your request for "GROUP GAMES FOR PARTIES" to me in care of The Miami Herald.

Memos for Men

SIZING-UP: To properly measure your sock size in inches, check the length of sock on a ruler from the point of the toe to the end of the heel . . . You can measure your hand for glove size by placing a tape around the knuckles with fist closed.

* * *

HI-FI FANS: Do not despair if one of your favorite records has become warped. You can get it back in shape in this manner: Place it on a flat surface with a piece of glass atop it. The heat of the sun will soften the disk and the weight of the glass will flatten the record back into shape.

* * *

DRESS TIP: It's the little things that count toward good grooming. Among those of importance are shined shoes, neat haircut, creased trousers, sleeves without creases (ask your tailor to "roll" 'them); and the combining of suit and tie that contrast well.

Piquant Lamb Chops Bake in Aluminum Foil

Lamb Chops Are Baked with Unusual Coating
. . . serve with accents of carrots and snap beans

By JEANNE VOLTZ
Herald Homemaking Editor

This morning's Herald has a new look, a sheet of aluminum foil among the usual black and white pages.

Daily Food Guide

You can use this foil many ways. One is as wrapper for Baked Lamb Chops Piquant. Chops are coated with a seasoned crumb and chopped egg mixture, then wrapped individually for baking.

It's a flavorful dish for a hungry family.

FAMILY DINNER

Baked Lamb Chops Piquant
Buttered Carrots
Frenched Snap Beans
Mixed Vegetable Salad
Heated French Bread
Fruit Compote, Cookies

The lamb chops bake extra juicy and tender in their individual packets.

BAKED LAMB CHOPS PIQUANT

2 hard-cooked eggs, shelled
½ cup butter or margarine
6 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs
2 teaspoons minced onion
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
4 loin lamb chops, 1 inch thick

Chop whites of eggs fine. Rub yolks through sieve. Melt butter in fry pan. Add crumbs and onion. Cook until lightly browned. Add salt, pepper Worcestershire sauce and eggs. Blend well.

Pat crumb mixture on one side of each chop. Place a square of aluminum foil on top, turn and pat mixture on second side. Wrap square of foil around each chop. Place in a shallow baking pan. Add no water. Do not cover. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) 1 hour. Turn back foil and serve. Makes 4 servings.

Chic West German Style Imports Here

By BEVERLEY WILSON
Herald Fashion Editor

European fashions from a new source, West Germany, are now available in Miami in quantity.

These styles all are elegant, wearable and original. West Germany formerly had been exporting mostly knit clothing and accessories.

The new German fashions range from short cotton playdresses, with such frivolous touches as white eyelet pantelets showing below the hems, to the most elaborate silk ballgowns. The collections also include many chic tailored coats and suits.

One of this area's most enthusiastic supporters of the new German fashion industry is designer and importer Florence Lustig.

"It's an amazing industry to see," she said. "After the war it was completely devastated and facilities were practically non-existent.

"But in 12 short years, with the help of U.S. funds, West Germany has become the largest producer of ladies apparel in Europe. Today 2,000 manufacturers employ 150,000 workers and their exports amount to $15 million annually."

I AM 67

'My Life Is Useless'

Thought for the Day

"When we destroy an old prejudice, we have need of a new virtue." —Mad. de Stael.

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

I am 67 and hate growing old. My children have left to live their own lives, and don't need me any more.

My life is useless. What is the purpose of it?

Is this the way others feel as they age, or is it just me? What shall I do?

SAD AND PERPLEXED

"Never before have such a large number of persons in a single population been expected to live through middle age into later maturity as in the American population today."

This is a direct quote from a study discussion series, "Aging in the Modern World," by Clark Tibbitts, chairman of the National Committee on Aging, Washington, and Dr. Wilma Donahue, head of the division of gerontology at the University of Michigan.

These studies have also found that it's what you have left, not what you have lost, that counts.

Yes, it takes courage to grow older, and I'm wondering how many of our senior they will tell YOU, Sad and Perplexed. What purpose does a woman, or man, have at 67?

* * *

'Please Say Prayer for Me'

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

So many people write to you with their troubles when really, they have none.

I have multiple sclerosis, am now in a wheel chair. A year ago my son, age 20, was hospitalized and diagnosed as a diabetic. In April my husband was operated on and found to have cancer. He came home to die in November, but he is still with us, suffering terribly.

I have two girls, 5 and 8. I am getting desperate, but I know God will send up help and see me through.

So, if so many who think they have troubles will stop and say a prayer for themselves, and slip a little one in the corner for me, I am sure we will benefit.

DOWN BUT NOT OUT.

You are so right — our own troubles never look so small until we take stock of the other fellow's.

* * *

'Mother-in-Law Saved Marriage'

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

After 22 years of up and down marriage, let me put in a word of commendation for the much maligned mother-in-law.

Mine deserves tremendous credit for the success of our marital happiness. The first serious rift occurred in the second year of our marriage, but my understanding mother-in-law did not take sides.

Instead, she discussed the problem with me and convinced me to try again. I've never regretted it.

It seems trite to say that she is from the old school, because our modern mothers-in-law are just as wise. But I feel her old-fashioned beliefs were the guide that have been so successful.

Perhaps our marriage would have endured despite the setbacks, for my wife and I are so much in love, but the sweetest mother-in-law in Miami was good insurance.

GRATEFUL

It's always a pleasure to pay tribute to the "good" in-laws.

Certainly your mother-in-law's example should be a cheering one, and one to emulate, for all the Sad and Perplexeds in the world.

Eleanor Hart.

Column With a Heart welcomes discussion of your problems, and your replies to the problems of others. Write to Eleanor Hart, The Miami Herald, Miami, Fla.

The Garson Kanins Look Forward to New Play

By NORA OPHULS
Herald Staff Writer

Actress Ruth Gordon and her director-playwright husband Garson Kanin fled New York's cold last week to work on their autumn project at the Fontainebleau. Only the sun out-shone the gleam in their eyes.

Kanin, who is probably best known for his play of 1946 Born Yesterday, is about to import La Bonne Soupe, a "tough, acid, terribly funny play" which has been playing to capacity audiences in Paris since October.

He'll adapt and direct it and Miss Gordon will play one of the two major female roles in the French piece about a woman's downfall set at the Monte Carlo gaming tables.

Ruth Gordon

The Kanins are a remarkable pair. They have had a happy 17 year marriage despite his being 16 years younger than his wife (he's 47). Together they wrote two films, Adams Rib and A Double Life, which was nominated for an Academy Award in 1948. Kanin directed in 1946 Miss Gordon's long-run play Years Ago which starred Fredric March and Florence Eldridge.

Separately they've made their mark in the arts, too. Miss Gordon, who made her New York stage debut in 1915 as Nibs in Peter Pan, starred five years ago in The Matchmaker in London and Berlin, the following year in New York. Kanin, previously limited to the stage and films, wrote a new adaptation in English and directed Die Fledermaus for the Metropolitan Opera in 1950.

The Kanins headed home to New York, then will go to Paris to study La Bonne Soupe. They plan to open the play in Toronto in September, then bring it to Boston, Washington and New York.

"We haven't been in Miami for 10 years," said Garson Kanin, "but we're not going to let 10 years go by again. We hope some day to settle here."

Can the Men Sell More?

PARIS — (WNS) — To encourage sagging business, couturiers here have agreed to try out men as sales personnel to augment their usual feminine sales force.

The first four prefer to be known only by their first names: Igor, Jean-Paul, Pierre and Andre-Georges.

Igor is a White Russian prince who knows the social elite. Jean-Paul is a handsome actor who wants to try out a new role. Pierre is an interior decorator who prefers to decorate women.

And Andre-Georges? "I'm only a good salesman," he reported.

Inventor's Widow Lives Here

The widow of the man who invented the Waring Blendor, Frederick J. Osius, is living in Miami Beach.

Mrs. Osius, 1625-41 Washington Ave., dropped by The Herald after a story about Bandleader Fred Waring appeared in the paper.

Her husband invented the appliance in the kitchen of their home on the Beach in 1932 and patented in in 1937. The next year, Waring put up money for its manufacture and arranged a royalty contract with Osius.

The appliance was named after Waring rather than the inventor, Mrs. Osius said, because all concerned throught the famous Waring name would be a selling point.

Salvage Values Hit Tax

Your Income Tax

By SYLVIA PORTER
Financial Analyst
In Collaboration with the Research Institute of America

If you use depreciable property — machinery, cars, factories, etc. — in your business, watch out for a Treasury drive to cut your depreciation deductions. The chief weapon of attack is to question the salvage value you have or haven't been using to compute your depreciation.

SYLVIA

How does salvage value affect your depreciation? For an easy clue, consider how you depreciate a $4,000 business car with a four-year useful life. If you forget salvage value, you deduct $1,000 a year from your taxable income in each of four years. But suppose you can reasonably expect to sell the car for $1,000 at the end of four years. That's its salvage value, and under the law you can depreciate only $3,000 of your cost — which cuts your deductions from $1,000 to $750 a year for four years.

What difference does this make to your pocketbook? If you should take the extra $1,000 of deductions, it would cut your ordinary income tax. Then, on selling the car, you would have a $1,000 profit presumably taxable as a long-term capital gain. In the 50 per cent tax bracket, a businessman would save $500 from the deductions and pay only $250 on the profit for a net cash profit of $250.

If you didn't take the extra $1,000 of depreciation because it represented salvage value, there would be no $250 tax because there would be no profit on the sale of the car, but neither would there be $1,000 more of deductions to save $500 in taxes. This way, you're out $250.

In addition to hitting businessmen who have been taking no salvage value, the Treasury is questioning situations where an actual selling price turns out to be higher than the original estimate of salvage value. And a Circuit Court is supporting it in this new drive.

When final salvage price tops the original salvage estimate, the businessman has the same advantage of offsetting ordinary deductions with capital gains taxes as when no salvage at all is used.

The court says that when the business asset is sold at or near the end of its useful life at above the original salvage estimate, the Treasury is justified in using the higher selling price as the salvage value for the year of sale. This may eliminate or minimize the possibility of offsetting capital gains with ordinary deductions.

In 1958, two other important points were made on depreciation.

One concerns the 200 per cent declining balance method of depreciation which enables a businessman to start off depreciation at twice the ordinary straight line rate, but each year reduces the cost subject to depreciation. The Treasury had ruled that this kind of depreciation ends when the cost of the asset has been reduced by depreciation deductions to its salvage value, but a court now says the Treasury is wrong and the 200 per cent declining balance method cannot be limited by salvage value. Under this decision, a businessman who qualifies for and uses the 200 per cent method can avoid arguments about salvage value and, because of the larger depreciation deductions in the earlier years, he also may be able to come up with an ordinary deduction-capital gain break which is possible when the straight line depreciation method is used.

The court made another key point in answering the question: "How long is the useful life of an asset?"

The Treasury argued and the court agreed that the useful life of business assets should be based on each businessman's own experience with such assets, if possible, rather than on some general average figure. If a certain type of car is considered to have a normal useful life of four years, for instance, a businessman who replaces these cars every three years would use three years as his useful life in depreciating the cars.

Incidentally, this opens an odd possibility. A person with a life expectancy of 15 years may buy a new building with a normal useful life of 30 years. Under the Treasury-court view, he might argue that the useful life of the building to him is only 15 years, thereby doubling the amount of depreciation deduction for each year.

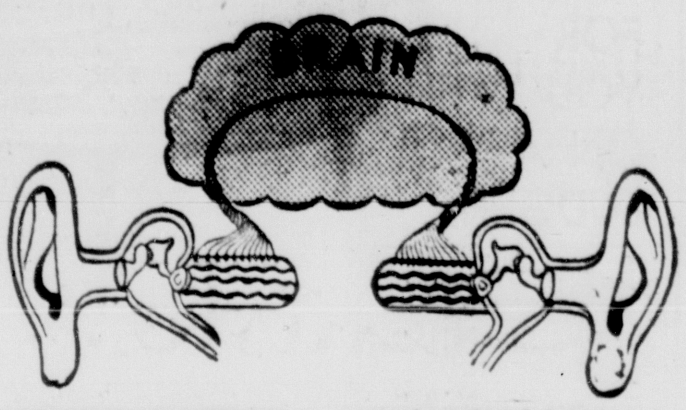
Hearing Aids to Fit All Needs and Budgets Available at Acousticon



NATURE'S PATHWAY to normal, natural hearing is shown in the drawing above. Many new methods of restoring hearing loss are described in the accompanying article.

"How can I tell which hearing aid is the best for me?"

"That is the big question asked by many people when they learn they have a hearing deficiency and read the advertisements expounding the virtues of many hearing aids," says Sidney Carlysle, Southern Florida Division Manager for Dictograph Products, manufacturers of Acousticon Hearing aids, and owner of Acousticon of Southern Florida.

"People come to us daily who have been shopping," Carlysle continued, "and are confused by the many claims they have read or heard. Often they are at the verge of giving up. There is only one answer, and it so often is overlooked.

"First, correcting a hearing loss actually is a scientific process, and the tests conducted today very simply and quickly determine the degree of hearing loss the individual has, and in what frequencies these losses are most prevelant. Then the hearing aid specialist must determine what particular fitting will most adequately compensate for that particular hearing loss.

"At the same time, the specialist tries to present the hearing correction in the type of aid which each person would most like to wear. There are many kinds: hearing aids built in the temples of their eyeglasses; aids so tiny they hide behind the ear, weighing less than one-quarter of an ounce, curved so cunningly that it "hugs" the ear and won't move when the head is shaken; another aid which can be worn completely in the ear. Then there are aids women wear in their hair and aids men wear like a tie clasp. Some people have greater hearing losses which require them to wear the 'powerhouse.'

"Of course, the greatest thing today is binaural hearing . . . that is fitting both ears with an aid. This is done wonderfully and comfortably with the hearing aid glasses. This provides directional hearing—which means you not only hear and understand, but you know from which direction speech is coming.

"Second, in selecting the right aid, be sure you select the right company. There are so many, some excellent, old, established companies, like Acousticon, which has been serving the hard of hearing for over 57 years with a continued record of satisfied customer service and dependability and others of more recent vintage.

"This is the customer's best guarantee that his purchase will have the backing of not only the person selling it (which is in itself extremely important), but also a company with a proven reputation of taking care of their customers no matter where they may be.

"Third, is a very important point. Many people overlook service. No hearing aid, regardless of the price paid, is any better than the service it and its office can render you. A hearing aid is an electronic miracle, but, even miracles need attention.

"Be sure the aid of your choice can render this immediate, on-the-spot service. We maintain a factory trained electronic engineer with a completely equipped service department, where we take care of our Acousticon aids, as well as other make aids, while the customer waits.

"One of Acousticon's special features is its ability to satisfactorily fit nerve type hearing losses. These cases require special care and training in fitting and the full utilization of Acousticon's exclusive 21 different toned receivers to meet each case. There is no mass production, cure-all fitting that answers all needs. This is the most difficult fact to make people understand, yet it seems so self-evident, for I could not wear your glasses, nor you wear mine.

"Yes, hearing aids have come a long way since Mrs. Carlysle and I first started helping the hard of hearing folks nearly 30 years ago. The transistor, developed by the Bell Telephone Laboratories and given to the hearing aid industry, truly revolutionized hearing aids."

A free office or home hearing test may be secured by phoning FRanklin 9-5329, or visiting Acousticon of Southern Florida, 123 SE Second Ave.

"On hand for any of your engine problems are experienced mechanics. We also have competent carpenters, painters and handymen to take care of any minor, or major, repairs.

"Complete engine overhaul is another popular Atlantic Marine service. We are equipped to overhaul any make engine. All replacement parts which may be needed are supplied by our own parts department, managed by Bill Behenna.

"Chris-Craft engines, featuring the new V-8, are our specialty. We also have a number of excellent, factory rebuilt engines of all sizes.

"Currently we are featuring the new Chris-Craft Cavalier boats. This is the boat you may see at our booth at the Boat Show in Dinner Key Auditorium this week."

For Cars with Power Accessories . . .
The Answer to Your Battery Problems
An inadequate generating system is the basic cause of battery troubles. The increasing load of accessories takes more current out of the battery than a conventional d.c. generator can put back in. On vehicles, slow driving, long idling periods and short trips aggravate battery trouble. The result is a dead battery — frequent recharging and resulting in short battery life. A costly, heavy-duty battery is no solution.
The Answer Is Replacement Of The Conventional D.C. Generator With The Revolutionary L-N ALTERNATOR SYSTEM.
Your vehicle will always start easily because the battery will be used for starting only. And the battery will last much longer. L-N Alternator Systems generate ample current for the electrical load. POWER 2-WAY Radio and electrical accessories without battery troubles.

Jams Near Airport Spur Bridge Petition

Bumper-to-bumper traffic jams in the vicinity of Miami International Airport are getting worse now that the new terminal has been opened, HIALEAH and MIAMI SPRINGS officials said Sunday.

Long waits to get across intersections in the area have been particularly acute from about 3 p.m., when airline workers begin their treks home, until about 7:30.

A group of Eastern Airlines mechanics started the ball rolling on a petition to hurry construction of a bridge they believe would bust the bottle neck. It would span the canal at Hialeah's Eighth Ave. and LeJeune Rd.

The petition passed on to Pan American and National Air Lines workers, contains about 2,300 names and has been presented to County Commissioner Joe Boyd.

"We could have gotten many more names," Fernand (Fred) Campiglia, EAL mechanic spokesman said.

County Traffic Engineer George Kunde said Sunday he thinks the overpass bridge would be the answer to the problem.

"Winston Carleton state road engineer in Fort Lauderdale) already has the final designs of the bridge," Kunde said. "But it's something that's at least a year and a half away.

"What we would like to do immediately is to put some new signals in the area," Kunde added. "But first the county Public Works Department must acquire some right of way for us in the first block west of LeJeune Rd. north of 36th St.

"I'd like to see everybody concerned sit down and talk this out, so we could speed it up," Kunde said.

Such a meeting would take a pretty big hall.

Beach Fights Over Old Sol

MIAMI BEACH has fought, battled, screamed and debated just about everything.

It was inevitable it would eventually get around to the sun.

As Beach hotels soar higher to make the most of skyrocketing land costs, the buildings cast shadows. City Manager Morris Lipp has been holding hearings with ocean front property owners to get ideas for an ordinance for the preservation of the Beach's biggest box office commodity — old sol.

One man jumped up at a hearing and claimed the shadow business is just a fight between the Eden Roc and the Fontainebleau.

An architect displayed some cardboard models of buildings with their tops whacked off at odd angles so as to minimize shadows. One man protested they weren't pretty.

Former councilman Sam Halperin then got up to say that, like it or not, the beach will one day be mostly multi-story luxury apartment houses that will replace single family residences.

People will drive their cars underneath the big buildings and take elevators to their apartments, he predicted.

Councilman Is Unopposed

NORTH MIAMI BEACH Councilman Joe Miller Jr. who is up for reelection this April, is going unopposed so far in his district. "It's too good to be true," says Joe . . . The big question-mark is whether Mayor Dan Diefenbach will run again or retire to go into business . . . North Miamians will take a good look at their police protection now that the Court of Appeals has ruled that the City Council fired eight policemen to stay within a reduced budget. The police say their patrol car shifts are going to be inadequate but the council sticks to its contention that it will work out . . . Roland M. Stafford, president of the NORTH MIAMI Chamber of Commerce, reports that his group is promoting a project to transform 125th St. into another Lincoln Rd. "The city of Hollywood has just completed a similar project and we hope to do the same thing," said Stafford. He also reports that the county will begin construction of two bridges in 1959 which will improve traffic conditions. They will be built at 135th St. across the river and across Biscayne Canal at NE 6th Ave. . . .

Amendment Voting Put Off

SURFSIDE'S charter amendment election originally scheduled for Tuesday has been postponed to March 17 to give the citizens more time to study the proposals. Among other things the charter changes would hike salaries of councilmen from $25 per month to $25 per meeting, not to exceed $100. It would empower the council to regulate the sale and possession of firearms. Another proposed change would permit Surfsiders to register and vote there in municipal elections without first being qualified in the county and the state . . . There hasn't been a peep out of GOLDEN BEACH since Civic Leader Frank Earnest threatened to test the legality of a local law that permits even non-residents of the U.S. to vote . . . That Urban Renewal report comes before the CORAL GABLES city commission Tuesday.

Adlai Sees Red Race In Siberia

NEW YORK—(AP)—Adlai Stevenson said Sunday that if the Russians don't develop and populate their vast empty spaces in Siberia and vicinity the Chinese may.

Stevenson warned, however, against underestimating the solidarity of Moscow and Peiping at this time.

The two-time Democratic nominee for President recalled mentioning while visiting the Soviet Union that the U.N. had estimated that China's population by the year 2000 would be 1,600,000,000.

"My Russian host jumped to his feet and lifted his vodka glass and said: 'All the more reason for better Russian-American relations.' "

Stevenson appeared with Barbara Ward (Lady Robert Jackson), former foreign affairs editor of the London Economist, and Edward Crankshaw, Russian expert of the London Observer, on CBS-TV's "Small World" program.

Moderated by Edward R. Murrow, the program was filmed with Stevenson in San Francisco, Miss Ward in Honolulu, and Crankshaw in Sandhurst, England. Murrow was in New York.

After Miss Ward and Crankshaw mentioned the proximity of Russia's empty spaces and Red China's millions, Stevenson agreed that this "can only invite Soviet anxiety." But he added:

"I think it would be a mistake for us to rely too heavily on the possibility of dividing them."

Stevenson said the Soviet Union is making extraordinary efforts to develop Siberia now.

"If they don't fill it up, if they don't develop it, if they dont' populate it, the Chinese may," he commented.

N.Y. Cubans Halt March

NEW YORK —(AP)— About 1,500 supporters of Fidel Castro turned up Sunday at Idlewild Airport to greet 10 members of the Cuban army who arrived for a good will tour.

In the excitement of the welcome, the Spanish-chattering throng formed ahead of the bus, in which the soldiers rode from the airport, to march triumphantly into Manhattan.

Responding to the cordial welcome, Maj. Camilo de Cienfuegos, chief of the Cuban Army staff, hopped out of the bus to join the march.

"It's about 18 miles, you know, from Idlewild into the heart of Manhattan," someone told the major.

De Cienfuegos nodded gravely, reconsidered, and returned to the bus. The information spread quickly through the crowd, and the others also gave up the marching idea.

Peronista Radio Foils Frondizi

BUENOS AIRES — (AP) — Now you hear it . . . now you don't.

It's a mysterious little radio station with a strange voice that pops up on the airwaves shouting something like "Viva Peron."

The Argentine public is intrigued. The cops are going crazy. They don't allow that kind of Peron talk around here.

Juan Peron is the dictator who was ousted by revolution in 1955. He is now in exile in the Dominican Republic.

The Peronistas caused all sorts of trouble for the military regime which ran the country for three years after Peron was kicked out.

Several weeks ago a monitor in the communications department of the federal police picked up an eye-opening broadcast. A voice suddenly popped up on the air with all sorts of "vivas" for Peron and heaps of insults for the Frondizi government.

The alarm was sounded. The police order was precise: Find that station and haul in the offenders.

But the dragnet failed to catch its prey. The cops are irked. The public is thoroughly enjoying the chase.

The station popped up again Friday night, weak but audible. The broadcasters squeezed their hit-and-run show on the air between well-known stations.

Police headquarters sprang to the alert. Radio experts zeroed in the broadcast site. The police captain, the communications boss, 20 cops, an infantry brigade and 10 secret service men roared out at midnight for the kill.

The hunt centered at Mataderos, an industrial and meat packing zone of Buenos Aires. The police forces circled an entire block. They closed in for the catch. The broadcast apparently had come from a juice mixer factory with a tall chimney ideally suited for supporting an antenna.

But once again, the cops came home empty-handed.

MARRIAGE PROBLEMS ARE MAINLY SEX PROBLEMS!

2. CAN ART HELP EMOTIONALLY DISTURBED PEOPLE?
YES ☐ NO ☐
3. A GROUP'S EFFICIENCY IS MEASURED BY MUTUAL TRUST!
TRUE ☐ FALSE ☐

By S. M. DUVALL and EVELAN M. DUVALL, Ph.Ds

RIGHT, BUT NOT in the way most people think. Husbands and wives have trouble in getting along with each other because they lack clear and sound ideas of what it should mean to be a man, or a woman. As a result, both of them feel uneasy. Even when they truly love each other, they may engage in a kind of continuous war through such means as "cracks" and "snide" remarks, "forgetfulness" or even "accidents." Clearing up this "sex war" is often the first essential to good adjustment.

2. Yes, says Psychotherapist Lucile Potts. She had groups of emotionally disturbed people make pictures as if they were dreams. Through these pictures they expressed the feeling of hostility and guilt that they had repressed. Discussions on the pictures with other members of the group and the therapist helped them to get feelings, that otherwise would have been too painful, out in the open where they could be dealt with.

3. True. Psychologist Glen Mellinger made an especial study of research workers in a large government laboratory. He found that when they failed to trust each other, they were likely to hold back important facts, especially about the way they felt and about their willingness to cooperate. As a result, they would often work at cross purposes and it was hard to get anything done. Real confidence enabled them, not only to pull together but what is often more important, to see clearly and together.

Beauchamp Wins '500'

By Herald Wire Services

DAYTONA BEACH—Johnny Beauchamp, a gritty 35-year-old from Harlan, Iowa, tooled his 1959 Ford Thunderbird to a virtual photo finish victory Sunday over Lee Petty of Randleman, N.C., in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes for late model hardtops and convertibles at Daytona International Speedway.

Trailing by inches roaring past the grandstand, the tall Iowan took advantage of the track's slope as he pulled toward the infield. The added momentum put the nose of his car ahead of Petty's 1959 Oldsmobile at the finish.

More than six hours after the race ended, Bill France, president of the speedway and the National Association of Stock Car Racers (NASCAR), said results would be ruled unofficial pending examination of photographs and movies of the finish.

Ten minutes after the race ended, the public address system and the electric scoreboard both announced to 47,000 spectators that Beauchamp was official winner.

Officials first announced an average time of 135.75 miles-an-hour for the race but later corrected it to 135.521. The fastest time for a 500-mile race in this country was 135.601 by Sam Hanks at Indianapolis in 1957.

It was strictly a two-car race for the last 15 laps, with Charlie Griffith of Chattanooga, finishing far behind in third place in his 1957 Pontiac. Cotton Owens of Spartanburg, S.C., was fourth in a 1958 Pontiac. Joe Weatherly of Norfolk, in a 1959 Chevrolet, was fifth and Jim Reed, Peeksville, N.Y., 1959 Chevrolet, was sixth.

It was a profitable victory for the 197-pound Beauchamp. Prize money including bonuses from tire and oil companies amounted to well over $12,500. Petty, 44-year-old father of two boys including Dick who was in the race, won more than $7,000.

So close was the finish that no one in the crowd estimated at 47,000 was sure of the winner until the official announcement. Beauchamp and Petty had raced practically in a close tandem for the last 40 miles over the 2½-mile asphalt-coated track, first one and then the other holding the lead.

Johnny Beauchamp (73) Battles Lee Petty for Lead

. . . pushes Thunderbird 135.521 mph to win Daytona race

Their finely tuned machines stood up beautifully under a pace which sent many of the 58 starting cars limping to the pit. Beauchamp made four pit stops, all for gasoline, although he changed two tires during the gas stops.

Only 32 of the starting cars were on the track at the finish.

Fireball Roberts of Daytona Beach, driving a 1959 Pontiac and starting far back in post position 43, took the lead as expected after he could weave his way through the heavy traffic, and set a sizzling pace. At the end of 40 laps his average speed was 143.08 m.p.h.

The pace eventually killed off his own car. Roberts lost 15 laps in the pits with a broken piston, and although he eventually returned to the race, he failed to finish.

Tom Pistone of Chicago, in a 1959 Thunderbird, at one time led the field, as did Jack Smith of Atlanta in a 1959 Chevrolet.

Pistone was the real hard luck champ when it came to tires. He used 13 during the race.

Beauchamp, who had never driven a Ford in competition before, was second in the Grand National Beach race here in 1957, and in 1956 he won 38 of 57 starts mostly in the Midwest.

Other top 10 finishers in order:

Joe Weatherly, Norfolk, Va., 1959 Chevrolet.
Jim Reed, Peekskill, N.Y., 1959 Chevrolet.
Jack Smith, Atlanta, 1959 Chevrolet.
Tom Pistone, Chicago, 1959 Thunderbird.
Tim Flock, Atlanta, 1959 Thunderbird.
Speedy Thompson, Charlotte, N.C., 1957 Chevrolet.

A Scow With No Crew? No Matter How It Looks, Six Are Aboard

. . . Harry Melges' 38-footer wins fourth race in elapsed time

Olsen's Catamaran Leads One-Of-A-Kind Sailing

By LUTHER EVANS
Herald Sports Writer

A catamaran built expressively "to maintain America's prestige against British sailors" continued to get the job done Sunday in Yachting Magazine's One-of-a-Kind Regatta — but the task wasn't easy.

In fact, first-place Eric Olsen of Essex, Conn., got all the trouble he could handle from English designer-builder R. S. Prout and a partially broken rudder on Olsen's Tigercat.

Prout, considered one of the world's foremost catamaran authorities, gave Olsen "a lesson in how to sail a cat" while winning the day's first heat in white-capped Biscayne Bay.

In the second race, a broken gudgeon and a resultant loose, dragging rudder had Olsen wondering whether he'd finish at all, much less beat the British invader for the third time in four heats.

But he did by urging Tigercat around a seven-mile triangular course at a speed that rival helmsmen called "fantastic" for a 17-foot craft.

Thus, Olsen owns three first-place finishes and a second in corrected time going into today's final heat in the Yachting Magazine-sponsored handicap competition.

He's in no position, however, to breathe easy or have rigging trouble. Prout's Cougar Cat, brought over from Southampton, England, is now second with corrected time finishes of 2-3-1-3.

Further proving that catamarans are the class of the 39-boat fleet of as many designs, another Prout-conceived cat, W. S. Whittet's Shearwater III holds down third position. She has finished, in order, third, second, fourth and second.

As expected, a 38-foot E Scow skippered by Harry Melges of Zenda, Wis., finished first for the fourth successive race but not by enough to save her time.

In fact, flopping rudder and all, Olsen and his talented crewman, Glenn Foster, had Tigercat out-footing the scratch entrant on the second heat's final reach in 20-mile northeast winds.

Melges completed the course in 51 minutes, 45 seconds, less than a minute ahead of Tigercat which finished in 52.43.

Looking back up course and spotting Prout's boat among Tigercat's victims, Owner William Cox of Darion, Conn., said:

"Desinger Bob Harris and I put our ideas into this catamaran for one big reason. We know the English had done so well with cats and that Prout had built his particularly for the One-of-a-Kind.

"Knowing he was in fair shape to sweep the regatta, we built Tigercat in an effort to maintain America's prestige against British sailors. I'm glad we got here in time."

See complete race chart on page 2-D.

Olsen, who will enter production of Tiger class catamarans with Cox once they decide the few bugs in the prototype are worked out, had two points of make:

"Glenn Foster is a great sailor. Anything that goes wrong, he gets right immediately."

"We're both carrying scratches from trying to get acquainted with this cat."

In fourth place is Lou Whitman of Brooklyn, an incredible 53-year-old "acrobat" sailing a canoe which often capsized but is always brought upright to resume the chase.

In speed trials over a seven-tenths mile reaching course in gusty winds following Sunday's heats, Paul Lindenberg of West Palm Beach turned in the fastest time, 2 minutes, 3.7 seconds. That figures out to something like 21 miles per hour.

Despite lighter air, Oslon was second best with the amazing Tigercat, going the distance in 2 minutes, 6 seconds.

Flamingoes Snare Orioles', Rookie Opener

DON EWIN, 20-year-old rookie outfielder from Culver City, Calif, and Jerry Adair, 22-year-old shortstop candidate from Sand Springs, Okla., slammed three-baggers Sunday in the Baltimore Orioles' first 1959 intra-squad game at Miami Stadium.

The all-rookie exhibition also featured stellar pitching strings by righthanders Jerry Walker, Ada, Okla., Chuck Estrada, Santa Margarita, Calif., and Wes Stock, Allyn, Wash.

Coach Harry Brecheen's Flamingoes defeated Coach Luman Harris' Tarpons, 9-4.

The impressive speed of Ewin, Barry Shetrone of Baltimore and Marv Breeding of Decatur, Ala., has been the talk of Manager Paul Richards' week-long rookie instructional camp.

Baltimore's spring training program will take on more of a varsity flavor today when regular batterymen are due to report for their initial drill. Infielders and outfielders are scheduled to work out for the first time on Thursday.

Dick Savitt

. . . experience pays

Savitt, Olmedo Win, Clash for Net Title

NEW YORK—(AP)—Davis Cup ace Alex Olmedo and Defending Champion Dick Savitt smashed into the final round of the National Indoor Tennis Championships Sunday. Olmedo cut down Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, 6-2, 8-6, 6-4, while Savitt ousted teen-ager Earl Buchholz of St. Louis 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

MacKay, whom Olmedo beat out for a singles starting berth on last year's victorious Davis Cup team, was no match for the swarthy Peruvian.

Not once in the entire match did MacKay manage to break Olmedo's service. From the very first stroke, Olmedo was on the offensive — quick with his strokes, unfailing in his anticipation and cat-like in his moves.

If the armory lights bothered Olmedo — and he complained a couple of times — they certainly didn't hurt his game.

MacKay, on the other hand, never could get a sustained offensive going. He was left flat-footed by literally dozens of sharp cross-court shots and when he did manage a good stroke, Olmedo always seemed to be there to send it back.

In the first set, Olmedo broke MacKay for the first time in the fifth game, coming back from a 15-40 disadvantage. Then he broke again in the seventh game and he was on his way.

If Olmedo had any trouble at all, it was in the second set. In that one MacKay steadfastly refused to give up even though the handwriting was on the wall by this time. The set followed service until the 13th game when MacKay double-faulted to give Olmedo the advantage, then double-faulted again to give his opponent the set.

That discouraged him and it took Olmedo only until the third game of the final set to break through. MacKay made one threat in the fourth game, when he had Olmedo at 15-40. But the Southern California senior came back and whipped two aces across the net to pull even, then hold.

Gardnar Mulloy of Coral Gables gave up his men's senior title when officials refused to postpone his semifinal match against Dr. Reginald Weir. He was leading 6-2 when he defaulted. He said he had to play too many matches in one day.

Ellis Fires 67, Snares Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)— Wesley Ellis Jr., slogged through the mud to a 4-under-par 67 and grabbed first money in the $20,000 Texas Open by two strokes Sunday.

A double bogey on the last hole cost defending champion Bill Johnson of Provo, Utah, the crown. He wound up tied for second with Tom Nieporte.

Gonzales Rips Aussie

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Pro tennis champion Richard (Pancho) Gonzales Sunday throttled Australia's Mal Anderson, 6-2, 6-3, with startling backhand passing shots and his overpowering serve.

It was the first meeting of the pair in this year's North American professional tour.

Lew Hoad whipped fellow Aussie Ashley Cooper, 6-2, 6-3.

'No-Clause' Contract

Ford Signed by Yanks

ST. PETERSBURG — (AP) — With "good-conduct" clauses disclaimed by both sides, Lefthander Whitey Ford Sunday signed his 1959 contract with the New York Yankees, reportedly for a $3,000 raise to the $35,000 bracket.

The stubby southpaw, 30, whose 104-40 record gives him the highest winning percentage (.724) in the major leagues, reportedly had balked at club attempts to make the raise dependent upon his off-field habits.

But after the signing, General Manager George Weiss debunked such reports as being unfair to Ford.

"The only question was the fact that the player for the past two seasons was unable, for physical reasons, to perform for a complete season," Weiss said.

Weiss added that he still hasn't heard from Mickey Mantle, the most notable of the world champions' four unsigned players.

The GM said he had talked with Andy Carey, but that no agreement had been reached. The others unsigned are rookie Firstbaseman John Jaciuk and veteran Pitcher Virgil Trucks.

138 Paces LaGorce

Sam Girmonde and Robert Shreve tied Sunday in the Dr. John Oliver LaGorce 36-hole golf tournament at LaGorce. Girmonde posted net rounds of 65-73—138. Shreve was 68-70—138.

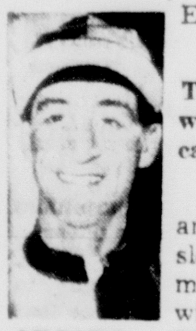
Finnegan Makes Arcaro Look Like Smart Handicapper

Eddie Arcaro sized up the California three-year-olds for us in last week's column, taking a rather dim view of Tomy Lee and rating Finnegan and Royal Orbit as the colts to watch.

Saturday's San Felipe Handicap at Santa Anita makes Eddie look like a pretty fair analyst.



ARCARO

Finnegan upset the heavily favored Tomy Lee and returned $26.10. Tomy Lee was second and Royal Orbit (ridden by Arcaro) finished third.

Remember that Eddie said Finnegan and Royal Orbit are being brought along slowly and figure to show much improvement. Both of them, along with Tomy Lee, will be headed this way for Gulfstream's Florida Derby on April 4.

Eurasia Brings Back Memories

Meanwhile, back at Hialeah; we'll get another look at Greentree's fleet Eurasia this afternoon.

On the strength of his sensational seven-furlong debut in 1:22.4-5, he'll be favored over Troilus, recent winner of the Bahamas Stakes.

It is not often that a thoroughbred captures the imagination of fans and horsemen alike the way Eurasia did in one smashing performance. Sometimes that one race leads on to greater glory; sometimes it fades into obscurity.

You may recall another three-year-old which vaulted into the limelight at Hialeah only three seasons ago.

It was Maine Chance Farm's Gun Shot, a handsome chestnut son of Hyperion. Gun Shot had won but once in eight starts. Then one afternoon, with Bobby Ussery in the irons, the Maine Chance colt streaked seven furlongs in 1:22.3-5. He scored by eight lengths, leaving Calumet's Pintor Lea and Happy Hill Farm's Kingmaker in his wake.

What's more, Gun Shot worked out a mile in a dazzling 1:34 2-5. Overnight he was the darling of the clockers and the talk of the turf world.

* * *

Favored Over Mighty Needles

Eleven days later, Gun Shot faced 14 rivals, including Florida's Needles, in the $100,000-added Flamingo.

Needles had been voted two-year-old champion the previous year. And as a Florida-bred, he was receiving a five-pound concession in the weights. (That rule has since been nullified for stakes events).

Most of the handicappers picked Needles although Fabius, Liberty Sun, Lawless and Gun Shot had some support. The odds-makers listed Needles as the 5-2 favorite.

But the public was enthralled with Gun Shot. They sent the Maine Chance Farm entry to the post favored over Needles!

Gun Shot turned out to be a one-shot horse. He finished a sorry fourth in the Flamingo while Needles overwhelmed the field with his tremendous stretch run.

Gun Shot was never to win another race. The fashionably bred colt's career was cut short by injuries and he was retired to stud with only that one glittering triumph to recommend him.

Rawls' 285 Wins Golf Test

LAKE WORTH — (UPI) — Betsy Rawls, who had two sub-par rounds earlier to see her through a windy final, shot a four-over-par 74 Sunday to win the Lake Worth Women's Open Golf Tournament and a $1,247 prize.

Louise Suggs, Sea Island, Ga., who started the final round tied with the Spartanburg, S.C., winner, had even more trouble with the gusty lake wind and took a 75. She wound up in second place with a 286, one stroke behind Miss Rawls' winning 285.

Miss Rawls, who won the Lake Worth tournament when it was initiated in 1957, got off to a bad start with bogeys on the first two holes. But she birdied the par-three fifth with a near-perfect drive that left her only a five and a half foot putt.

Playing the short holes well, she also birdied the par three eighth with another fine iron shot and short putt. She carded bogeys on 9, 12 and 15.

Dr. McKey Wins Augustine Golf

ST. AUGUSTINE —(UPI)— Dr. John McKey, Orlando pediatrician, made a gallant comeback to defeat Jacksonville plumber Tommy Jenkins, 2 and 1, and win the National Golf Club Champions tournament Sunday.

McKey, 41, was two down at the end of the morning round of 18 holes. But he came back strong on the second 18 to close out his 24-year-old opponent on the 17th hole.

Final Prep for Flamingo

Eurasia, Troilus Go Today

By JOE McLAUGHLIN
Herald Turf Editor

Eurasia and Troilus—two of First Landing's chief rivals in Saturday's $100,000 Flamingo—will receive their final preps at Hialeah today.

Eurasia, Greentree Stable's gray gelding, was a spectacular winner of his first start Feb. 14. Kept out of juvenile races by a series of minor ailments, Eurasia raced seven furlongs in the near record time of 1:22.4.

Off this race, Eurasia has been installed an 8 to 5 favorite in today's nine-horse field.

Troilus was the stretch-running winner of the seven furlong Bahamas Stakes. He's listed at 2 to 1 today. Other entries include Rico Tesio, Quiz Star, Merrybrook, Master Palynch, Outgiving, Prince's Gen and Snommis.

Meanwhile back at the barn, First Landing will be taking things easy after winning last Wednesday's Everglades. The record-breaking juvenile champion finished second in his only other Hialeah start.

First Landing is quoted as a 4 to 5 "early line" favorite for the Flamingo. Eurasia looms a 5 to 2 second choice and Troilus next at 5 to 1.

Other Flamingo probables include Ada L. Rice's Rare Rice and Cedar Brook (10 to 1), Open View and Derrick (15 to 1), Moony (12 to 1), Scotland, Rico Tesio, Snowmis and Easy Spur (20 to 1).

'Defense Beat Auburn'

Goose Hangs High, Crows Happy Rupp

By Herald Wire Services

"The goose hangs high," bellowed Kentucky Basketball Coach Adolph Rupp Sunday, clearly envisioning another shot at an NCAA title after his Wildcats' glittering 75-56 victory over previously unbeaten Auburn.

"Superb defense. That's what did it," Rupp explained. "Defensive pressure and our 50 per cent shooting average."

Game tension during the first half was responsible for a fatal heart attack suffered by 60-year-old Dr. Charles Barbenbus, a Kentucky chemistry professor.

Auburn and Mississippi State are tied for the Southeastern Conference lead with identical 11-1 records. Kentucky is third with 10-2.

Rupp continued to talk defense.

"It was a case of a superb defense beating the nation's best offense."

Thus ended college basketball's longest winning streak at 30 games.

Auburn's Joel Eaves added, "When you're best, you deserve to win. They are best." Eaves said he hadn't been sleeping well for two months. With the pressure off, he'll probably get a solid 40 winks.

Another "sleeper" among Saturday's basketball results was Maryland's 69-51 victory over top-ranked North Carolina. Maryland, led by Jerry Bechtle's 28 points, had won only seven games in 19 starts. North Carolina was 17-1, including 11 straight.

Elsewhere among the top 10 and in the conference races:

Fourth-ranked Kansas State (21-1) clinched the Big Eight Conference NCAA berth by whipping Oklahoma State, 62-50, with Bob Boozer scoring 26.

Fifth-ranked Mississippi State (22-1), beaten only by Auburn and holding a decision over Kentucky, smacked Louisiana State, 75-67, although Bailey Howell was held to 17 points.

Cincinnati (18-2), ranked No. 6, bolstered its hold on the Missouri Valley lead and NCAA berth with an 88-74 victory over Wichita as Oscar Robertson, the nation's scoring leader, packed away 34 points.

Tenth-ranked Bradley (19-3) won 58-57 at Tulsa on Bobby Joe Mason's three foul shots with 26 seconds left. Eighth-ranked St. Louis (16-4) lost its second in a row in a 64-57 upset at Houston.

North Carolina State (19-3), tied with Cincinnati in the rankings, but also on probation, defeated NIT-bound Villanova, 66-56.

Michigan State (15-3), ranked No. 9, clinched a tie for the Big Ten title by beating Purdue, 94-87.

Texas Christian (18-4) wrapped up the Southwest Conference title and NCAA opening by beating Texas, 72-59. Utah retained a half-game edge in the Skyline with a 68-65 decision at New Mexico.

West Virginia defeated George Washington, 89-86, with Jerry West scoring 35 points as the Southern Conference completed its regular season.

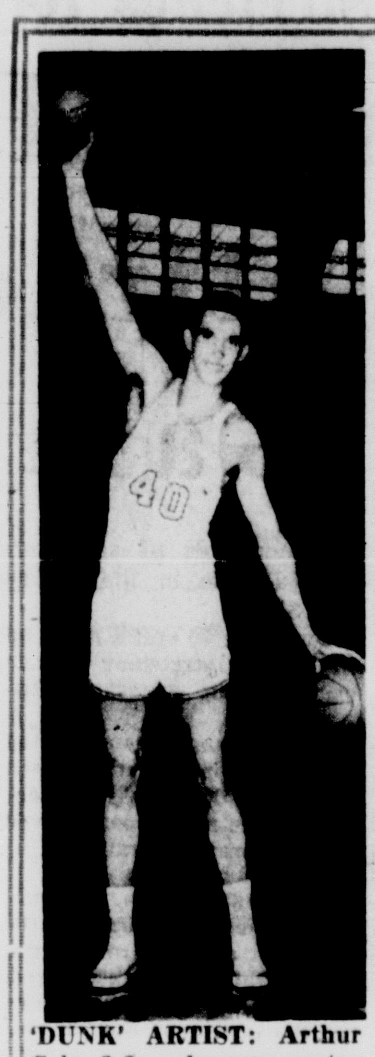
Against Morehead State Tonight

UM Cagers Sight Win Mark



'DUNK' ARTIST: Arthur Cole, 6-6 sophomore center who makes a practice of 'dunking' basketballs instead of donuts, will be in action tonight when Morehead State plays Miami at Beach Auditorium.

University of Miami's basketball team will have two extra incentives tonight when it plays Morehead State College at Miami Beach Auditorium.

A convincing victory could vault the Hurricanes into prime consideration for a post-season tournament berth. It also would be win No. 17 for the Hurricanes — a team record.

Morehead, 15th in the nation in scoring, will have a slim overall height advantage although Miami's 6-7 Harry Manushaw is the tallest player.

Thornton Hill, 6-6 senior forward, leads the Eagles from Morehead, Ky. He's averaging 20.2 points and has picked off 15 rebounds a game. Granville Williams and Herbie Triplett, a pair of jackrabbit guards also are dangerous.

One point tonight will give Dick Hickox a Miami sophomore scoring record. He's tied with Ed Morris with 419 points.

Action gets under way when the Baby Hurricanes meet the Intramural All-Stars and seven-foot Dick McCoy.

Over the same stage, however, Robertson has hit at a 37.2 pace and still holds a fairly comfortable edge with an average mark of 33.1.

Bowl-O-Mat Hires Woods

Tommy Woods, one of Miami's busiest and most talented bowlers, has been hired by South Dixie Bowl-O-Mat.

The 190-plus averager will be a "general supervisor" of Bowl-O-Mat, owner Herman Sumars revealed Sunday. Jim Neal will remain as lane manager.

Tommy formerly managed Homestead's Town Lanes, bought last week by Ed Sloan.

Rubinoff Wins City Men's Net Singles

Ed Rubinoff literally outlasted John Skogstad Sunday to win the men's singles title in the City of Miami Tennis Championships at Henderson Park.

Rubinoff, Miami Beach ace, won the first two sets in the best three-of-five finals, then claimed the third set when Skogstad suffered an attack of sun-blindness and was unable to continue play.

So, official results of the title match go into the books: Rubinoff, 7-5, 6-2, default.

Skogstad, University of Miami netter, put up a good battle in the first set, but his power tennis was not equal to the steady, crafty playing of Rubinoff.

After medical treatment and a rest, Skogstad came back to compete in the men's doubles final with John Capell. They lost to the top-seeded team of Tim Cawthorne, Melbourne, Australia, and Ed Moylan, Trenton, N.J., 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

Charles Harris of West Palm Beach, a former first ten ranked netter, upset top-seeded Earl Myers of Fort Lauderdale, 6-0, 1-6, 6-3 in the senior singles final.

Top-seeded Carl Haub and Hobart Wrobbel defeated Myers and Ed Metz, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4 for the senior doubles title.

Herm Nickles, a boat builder from Lake Fenton, Mich., nipped Miami's Howard Foht Sunday in the 12th annual Midwinter Lightning Regatta at St. Petersburg.

Nickles finished third Sunday to finish with 295 points in the three-day regatta. Foht trailed by only half a point. An 11th place finish Sunday — the same lapse that knocked him out of last year's title — cost Foht the victory.

WELDON ROPP of Miami, national champion in the class, was defeated on overall points in the 135-cubic inch hydroplane division of the 52nd annual Washington Birthday regatta at the Palm Beach Yacht Club.

Ropp won the second heat but had trouble with his Miami Belle II in the first race and finished fourth. Fort Lauderdale's Bob Hamilton was the winner.

Stu Gray of Miami won both heats of the 266-cubic inch class in his Miss Gold Dust. He averaged 70.312 miles per hour. Miamian J. N. Smith, 62, was second.

Other winners included John White, Miami, 48 class; Dick Cooper, Miami Beach, E and F classes; and Steve Jones, Miami, 44 runabout class.

JOHN THOMAS, whose 7-1¼ leap Saturday night in the National AAU track meet was the best ever by a human, will do no more jumping until the outdoor season, he said Sunday.

Only 17, Thomas has been under heavy physical and emotional pressure all winter and must buckle down to his books. Besides world marks set by Thomas, Ron Delany (mile), Bob Backus (35-pound weight), Parry O'Brien (shot put) and Bill Dellinger (three-mile), the other AAU winners were:

Don Bragg in the pole vault (15-1), Josh Culbreath in the 600 (1:11.1), Zbigniew Orywal of Poland in the 1,000 (2:12.6), Elias Gilbert in the 60-yard high hurdles (7.3), and Paul Winder in the 60-yard dash (6.1).

TALLAHASSEE —(AP)— Jimmy Lee of Tallahassee who won his third George Washington Birthday Golf Tournament Sunday in a sudden death payoff with Scotty Fraser of Panama City.

Stretches for Mile

Aqua Parade Attracts 70 Gala Craft

Thousands of spectators Sunday witnessed the first Aqua Parade in the history of the Miami International Boat Show.

More than 70 crafts made up the parade, stretching a mile long over the waters of Biscayne Bay.

A Coast Guard vessel led the snaking column of boats. Each of the parade units flew pennants, while many sported even more elaborate decorations.

The pirate theme predominated, One of the pirate crafts contained a crew armed with pistols which were discharged frequently and in unision during the course of the parade.

Flagship of the parade was the 98-foot yacht Highlander. Owner, Bruce Forbes served as the parade Grand Marshal.

Girls in pirate garb tossed keys to each of the parade units as it passed before the judges standing in review from the Highlander. Three of the keys fit chests of treasure stationed at the Dinner Key boat show site.

The honorary commodores of the parade fleet were Alex Balfe, Coral Reef Yacht Club; Robert English, Miami Outboard Club; Albert J. Griffin, William Earl, Pelican Harbor Yacht Club; S. W. (John) Raulerson, Rod & Reel Club; A. C. Aller, Miami Power Squadron; and Dudley Whitman, Bal Harbour Yacht Club.

Honorary fleet commanders were Capt. Jack Manson, Cliff Walker, Glenn Keagle, Richard Bertram, Forest E. Johnson, Don Mucklow and Jack Barnes.

Parade committee members were three Boat Show directors, Thomas L. Phillips, Royce A. Hill, and W. S. Simpson.

Trophies will be presented tonight to the best-dressed boats in the three classes in which the parade units were divided.

High School Notes:

Butts, Baxley Stay 'Hot'

Scoring records were made to be smashed.

Hialeahs' Bernie Butts surpassed two of Richie Berger's all-time Dade high school basketball figures this year. And North Miami's Tom Baxley in turn probably will break one of Butts' marks this week.

Butts scored 621 points in Hialeah's 21 regular season games. That production breaks Berger's one-year record of 587 points. Baxley, with two games still remaining, has 601.

Butts has wrapped up the scoring title of averages. His 29.6 average exceeds Berger's record by 4.1 points per game. Baxley also will top the Miami Beach's star record with a 27.3 average.

Lefthander Ronnie Poh increased his average to 21.9 as Miami Edison won one and lost two games last week. Fourth place Wally Dale of Coral Gables hiked his average to 20.2.

HIGHLIGHTS of the waning season will be Miami High's inion of unbeaten Pompano Beach Tuesday night and the Gold Coast Conference title struggle between Hialeah and Key West.

The Gold Coast game tentatively is scheduled for Wednesday night at Miami Jacksons' neutral gymnasium.

IT PAYS TO have your name start with B if you hope to win the county basketball scoring title.

These 'B boys' have won the title over the past 10 years: Miami High's Gene Bennett (413 points, 1952), Jackson's Joe Brodsky (453, 1953), Miami High's Bobby Balch (583, 1957), Miami Beach's Berger (587, 1958) and Butts (621) and Baxley (601) . . .

Gold Collar Dogs Run In Beach 8th Tonight

Eight survivors of two elimination events meet in the 17th renewal of the Gold Collar Classic tonight at Miami Beach Kennel Club. Distance for the Eighth-race stake is the 2,166 foot Rickard Course.

In the field are the elimination winners — Jarmaine and Parnell Mary—and the six other greyhounds who finished among the first four in each qualifying round.

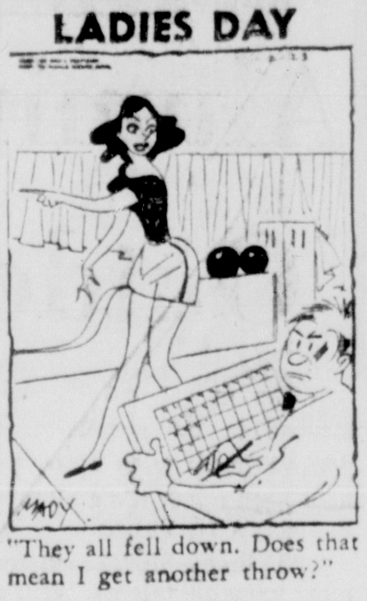
* * *

By defeating the 1-to-2 shot Canadian Pacific last week, Jarmaine probably will command most of the mutuel support tonight.

Parnell Mary's length victory over Will O'Wisp earned the veteran strong backing in tonight's race, where the winning greyhound receives a gold collar.

The rest of the field includes Dixie's Son, Canadian Pacific, Will O'Wisp, Get Happy, Irish Mix and Flip That.

LADIES DAY



"They all fell down. Does that mean I get another throw?"

Sam Baker of the Washington Redskins averaged 45.4 yards on 48 punts last season.

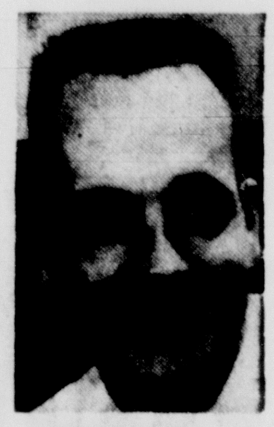
Aluminum Foil: A Modern Outdoorsman's Top Friend

The expert outdoorsman of yesterday had to be steeped in the secrets of wilderness living. Today he doesn't need much more than aluminum foil, although he'll need much more aluminum foil than the sheet stuck in today's Herald.

"Foilmanship" has become one of the outdoorsman's most valuable talents. With a supply of foil, he can make a wide range of cooking and serving utensils, keep matches and powder dry, protect himself from wind and sun, make a campfire oven, and keep fish or game fresh.



DUNAWAY

Look what can be done with campfire cooking. Returning to camp, the outdoorsman need never be greeted by the discouraging sight of scarred and soaking pots and pans. With aluminum foil, he's ready to start right in preparing a meal. According to the kind of dish he's cooking, he fashions a reflector-type "oven," a wrap-around "pressure cooker," even a pot or pan.

The oven is simply a sheet of foil placed on the ground near the fire and folded over towards the fire, supported by twigs so that heat is reflected at an angle onto biscuits, bread or other food in the lower fold.

Food wrapped in foil is like a pressure cooker because it seals in juices and vitamins. Pots, pans, cups and dishes can be made instantly by shaping several thicknesses of foil over a small tree stump or pan-shaped object.

★ ★ ★

Don't Be 'Foiled' When Cooking

HERE IS an easy meal suggestion for anglers who want to enjoy their fish fresh and outdoor-cooked: potatoes bake in foil in 40 minutes, corn in 20 minutes, and fish in just 15 minutes.

Butter the skin of a potato, add salt and pepper, wrap in foil (double thickness) and place in deep embers. To roast corn, pull back the husk and butter well, adding salt and pepper. Fold the husk back and wrap each ear separately in foil. Place the corn in the embers, over the potatoes.

Well-cleaned fish can be cooked whole if fairly small, or else cut in fillets. Again, you butter and salt the fish, wrap in foil and crimp the ends. Tight ends keep in the juices. Place fish in the embers.

In 15 minutes take the fish from the fire, but don't open the foil. In another five minutes the corn will be done. Remove it and put it beside the fire with the fish. After 20 more minutes the potatoes will be ready.

Now the foil can be unwrapped, but not discarded. Foil under the food keeps the plate clean and makes it easy to bury the refuse.

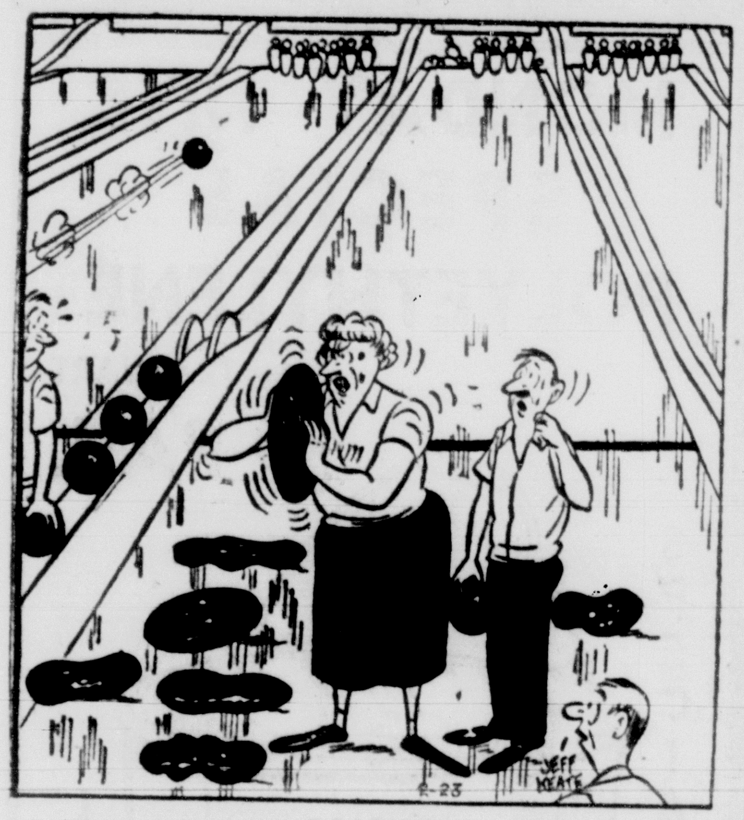
Need a Sun Bonnet?

FISHERMEN and hunters sometime cover their hats with foil — shiny side out — to reflect a bothersome sun, or to provide greater safety of identification in the woods.

And if you are caught without a hat, you can create your own bonnet by shaping one from foil.

Many sportsmen place game and fish in foil to keep it clean. And, of course, vital or delicate equipment like matches and instruments can be wrapped in foil as protection against moisture.



"I wish you'd try not to blame the balls everytime you bowl a bad frame, sweetheart!"

Ah! Sweet Mystery of Rice
No. 1 SECRET
For the uninitiated whose only contact with rice to date has been at a wedding, we suggest a very rapid excursion to our menage. You'll be absolutely disconcerted at the way the little grains are coaxed, coddled and cajoled into a rare delicacy. Try our Fried Rice—steamed, then browned with chopped chicken, barbecued pork, green onions, eggs and soya sauce.

How Foxy Paris Bank Clerk Bamboozled Dumkopf Nazis

By PAUL GHALI
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

PARIS — How American banks here in Paris tricked the Nazi occupiers during the war and saved their customers' property has just come to light.

GHALI

Alfred le Courvreur, a former cyclist champion and member of the prewar "six-day" team, made the discovery.

Just before the war Alfred placed $1,080, plus 2,000 French francs in gold coins, in a safe at the Paris Guaranty Trust. Then he left for the States. The war caught him and he stayed there to become a successful businessman.

In 1941 le Courvreur was "officially" informed that the Germans had visited his strong box and found it empty.

The other day he decided to visit the bank and see for himself what had happened to his money.

The box opened with the key he had received in 1939. His little nest-egg was still there!

To the satisfaction of all concerned it turned out that the bank clerk who remained in charge during the war had taken the dull-witted Germans to empty safes, telling them the customers had withdrawn all their belongings. They never discovered the safes with valuables.

Larry Lust

Larry Lust, age 11, is an impressionable young man who takes his cowboy-and-Indian television seriously.

After a Wagon Train program about a month ago concerning a little Negro and white boy in the post-Civil War years, Larry wrote a letter to President Eisenhower on brotherhood.

"I think integration is okay," he wrote the President, "and I wouldn't mind going to school with colored people."

Sunday he received a reply from the White House, written by E. Frederick Morrow, an administrative officer.

"The President has asked me to thank you," he wrote. "He is pleased to know of your sincere interest in fuller realization of the human rights of our citizens.

"We all look forward to the day when equality of opportunity, both in principle and in practice, will be enjoyed by every American."

Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Lust, 1173 SW 22nd Ave.

Troops Called Out in Ceylon

COLOMBO — (AP) — Ceylon Gov. Gen. Sir Oliver Goonetilleke has called out troops to counter a threatened island-wide strike against Premier Solomon Bandaranaike's new public security law.

A proclamation said troops will be used to maintain supplies and essential services if they are interrupted, and to suppress civil disturbances on the island.

Ceylon is still under a state of emergency after violent race riots last year.

Glamor Girl Getting Trousseau--Could It Be for Aga Khan?

By Cholly Knickerbocker

Britain's No. 1 debutante and New York's newest glamor girl, Henrietta Tiarks, was fitted for a trousseau in Paris at Balmain!

CHOLLY

The chestnut-haired Henrietta refused to say who her "intended" might be, but a national U. S. magazine which took hundreds of photos of her in the Paris collections (along with Jacqueline de Ribes, Dolores Furstenburg Guinness and other international beauties) was betting heavily that Henrietta's family would announce her spring engagement to the young Aga Khan.

This isn't the first time Henrietta and Karim have been linked together. She and Karim and the Marquis of Tavistock all took the same plane from New York to London for the Christmas holidays, giving rise to rumors.

Now many who were convinced that Henrietta was more interested in Robin Tavistock than in Karim are wondering if perhaps the two Harvard classmates haven't been in league to throw the press off the real scent.

Fuel has been added to the fire by Paris informants who tell us that Henrietta spent quite a lot of time in the company of Karim's father, Aly Khan, and his longtime girlfriend Bettina.

ANITA COLBY feels it's just not in her stars to ever see Julius Monks' Upstairs at the Downstairs revue in New York. Every time she's gone, there have been S. R. O. and even being escorted by Laurance Rockefeller the other eve didn't turn the trick . . . As soon as it warms up, the Ernest Hemingways will make a frontal assault on Manhattan, or so they've written friends . . . Dorothy Strelsin's industrialist husband, Al, gave her a snazzy valentine — a full-length sable.

Some of Chicago's "better families" are engaged in a serious resistance movement to keep the movie "Compulsion" (it concerns the Loeb-Leopold case) from every being shown in the city limits . . . For the Pictures No Artist Could Paint Department: John Jacob Astor in the Miami Airport scrambling around the floor looking for a dime he dropped in a telephone booth.

* * *

WHEN the Duchess of Kent visits Cuzco, the ancient Inca capital in Peru, she'll find the railway carriages there still adorned with feathers left by the Prince of Wales (now the Duke of Windsor) on his 1931 visit . . . Prince Vittorio Massimo, estranged husband of actress Dawn Addams, found himself barred from the annual Italian noblemen's audience with the Pope, due to all the unsavory publicity.

* * *

PRINCE DIMITRI, the son of Grand Duke Alexander and Grand Duchess Xenia (sister of the late Czar Nicholas II of Russia), is in New York from London with his lovely British wife, born Sheila Milbank. . . Blonde actress Lynn Merrick, who divorced Bobby Goelet (his Newport family is worth millions) to marry decorator Paul Manno, is singing those "frying pan to the fire" blues. She and the Jen Sen firm head are already separated after only a year of marital blitz.

GROUP CAPT. Peter Townsend has brought a strange suit involving his honor which nobody thinks he stands a chance of winning. He's suing Jean Jacques Servan-Schreiner, because he claims the L'Express magazine editor asked him to sell the intimate details of his romance with Princess Margaret. Townsend wants an apology printed in 50 publications throughout the world, if he wins.

* * *

JILL ST. JOHN informed that Lance Reventlow had dated another girl, made a most un-actressy type remark. She said tactfully: "If he did, I know the girl had a good time." . . . Anyway, Jill's not heartbroken that her romance with the Woolworth heir came to nothing — she's smart enough to know that the publicity put her on the map.

Eunice Oakes (Pitt Oakes' widow) is about to head back to Nassau, and won't that leave Sheraton Hotel heir Robin Moore simply devastated? He's been sticking closer to the redhead Eunice than glue . . . You can now get very good odds that the Zsa Zsa Gabor-Hal Hayes wedding will never come off. They were engaged in 1956 and canceled it, and Hal has, at various times, been supposed to marry Joan Blondell, Barbara Hutton, Anne Miller, Kay Spreckles and Joan Crawford.

The Gal He Grabbed Knew Judo

OAKLAND, Calif. — (AP) — Seventeen-year-old Mrs. Billy Chatterton was strolling home alone when a young man grabbed her by the shoulder.

"Come here, baby," he said roughly.

Without a word, the trim wife of a Navy judo instructor twisted free, seized his left arm in a judo hold and threw him over her back. He landed flat on his back, 170 pounds of him.

Exasperated by the tear on her blouse, Mrs. Chatterton pointed a finger at her assailant and warned: "Quit following me."

"Don't worry, lady," said the bruised male. She reported the incident to the police.

My Answer

Salvation Makes You New Again

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: Ever since I was converted, I have found great satisfaction in my study of the Bible and in telling others about my experience. My entire family says that I'm carrying it too far, that to be religious is all well and good, but one can overdo it. Is it possible that I have misunderstood the Christian life so much?

GRAHAM

ANSWER: I do not believe you have. But you must remember that no person who has not discovered Christ and the meaning of eternal life will ever agree with you.

They cannot differentiate between religion and salvation. Religion is something people observe and practice with some restraint. Salvation is deliverance from the old way of life to a new one.

One who has believed in Christ for salvation has become completely new. The Bible says, "If any man is in Christ he is a new creation," and so you would be entirely different from what you were before you were converted.

The Bible also clearly teaches that people will misunderstand you. "Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, therefore the world knoweth us not because it knew Him not." (I John 3:1) Don't be disturbed by what people say when once you have made sure that you are doing the will of God.

I'm Dependent, Butch Insists

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A letter purportedly signed by "a little dog named Butch" was printed in the sedate Congressional Record.

Sen. Strom Thurmond (D., S. C.) had the letter published because, he said, it was "so well expressed that I believe it is deserving of wide distribution."

Butch belongs to G. H. Orr of Columbia, S. C.

"The real reason I am writing you," the letter says, "is I believe the government should make some provision whereby my master could use me as a dependent, because I am solely dependent on my master."

Thurmond's reply to "Butch," if any, was not included in the Congressional Record correspondence.

Barong Tagalogs Perfectly Proper

By AMY VANDERBILT

AMY

DEAR Miss Vanderbilt: Some time ago you wrote about a Philippine dress shirt for men and I think I saw one the other night on a man in evening clothes. It was a white organdy shirt embroidered all over. It was very attractive, I thought, and he did not seem self - conscious wearing it although it certainly got a lot of attention from the ladies. Can you tell me the name of this shirt and where I can get one? — M. R., New York.

The shirt is called a barong tagalog, or baro for short. I see them, too, from time to time, usually in white with dinner jackets, for men's evening shirts are becoming more and more decorative. The baro does not look out of place by any means. It is commonly worn in the best circles of the Philippines, especially to weddings. If you want to get one, write for information to the Philippines Association, 304 MRS Building, Manila, Philippines.

DEAR Miss Vanderbilt: My name is what you might call a jaw-breaker and I think I have put up with it long enough. Can you give me any advice on how to change one's name? — J. C., Denver, Colo.'

Be sure, before you change it, that it is a jawbreaker. Sometimes such names just need Anglicizing to be quite manageable. I have a section on changing names in my book (available in all libraries) or you might like to consult a booklet, "Law of Names and How to Change Your Name" by Lawrence G. Green, LL.B. This is in many libraries, but it is also available in the paper-bound edition for one dollar from Oceana Publications, 43 W 16th St., New York 11, New York.

DEAR Miss Vanderbilt: I was so pleased to see in your column recently the letter and your reply concerning the girl who had lost her little toes and whose mother took such an unrealistic attitude about her swimming or showing her bare feet in public. This came at a very timely point in what was fast growing into a crisis in our family, due to my daughter's apparent inability to become adjusted to the recent amputation of one of her toes.

From the time she learned that the toe must be amputated, she began to work up a complex about never being able to go swimming or going any place where anyone would see her bare feet. I had hoped that after the toe had been off for awhile she would get over her self-conscious feeling and I tried to persuade her to go with the other girls when they went swimming and to go in her bare feet. I was sure that no one would even notice her missing toe, but she would not do it.

Then when this item appeared in your column, it did the trick. In fact, it was she who showed the column to me and said that she had made up her mind to take a sensible attitude about her foot. I believe it was the very next night that she decided to go swimming with the girls at a local pool and to make herself go barefooted. The results were as you indicated. She did not look at her feet and no one else did. — Mrs. L. T. W., Chicago.

U.S. Speeds Up Funds to Haiti

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The U.S. announced a speedup in its aid to Haiti, including deposit of a half million dollars in an emergency grant.

The announcement said other financial aid to Haiti is being sympathetically considered. This includes a Haitian request for a development loan to complete an irrigation and drainage project. Haiti also seeks possible deferment of interest payments on a 25-million-dollar loan from this country in 1951.

Bus Ride May Lead To Love

By ANN LANDERS

ANN

DEAR ANN: Every morning I ride the bus to work. There's a certain man on the bus who is just my type. He smiles and tips his hat (thump thump) then reads the paper. He always turns right to your column. Sometimes he chuckles and other times he goes "tsk tsk."

I don't know anything about him except he's a neat dresser (somewhat conservative), and he's definitely my idea of a dream-guy. How can I find out if he's married? He doesn't wear a ring, but this is no proof.

Please give me a helping hand and print this letter. It may get him off dead center. — DOLLY.

Dear Dolly: I'm printing your letter, with the full knowledge that this may set off hundreds of romances all over the country. Every man who rides the bus will think he's the dream-guy to the girl sitting next to him!

If you'd like a few pleasant words with this gentleman, and at the same time learn if he's been taken — for better or for worse, that is — simply say, "I see you read Ann Landers. What does your wife think of her advice?"

* * *

DEAR ANN: I was shocked at the advice you gave a young man recently. He wrote about "loving cup" ears and you suggested he have them operated on. Are you crazy, woman?

Why not suggest to people that they learn to live with whatever unattractive physical characteristics the Lord has given them? Beauty is only skin deep. Look at Eleanor Roosevelt. She never found the need to "do anything" about her teeth, and they never interfered with her success in the least. I hope you change your position on this one. In my opinion, the advice stank.—B. B. C.

Sorry, Buster. The advice still stands. I don't know what YOU see when you look at Eleanor Roosevelt, but I see a woman of extraordinary brilliance and deep compassion; I see one of the outstanding women of our century. When one meets a personality such as Mrs. Roosevelt, one does not think about teeth.

Unfortunately, however, not everyone has the qualities, the confidence, or the inner resources of a Mrs. Roosevelt. Most of us need a little outside help. So, when Mother Nature deals a low blow, I see nothing wrong in enlisting the aid of a dentist or a plastic surgeon.

Particularly do I recommend such a move if the unattractive feature creates a personality problem. It's how the guy with the ears FEELS that counts. High-sounding platitudes cut no mustard when a person thinks he's being passed by because he's ugly.

* * *

DEAR ANN: I'm a woman in my early 30's but I could pass for 25, if my 15-year-old daughter weren't along. My problem is embarrassing and I'm getting desperate.

I started to live with this man 16 years ago, when I was 17. We never did marry. The children just came along and everyone assumed we were man and wife.

He's very good to us, doesn't run around nights, and is a better family man than most of the husbands of my friends. But he just won't do anything about making this arrangement legal. He says he's perfectly happy and to leave well enough alone. What shall I do? — CLEO.

Ever try to get a man to buy oats for a dead horse? Same thing — but you must get this arrangement legalized for the sake of the children.

If he should die, you might find yourself in a legal hassle with his mother, sisters and brothers. They could claim what should go to you and the children.

See Legal Aid about how a secret marriage could be performed. Inform Dad he's invited to a wedding next week — his own. If he balks, tell him either — or, and make it stick.

Dulles' Gallantry Admired

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

MRS. FDR

WASHINGTON — I want to join with many others who have paid tribute to the great courage of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. In the face of what must have been much pain and great exhaustion he continued doing what he felt called upon to do in order to fulfill his duties. Though many of us may differ with his policies, we cannot help but admire his gallantry.

To be Secretary of State was his great ambition because it was more or less a tradition in his family and very naturally, I am sure, he wanted to go down in history as a great Secretary of State. These are legitimate and fine ambitions, and in a democracy one is always glad to see individuals who really want to serve in the difficult positions of government.

But he has sacrificed above and beyond the call of duty, for physically he must have long ago wanted to retire from these arduous public responsibilities. We can only hope that through the increased research which is daily developing something may be found to help him recover.

I must say that it is distressing to see the picture of Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter on crutches from arthritis. I do not suppose this handicaps his work in any way, but it certainly must be a drain on him physically. If he is one of our ministers, and I suppose he will be, to go to the meeting which has been proposed of the Big Four on Germany, it would seem an added difficulty for him to cope with.

* * *

I NOW have had an opportunity to learn more of Sen. Mike Mansfields suggestions on the solution of the Berlin situation, and I must say they make a good deal of sense to me.

To let the secretary-general of the United Nations, who is one of our negotiators, do the negotiating would seem to be a very wise move.

* * *

I HAVE read of Fidel Castro taking the oath as the new premier of Cuba, and I have had some letters from Cubans saying that we in the U.S. do not understand Cuban efforts to get a stable government.

I think we understand their efforts very well, but we are just a little confused by the fact that stable governments so rarely remain stable in certain areas of the world. I am sure everyone in the U.S. wishes Mr. Castro and the Cuban people well.

The trouble that has developed in government after government after government in certain areas is easily understandable because it has its roots in human greed. Certain individuals who come to power make money out of their power and then when they find themselves attacked they abscound, after carefully stowing away money and other treasures in other areas.

Our hopes this will not be the history again in Cuba. But the Cubans must not feel that we lack in understanding if we wait a little while to have it demonstrated that a goverment is stable and is trying to be as honest as it is possible.

Even in governments that have been stable for a long time, such as our own, corruption in office ceases to be a surprise. It seems to me that all human beings must constantly strive to improve the standards of morals and ethics in government.

Pastor Finds The Answer

WALLA WALLA, Wash.—(P)—Ever doze off in church? Then you have the sympathy of Dr. Forrest W. Werts, pastor of the Pioneer Methodist Church here.

"Sunday morning we tape-recorded the service," he said. "That afternoon I turned on the recorder and sat down to listen.

"I went sound asleep in the middle of the sermon."

LIFE WITH LARRY THOMPSON

Hard to Refuse Puppy

A KIND LADY in Durban, South Afirca, has made me a generous offer.

Her sister, Mrs. Agnes Boyer, 7701 SW 117th St., sent her a clipping about the death of my Duchess.

And so, Mrs. Alice Lockey offered to send me a "miniature, highly pedigreed Dachshund puppy."

There is no question about the fact that Mrs. Lockey loves dogs and is a Dachshund admirer.

Of this particular puppy, she wrote: "She is absolutely beautiful — long nose, long ears, long body, a coat that shines more richly than the finest velvet — definitely a potential champion."

To send this puppy, she would have to have her inoculated for rabies, get a certificate showing she is in perfect health, a permit from the government to ship her to the United States, build a special box for shipping, and pay the not inconsiderable fare.

There would be a change of planes in Johannesburg, but Mrs. Lockey said she would have a friend there exercise the dog and feed her.

And all I would have to do was go to the airport to get the pup on arrival.

* * *

THIS WAS SUCH A WARM offer that I almost took it. I thought that if anybody was willing to go to so much time, trouble and expense to replace my lost pet that it would be ungracious and unappreciative for me not to accept.

Calm judgment ruled over sentiment, however. I was offered many dogs after the death of Duchess. Perhaps unwisely, we decided against getting another dog, at least for some time.

And while maybe none of the local dogs could match Mrs. Lockey's pup for pedigree and beauty, it hardly seems right to send all the way to South Africa for a pet.

I am declining her kind-hearted offer, but I think that she's a mighty splendid woman for making it.

COMMENTS FROM A MIAMI man now working in Nassau, written without help from the local Chamber of Commerce:

"Nassau is a nice place to visit for a few days as a tourist. It is different, and the ocean is beautiful.

"But I really think the ads and brochures overdo it a little.

"The hotel where I am staying is considered a pretty good place and this room costs $15 a day. In Miami, it would be considered a third rate hotel. All housing here is high.

"And so is the food. Breakfast: A very small orange juice, toast and one cup of coffee, with canned milk, costs 75 cents. Dinner? The cheapest steak in town is $4, if you know where to go. Most places, the same steak costs $6-$8.

"Nothing is cheap here except whisky and some perfume. If you are a heavy drinker and like to smell good, this is the place for you.

"This is the darndest place I've ever seen for everyone thinking he is better than everyone else. The English think they're better than the natives.

The light natives think they're better than the dark natives.

They all think they're better than the Europeans. And even the Europeans are considered better than the Americans.

"The American is really low man on the totem pole here. The only reason he gets on at all is because he has money, and they all like his money."

This letter comes as a surprise to me. My wife and I spent a most pleasant week in Nassau, but that was several years ago and it was in the summer when there weren't many tourists around.

Admittedly, too, we weren't acting like rich Americans. Like Americans, yes, but rich, no.

Maybe people looked down on us, but they did a good job of hiding it. We thought the natives were friendly and gracious.

Have things changed so much?

Jack Kofoed Says

Son Is Paid Better Rate Than Father

REP. STEVEN A. Carter of Iowa hired his son as an assistant at $10,000 a year. Congressmen are entitled to assistants, and most men are naturally eager to help their progeny get started in life.

But l'affaire Carter verges on the ridiculous. Young Steve is 19 years old and occupied with a pre-law course in college.

He checks in with the old man at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and works until 6. That's worth $10,000 a year?

The congressman says taxpayers are getting their money's worth from his boy, but failed to say their money's worth of what. Whatever it is, you can have my share.

HAVE YOU noticed that in the current excited flurry over bookmaking activities, the stale pattern of the past is being followed?

When casino gambling flourished in the gaudy old days, concessions were made to infrequent bursts of public indignation by raids on plush joints. Those arrested were croupiers, dealers, stickmen.

No one ever heard of big shots being hauled away.

This past week crusaders put the arm on a barmaid, a bartender and a few other unimportant violators of the law's dignity. Haven't heard a word about the nabbing of local equivalents of Costello or Erickson.

MATT WEINSTOCK reports that deputy sheriffs raided a bookie pad in West Hollywood. While they were present, the 10 telephones buzzed incessantly. Ed Flemming, of KNXT, Channel 2, answered one. A lady said, "I want to put a bet on . . ."

"Sorry," Fleming replied. "The joint has been raided," and hung up.

The woman called back. Ed told her again that police were all over the place.

"Are you a cop?" she asked.

"No."

"Well, then," she insisted, "take two dollars on Channel 2 in the third tomorrow."

Fleming hung up, but he figured this was the biggest hunch anybody could have, and bet 10 bucks on the nag. It ran 10th in a field of 11.

As Mr. Weinstock so aptly says, "You can lead a bettor to slaughter, but you cannot make him think."

BEFORE I moved to these parts I had an idea that teak was the only kind of wood that would last longer than the guy that bought it. That was because my dad had sailed the China sea as skipper of a sailing ship, and he had high regard for teak.

Then, I discovered that redwood is also hard as a pawnbroker's heart.

Asked Frank ("Stylume") Schneider about it. Frank said there was no denying it, and if I thought I could wear out redwood furniture, I'm the kind of fellow who'd figure I'll still be around when Lookout Mountain is flat as the Sahara desert.

PROBABLY the greatest jai alai game ever played pitted Erdoza Menor, called "El Fenomonon," against two of the best pelotaris in the world. That was in Mexico City years ago. The fronton is 235 feet long, and the thin air of the mountain metropolis is a handicap to one not used to its rarity. It seemed impossible that even such a master as Erdoza could single handed beat a fine doubles team.

With the score standing 25-20 in his favor, Erdoza moved to the front wall, and hurled one of his murderous "kill" shots. The ball came back so fast he lost sight of it, and was struck on the leg so hard the muscles were badly injured, and he suffered internal bleeding.

They carried the phenomenon off, but after an hour of ice pack treatment, he returned to the court, swathed in tape, and limping.

The 220-pounder's speed didn't seem hampered by the injury; his power was devastating. Though his opponents played the best jai alai of their careers, he made point after point, and won overwhelmingly, 40-29.

There had never been a game like that, and there probably never will be again. The next day Erdoza's leg was swollen twice its size, and he was out of action for a week.

His son, now a balding veteran, is a front court star at Dania, after long service on the Miami cancha.

The younger Erdoza, who saw his father drop dead on the court while still playing at the age of 52, is like his daddy in that after all these years he still has high enthusiasm for jai alai, and goes all out on every shot.

He says proudly that there never has been a player like Erdoza Menor, nor ever a game such as he played that day in Mexico City.

NOTES ON A SHABBY CUFF:

Morris Lansburgh has bought a Mississippi steamboat which will be used as part of his summer entertainment program, including moonlight minstrel shows . . . March will be a big month for Mike "Zetz" Stuart. The Red Skelton show on the 3rd has Mike playing a police chief. The movie "Hole in the Head" will be premiered during Frank Sinatra's engagement at the Fontainebleau, and "Zetz" has a part in that, too . . .

Control Temper

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Monday, February 23, 1959

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You are tempted to be very critical, even dictatorial with one close to you, but this would cause unhappiness all around. Curb your temper and be kind instead. P.M. go out with congenial pals for a rousing good time and relax.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Impress upon important persons in your life that you are not considering too seriously being allied with one you know is not of your intellectual or cultural level.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Take no chances of alienating a very close tie by being frivolous with time or money. This keeps you in good graces and the evening can be fun and profitable if spent with congenial comrades.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Should you stoop to petty argument at home, you can well cause serious disharmony in that sphere of your life. Be courteous instead.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Consult with one whose background is quite different from your own as to how to deal with argumentative associate. P.M. quietly sit down and thresh out differences in calm and decisive fashion.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) During A.M. a good friend endeavors to force your hand in some monetary affair which you consider your own personal business. Don't show anger. FOR YOUR COPY of Carroll Righter's individual 16-page Forecast for March send your birth date and 50c in coin (no stamps) to Carroll Righter Forecast, The Miami Herald, Box 1895, Grand Central Sta., N.Y. 17, N.Y.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) While you may desire to get into heated discussion with other persons during A.M., this would result in loss of face and prestige. Later in the day you can then be with congenial friends.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't jeopardize getting support you need in A.M. by dashing off somewhere because you feel annoyed. Latter part of day fine for handling any property or money matters.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Control any temptation to be extravagant in A.M., particularly where amusements are concerned. This puts you in a serious mood to run out and do shopping, keep appointments.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A family tie and an acquaintance are really having a tiff today, but see that you keep strictly out of it. Use practical methods with tie and you find that all works out well.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Wavering between desire to go out into the business world or stay at home and complete chores there could waste much time and get you nowhere. Plan your hours wisely.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't waste morning trying to have fun and trifling with work that needs to be done. Get vital tasks and affairs out of the way quickly. Tonight is then ideal time to consult with influential person.

Rodgers Has His Fans But Won't Get the Pay

HOLLYWOOD — (UPI) — When Eddie Fisher is yanked from his TV show next month he will be replaced by another boyish singer whose recordings during the past year have surpassed Eddie's by millions.

He's Jimmy Rodgers, a 25-year-old teen-age idol who looks more like a prize fighter than a crooner.

Unknown to most adult televiewers, Jimmy is very large among youngsters.

Each of Rodgers' records has topped a million in sales. His first, "Honeycomb" sold more than 2 million.

* * *

NBC WON'T PAY JIMMY what it paid Eddie, and the newcomer will be alloted only a half hour of air time compared to Fisher's full hour.

RODGERS

FISHER

But the network will capture millions of teen-age viewers, the most fickle of audiences.

* * *

IT WAS ONLY FIVE YEARS ago that Eddie had the pony tail and blue jeans set agog with squealing fervor.

Now it's Elvis Presley, Ricky Nelson, Pat Boone, Tommy Sands and Jimmy Rodgers.

So what kind of guy is Jimmy?

Like Elvis, he plays guitar. Like Ricky, he sells records. Like Pat, he's clean-cut and married. Like Tommy, he's got a voice the kids dig.

Unlike the others, Jimmy has a mission. He's trying to duck his unearned reputation as a rock and roll stomper and shouter.

He's a folk singer. A balladeer, if you will, who leaves his guitar symbol of rock and roll back stage when he makes guest appearances on TV.

"I've never had any musical training," Jimmy said over a cup of coffee.

"I worked at educating my voice at Vancouver Clark Junior College in Washington, but I quit when my voice teacher said I'd never make it as a singer.

"For a long time I thought the teacher was right. I had $5 in my pocket and was starving on candy bars in July, 1957, when 'Honeycomb' hit the jackpot. That record came along when I had just about given up."

* * *

IN THE PAST YEAR and a half Jimmy's $5 bankroll has zoomed into the six-figure bracket. His records are selling giddily.

He has a five-year movie contract with MGM, more night club dates than he can handle and a brand new TV show which debutes March 31.

"Honestly, I'm amazed by it all," he said happily.

"It's like living in a dream world. Me, Jimmy Rodgers, from Camas, Wash., population 5,557 with all these things going for me."

Persons and Programs

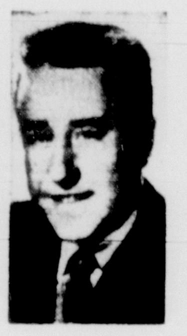
Cops and Robbers Scheduled

The Blue Men, a cops and robbers series that stars Edward Binns and James Broderick, is ticketed in for the Saturday night CBS-TV Gale Storm spot on June 6.

CBS-TV's The Last Word will be yanked March 15.

Another cops and robbers series, The Lawless Years, will bow in on April 5 on NBC-TV where it'll be sandwiched between the Steve Allen and Dinah Shore shows. Allen's time spot is being advanced a half hour.

WILLIAMS



GOBEL

Andy Williams, who'll replace CBS-TV's Garry Moore for the summer, will be on Moore's March 17 show.

George Gobel, who winds up his NBC-TV show March 10, will do two one hour shows for British TV on June 15 and July 6.

Dave Brinkley will take a one-month leave starting Feb. 28 from the NBC-TV Huntley-Brinkley show to help prepare an NBC-TV Kaleidoscope report set for April 19.

The latest Nielsen ratings show viewing hours per home per day have dropped—from five hours 51 minutes in November, 1957 to five hours 23 minutes in November, 1958.

Phil Ford and Mimi Hines have been offered an eight-show contract by CBS-TV's Ed Sullivan.

The Dennis Weavers — he plays "Chester" on CBS-TV's Gunsmoke — are awaiting arrival of their third child.

Pete breaks the case by getting all steamed up in a boiler room battle, which is fought with sizzling water pipes at three paces. Hot stuff.

10 — VOICE OF MUSIC — Four fine singers and 18 great Broadway show tunes — that's the delightful menu planned for tonight. The four are Dorothy Collins, Patrice Munsel, Alfred Drake and Bill Hayes. Highspots should be Alfred Drake with "You'll Never Walk Alone;" Bill Hayes and the dancers with "Once In Love With Amy;" a carousel which will revolve while each of the four does a solo; Miss Munsel and Drake with "Tonight" from "West Side Story;" and all four with a medley from "Oklahoma!" And the big finale, "76 Trombones" from "The Music Man." This could be an exceptional musical program.

2 — OPUS TWO — Special program of live music utilizing talent in the South Florida area.

4 — ANN SOTHERN — A windfall of a pair of hard-to-get tickets to a Broadway hit show becomes a Frankenstein monster to Katy.

7 — DRAMA HOUR — Tonight's story veers dangerously close to the maudlin on one hand and the gruesome on the other. It stars Lew Ayres as a Civil War veteran reminiscing to a little boy about his great heartbreak. We flash back to Chancellorsville where he kept a promise and became a hero at the same time. The play supposedly is based on a true story.

10 — DR. I. Q. — film.

2 — LANGUAGE IN ACTION — "Hiding Behind the Dictionary."

4 — DESILU PLAYHOUSE — The good ship "Potluck" is the cause celebre tonight. The vessel is a-building in Tony Randall's garage. It's been in the works for five years. It's also his ticket away from the hum-drum life of the department store and his wife and sons are all for him. Not so with his brother-in-law and neighbor, Carl Reiner, who thinks it's all foolishness. Randall is more dramatic than funny here, as the play develops into something closer to a soap opera than a comedy.

7 — ARTHUR MURRAY — Guests include George Raft, Joanne Dru, Gene Autry, Sheilah Graham, singers Anita Ellis and Larry Kert and composer Burton Lane . . . color.

10 — PATTI PAGE — The show begins with the oldie, "We Three," to be sung by three talented girls—Patti and her two guests, Hildegarde and Helen Traubel. Later they'll each have a chance to show off their individual abilities — Hildegarde, accompanying herself at the piano, will sing "Mademoiselle de Paris" and do a few dance steps; Miss Traubel, with Ray Barr at the piano, is planning a few songs based on Grieg melodies; and Patti, of course, has a few current favorites for you.

11:10

10 — MOVIE — "Roadblock," (1951), Charles McGraw, Jean Dixon. An insurance investigator turns crook for one big haul to win his gold-digging girl, but is caught by his honest partner.

11:20

7 — JACK PAAR — Danny Scholl is featured singer and Paar will interview author and radio commentator Mary Margaret McBride.

11:25

4 — MOVIE — "Men in Her Diary," (1945), Jon Hall, Louise Albritton. A homely girl, jealous of her pretty sister, writes wild stories in her diary, which causes trouble for many people.

He's Not Drunk, He Just--Phew!

It Was a Stinking Trick, But the Drunkometer Won

By TOM LOWNES
Herald Staff Writer

Eating onions and garlic won't make you stinking drunk — just stinking.

That's what an iron-stomached Herald reporter discovered Saturday when he tried to fool Miami Police's alert drunkometer expert while testing a new medical theory.

The drunkometer won.

It all happened after a New York City jury acquitted a man of a drunk driving charge after his doctor demonstrated that onion juice, garlic juice and acetone affected the drunkometer test chemical the same way as alcohol.

United Press International picked up the story and an eagle-eyed Herald editor spotted it. "Go out and have dinner on us," he told a reporter.

"Great, what'll I eat?" asked the reporter.

"Onions."

"Just onions?"

"No," answered the editor, "have some garlic too."

So the reporter gobbled up three onion sandwiches on onion rolls and three cloves of garlic.

Then he submitted himself to the Miami police for a drunkometer test — feeling slightly tipsy from onions but without a drop of alcohol in him.

Drunkometer expert E. K. Rawls got wind of the fraud as soon as the reporter opened his mouth. But Rawls gave him the test anyhow.

The results were absolutely negative. The purple permanganate test solution — which is supposed to turn light yellow if you're drunk — didn't blanch a bit.

"We learned all about that onion and garlic business in drunkometer school," said Rawls. "But they only affect the test if the juices are poured directly into the permanganate solution."

"Anything that's safe to put in the human stomach will not affect the test — and alcohol in large doses isn't safe."

"But alcohol, even in medicine, will show up immediately on the drunkometer — regardless of how many onions you've eaten," Rawls warned.

To prove his point, Rawls gave the reporter one ounce of 20 per cent alcohol wine, then ran him through the test without the customary 45-minute waiting period.

The result was a .338 reading — double clobbered. (A subject is considered "under the influence" if he rates .150).

When the reporter phoned The Herald to report the onion failure, an editor at the other end of the line held his nose.

"Don't come back to the office," said the odor-sensitive editor. "Just give us the story over the phone."

Purge of China Professors Due?

TAIPEI —(AP) — The Tatao News Agency said the Chinese Communists are planning to purge a number of professors.

The agency, which is operated by the ministry of justice and claims underground contacts on the China mainland, said the victims would include Lee Ching-hsu. He is the elder brother of C. Y. Lee, author of "Flower Drum Song," who is living in the U.S.

No confirmation of the report was possible.

Moslems Rap Red Cross

KUALA LUMPUR — (AP) — Malay Moslems are winning a campaign to replace the Red Cross emblem.

They are led by Sheikh Ahmad who told the legislative council, "The work of the Red Cross is laudable but . . . activities of the organization originate from Crusaders. The cross was placed in front of the tents of King Richard's camp. Later the cross was used all over Europe to convert people to Christianity." The house approved a bill favoring the Red Crescent emblem as a Moslem counterpart of the Red Cross.

Dies at Grave

INGOLSTADT, Germany — (AP)— At a funeral for a German war veteran near here last week, the banner of his veterans club suddenly fell across the grave. Josef Suessmeier, the 70-year-old standard bearer, had died of a heart attack at the graveside.

CARE-FREE GUTTERS THAT LAST...MADE BY ALCOA

No Stain! No Painting—Ever!

You'll never have to patch and paint Alcoa* Aluminum Gutters and Downspouts. That's a knuckle-busting, cliff-hanging chore of the past. Here's the corrosion-resistant quality gutter that outlasts any other ready-made system sold today . . . stays new-looking and watertight without maintenance.

Solid, Extra-Heavy Alcoa Aluminum. This is no skimpy, lightweight product—the Alcoa Gutter, designed, researched and produced by Aluminum Company of America, is a full 20 per cent thicker than other metal gutters. You can lean a ladder against it if you have to—it won't give. And it's alclad—specially processed to defy corrosive conditions without protective coating of any kind.

Riveted Together Like a Bridge. To make sure this new Alcoa Gutter and Downspout system can't pull apart, loosen or leak, even under heavy ice or snow, all joints are sealed with patented Alcoa Gutter Seal and riveted with sturdy aluminum rivets. Slip joints are eliminated! There are fewer fittings for added sturdiness. This new Alcoa system looks better, never costs extra for maintenance or replacement.

ALCOA SYSTEM ADVANTAGES:

- Made of strong, corrosion-resistant, .032 gage alclad Alcoa Aluminum.
- Exclusive "free floating" hanger system permits expansion and contraction—joints can't pull apart.
- Precision-formed with 1/64" tolerances, 1/3 fewer joints and no nail protrusions, for handsome appearance.
- Back of gutter 1/2" higher than front—protects against backed-up water.

Miamians Rescued From Sinking Craft

Haiti Cruise Ends in Los Angeles

By GENE MILLER
Herald Staff Writer

A Miami couple, who lashed their three daughters to a dinghy as sharks circled their sinking yacht, landed safely in Los Angeles Sunday — thousands of miles from their destination.

A Caribbean storm broke up the 61-foot yacht Harpoon on Feb. 5 about 400 miles southeast of Miami.

Aboard were Al Ard, 45, his wife, Betty, 39, their three children, of 5901 SW 113th Ave., and a crewman, Bruce Roberts.

They were 23 days out of Miami on a pleasure cruise to Haiti when they ran into a storm.

As Ard radioed a SOS signal to Florida, the 25-year-old Harpoon began to break up.

A San Juan air force radioman picked up the distress call and relayed it to Miami. The Miami-based Air and Sea Rescue headquarters promptly radioed an all-ships bulletin.

Ard and his wife lashed their daughters to a dinghy and were about to cast it off when the Greek ship Igor came into sight through a lashing rain and 10-foot waves.

"Sharks were circling the Harpoon," said Igor Captain Issadore Los. "We knew we had to get the survivors off in a hurry.

"We dropped a lifeboat and had them, their dog, and a crewman safely up in no time."

The Igor, bound from Europe to Pacific Coast ports, went through the Panama Canal and on to Los Angeles. Roberts left the Igor in Panama.

The Ards disembarked Sunday in Los Angeles when the freighter put in.

"We lost everything," Ard said. "Our yacht sank 35 minutes after we were rescued.

"We plan to stay here a few days, then go back to Florida."

The Harpoon sailed from Miami Jan. 13.

Red Press Hushes Attacks on Britain

Macmillan, Khrushchev Chat On Berlin, Cold War Thaw

MOSCOW —(AP)— Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Premier Nikita Khrushchev talked over world affairs privately Sunday at a Soviet government villa in a pine woods 50 miles southeast of Moscow. They toasted Britain's royal family.

The visiting British leader was the overnight guest of Premier and Mrs. Khrushchev at the Villa, a sprawling, one-story house once owned by Joseph Stalin.

Soviet and British spokesmen announced the government chiefs, accompanied by top aides, discussed all subjects of mutual interest in informal sessions before and after lunch.

Although the announcements did not go into detail, West Berlin's future and the issue of German unity rank high among subjects of mutual interest.

Formal conferences open today in the Kremlin.

Macmillan was accompanied at the Villa by his Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, and Sir Patrick Riley, the British ambassador to Moscow.

With Khrushchev were Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, a recent visitor to the U.S.; Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, and Jacob A. Malik, Soviet ambassador to Britain.

The Villa lies outside the 25-mile limit beyond which foreign correspondents and photographers are forbidden to travel from Moscow. So Western newsmen were dependent on the Soviet news agency Tass and briefings from Western officials for the news.

A British spokesman said the ministers' conversations—one lasting 75 minutes before lunch and the second lasting two hours — were held in a relaxed atmosphere.

"The two great men got on very well together," he said.

The Villa was built in 1939 for Stalin, who often used it to entertain guests. The British spokesman said he saw no police or soldiers on the grounds.

People fished and skated on a lake near the house.

All unfavorable mention of Britain appeared banished from Soviet newspapers with the arrival of Macmillan Saturday for a 10-day visit avowedly aimed to see about chances of easing cold war tensions. Attacks against West Germany and the U.S. were printed as usual.

The Soviet press was full of news of Macmillan.

The full text of his speech at a Kremlin dinner Saturday night in which he warned against the danger of "muddling" into war was carried in the papers, including his declaration that colonialism and imperialism were bygone episodes.

Observers noted it was the first time in years that the Soviet picture of "the aggressive West" had been contradicted so effectively in the papers reaching millions of Russians.

The papers hailed Macmillan's "return visit" for a 10-day state tour — a reference to the fact that he said Saturday he had last been in Russia as a private tourist in 1929.

Midnight Chases

Peron Radio Foils Argentine Police

BUENOS AIRES — (AP) — Now you hear it . . . now you don't.

It's a mysterious little radio station with a strange voice that pops up on the airwaves shouting something like "Viva Peron."

The Argentine public is intrigued. The cops are going crazy. They don't allow that kind of Peron talk around here.

Juan Peron is the dictator who was ousted by revolution in 1955. He is now in exile in the Dominican Republic.

Peron left behind what they call his "Peronistas." They are folks who adore the fallen strongman and dream of the day the aging Peron might come home again.

The Peronistas caused all sorts of trouble for the military regime which ran the country for three years after Peron was kicked out. They keep on stirring up trouble for the constitutional government now headed by President Arturo Frondizi.

Several weeks ago a monitor in the communications department of the federal police picked up an eye-opening broadcast. A voice suddenly popped up on the air with all sorts of "vivas" for Peron and heaps of insults for the Frondizi government.

The alarm was sounded. The police order was precise: Find that station and haul in the offenders.

But the dragnet failed to catch its prey. The cops are irked. The public is thoroughly enjoying the chase.

The station popped up again Friday night, weak but audible. The broadcasters squeezed their hit-and-run show on the air between well-known stations.

Police headquarters sprang to the alert. Radio experts zeroed in the broadcast site. The police captain, the communications boss, 20 cops, an infantry brigade and 10 secret service men roared out at midnight for the kill.

The hunt centered at Mataderos, an industrial and meat packing zone of Buenos Aires. The police forces circled an entire block. They closed in for the catch. The broadcast apparently had come from a juice mixer factory with a tall chimney ideally suited for supporting an antenna.

But once again, the cops came home empty-handed.

Another Newspaper First

Wouldn't Foil You It IS Aluminum

A shiny example of the versatility of aluminum foil and The Herald's presses is in your hands today.

In Section E you'll find a full, newspaper-sized sheet of the super-thin metal foil that is so familiar to housewives as a convenient wrapper for foodstuffs.

Alcoa Aluminum Foil manufacturers wanted to put samples in the home of Floridians, and chose The Herald as the logical distributor.

Two hundred pound rolls of the foil — enough to stretch 150 miles from Homestead to Vero Beach — were placed on Herald presses in the space usually occupied by newsprint.

The foil proved its great tensile strength by holding up through the press runs which at times reach a speed of 52,000 copies an hour.

Actually, it is only seven ten-thousandths of an inch think—just one-fifth the thickness of a regular newspaper sheet. Tests you can make yourself show a one-inch wide strip will support a weight of six pounds.

Alcoa's message is carried by The Herald throughout Florida in all editions — an exciting "first" in newspaper advertising.

Judge Slashed By Thugs

'Sent Up Pal,' Assailant Says

GREENSBURG, Ind. —(AP)— Three thugs lured Mayor Sheldon Smith to his downtown office late Saturday night and methodically sliced his face, hands and body with a double-edged razor blade.

He was reported in fair condition Sunday.

The 39-year-old mayor, former state chairman of Indiana Young Republicans, also is judge of the Greensburg City Court.

He told police the man who did the slicing, while his companions held Smith, snarled:

"You sent up my buddy, and you're going to pay for it."

Smith, mayor of this town of 7,000 for 10 years, said all three men were strangers to him, but he had seen the razor-blade wielder Saturday afternoon in a restaurant.

One of the men enticed Smith to his private accountant's office by telephone, saying he wanted help in preparing an income tax return. He gave the name, J.B. Patton, but Police Chief Warren Melick said it undoubtedly was ficticious.

The mayor was able to call police before he collapsed. He was sliced on both hands, the end of the nose, behind both ears, on the abdomen and on the right thigh.

Under heavy sedation, the mayor could give only meager descriptions of his attackers. He said two were in their 20s and the man with the razor blade was in his 30s.

Doctor Dies Of Beating

RICHMOND, Va. —(AP)— Dr. Austin I. Dodson Sr., 67, nationally known urologist and head of the urology department at the Medical College of Virginia, was found beaten to death early Sunday in Monroe Park in midtown Richmond.

While robbery apparently was the motive for the attack, said Detective Patrolman George Perkins, it appeared nothing had been taken from the physician.

Dr. Dodson and his wife were planning to attend a musical concert at the nearby City Auditorium. Mrs. Dodson said her husband dropped her off at the auditorium and then went to park the car.

Police theorized the doctor parked the car and was on his way through the park to the auditorium when he was attacked.

Pro-Nasser Mobs Quelled in Beirut

Streetcars Upset in Outbreaks

BEIRUT, Lebanon, —(UPI)—Pro-Nasser crowds battered and burned five street cars in downtown Beirut Sunday in an outburst of rioting that climaxed the city's celebration of the United Arab Republic's first anniversary.

Gangs of pro and anti-Nasser youths clashed in fist fights in the heart of the capital following the trolley attacks.

The Lebanese army rushed seven truckloads of helmeted troops into the city to separate the rival gangs and prevent the outburst from erupting into wider violence.

At least two persons were injured, both of them members of the Christian Falangist Party that backed ex-President Camille Chamoun.

The fighting broke out after pro-Chamoun youths scrawled slogans denouncing U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser on street cars traveling through the city's Basta Moslem quarter where the population was celebrating the U.A.R. anniversary.

Crowds of Nasser backers angered by the slogans ordered passengers out of the street cars, then smashed the windows, ripped out seats and attempted to set them afire.

Two double trolley cars and a single car were badly damaged before police scattered the demonstrators.

After attacking the street cars the angry crowd surged down the main street of the Basta quarter in an attempt to track down the slogan writers.

It was the first incident to mar the U.A.R. anniversary celebrations in Lebanon and the first major outburst in Beirut since the nation's civil strife ended last autumn.

Nixon Calls on Dulles

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon called on Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Sunday for the first time since the secretary began undergoing cancer treatment.

State Department Spokesman Lincoln White, who announced the meeting at Walter Reed Army Medical Center, did not say what the two men discussed.

But Dulles has been receiving telephone reports on world affairs and it was possible they discussed the Berlin situation and recent Democratic proposals that President Eisenhower name a successor to Dulles in the near future.

The newest such suggestion was advanced Sunday by Sen. Hubert M. Humphrey (D. Minn.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He said the nation must have its strongest and best qualified negotiator on the job during the present tense period in U.S.-Soviet relations.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D. Mo.) said in St. Louis Saturday that "I don't think Dulles can run the State Department from a hospital and we know it has not been run from the White House."

But Sen. John J. Sparkman (D., Ala.), another foreign relations committee member, did not agree with Symington.

Sparkman said he did not see "any need for making a replacement." He said Dulles "may bounce back" from his hernia operation and cancer ailment if given a reasonable time.

"If anyone can, I believe he will," Sparkman said.

White said Dulles' physicians reported that the secretary again had a comfortable night Saturday night and that his blood pressure, pulse, respiration and temperature were normal.

He also said there still were no "signs of adverse reaction at this stage" to the radiation treatment which Dulles is undergoing. The secretary's spirits, he added, continued "high."

Rocks Tumble In Swiss Winds

HERBRIGGEN, Switzerland —(AP)— A strong wind on the Nadelhorn Mountain sent earth and small rocks rippling down Sunday from a huge slide — most of which remained frozen to the slope high above this threatened Alpine hamlet.

An observation post reported a thin layer slipped off the foot of the slide and spread a few feet down toward the precipice leading to the village. Earth and stones came to rest harmlessly in the deep snow of the slope. Most of the 250 villagers have left their homes.

The bulk of rocks, earth and ice did not slip down the mountain, however, and still rests more than 200 yards away from the edge of the precipice.

All's Faroe in Love

Little Fishin' Smack Smacks of Cupid

ABERDEEN, Scotland —(AP) — A Faroese fishing smack bobbing over the North Sea was Cupid's little helper Sunday.

It was taking U.S. Airman Walter Baldwin, 28, of Cleveland, to the remote Faroe Islands. There, if chance boat schedules can be fitted together, he will pick up Kristen Anthons and take her off to Iceland, where they plan to be married.

Baldwin, on a short leave, has been under way for a week. He has covered 1,600 miles by sea, to call for his bride-to-be. He went from Iceland to the Shetland Islands, north of Scotland, from which, normally, small ships ply to the Faroes. But not even for love — in the winter time.

Unable to go directly to the Faroes Baldwin caught a cattle boat for Aberdeen. Here he hoped to make contact with a fishing boat headed for the Faroes. He was in luck.

Tramping along the waterfront talking to seamen with whom he hoped to hitch a ride, Baldwin encountered Hans Jenssen, master of the Faroese fishing smack Grunnigen, which was homeward bound.

Who, asked Jenssen, is the prospective bride?

Baldwin said Kristen Anthons, and skipper Jenssen exclaimed:

"Why, I know Kristen, and a fine girl she is."

When the Grunnigen left Aberdeen, Baldwin was aboard.

There is some urgency. Baldwin needs a good combination of weather at sea and boat timing. His tour of duty ends on April 2. To marry before then, Kristen must be in Iceland by Feb. 28 to comply with Icelandic marriage laws.

Merry Cypriot Prisoners Stream Out to Freedom

Liberation Joy Rocks The Island

NICOSIA, Cyprus —(UPI) — Nearly 1,000 Cypriot prisoners released by the British streamed out of detention camps to freedom Sunday. Their liberation touched off one of the greatest outbursts of celebration ever seen on this once-embattled island.

British troops were confined to their camps to cut down the risk of clashes with the jubilant Cypriots, who poured into the streets at the first reports that all detention camps had been closed and their prisoners freed.

Troops in one section of the Mediterranean island were reported to have stoned carloads of released Cypriots — an incident reflecting bitterness over the amount of blood spilled in the past four years.

To Cypriots, however, the release meant the official end of the long "emergency" on this disputed island, the acceptance of their independence.

As wildly cheering detainees, many of them bearded, streamed into the island's cities, the emotions of Greek Cypriots exploded into celebration.

It was virtually impossible to move in the heart of Nicosia because of the crowds shouting, "the emergency is really ending," and, "we're happy — we're happy."

The detainees, many of them political prisoners, had been ordered released by Cyprus Gov. Sir Hugh Foot, who returned from London Saturday. The release was a result of last week's London Cyprus government which established independence for the island.

But the bitterness of years of struggle between Greek Cypriot and Briton still remained like an ugly cloud over the celebration.

Cap Goes Off, Takes Boy's Finger

A seven-year-old South Miami boy lost one of his fingers, split his hand and received severe cuts over his body Sunday when a dynamite cap exploded, while he was playing with it.

Andy Learner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Learner of 6171 SW 72nd Ave., was taken to Variety Children's Hospital following the accident at his home about 2:30 p.m.

The boy's father said Andy apparently was playing with a dynamite cap brought home the week before by his older brother, Dennis, 11.

He said Dennis found a box of dynamite caps in a shack on Lower Matecumbe Key, where he went last weekend with neighbors.

After Andy was sent to his room for a nap Sunday, his father said, the parents and a visiting neighbor heard a bang "that didn't sound very loud" in the upper part of the house where the boy's bedroom is located.

They found the boy in the bathroom trying to wash himself off, Learner said. The father said the boy lost a finger on his right hand, split the hand, and had deep lacerations "from head to foot."

. . . 'the worst part is the taxes'

Miami Family Doesn't Mind Close Race With Inflation

Second of a Series

By STAN JOHNSON
Herald Business Writer

A Miami family with an income of $5,600 a year finds that it's not hard to live with inflation.

"Sure, we have to spend more to live these days, but we've got more to spend," says Gardiner Snyder, an outside plant engineer for Southern Bell Telephone Co.

Cost-of-living indexes hold no special interest for Snyder. He has his own yardsticks:

His youngest child, born six months ago, cost $400 in doctors' and medical expenses — twice as much as his oldest, born eight years ago.

A few years ago, he remembers, his wife paid a dollar for three pounds of hamburger. Now she pays 69 cents a pound.

His electric bill averages $20 a month, compared with $10 a month in 1952.

He spends twice as much on gasoline as he did two years ago because he lives farther from his job.

His automobile insurance costs $160 a year, compared with $100 in 1956.

His income tax has climbed from $137 in 1952 to $680 last year, real estate tax has increased from $5 to $40, and gasoline tax is two cents higher.

On the other hand, Snyder's income has jumped from $1,500 in 1951, when he was going to college and working at part-time jobs, to $5,600 at the present time.

He figures his home at 3000 SW 81st Ave. is worth $2,700 more than it was when he bought it in 1954.

He's wearing better clothes than he used to, and he has better furniture and more appliances at home.

Summing up inflation, Snyder has this to say:

"We're eating more macaroni and cheese and less steak than we used to, but that's because we're paying for a new car now.

"We don't go to as many movies, and I've cut down on my hunting trips, but we've got a TV set that we didn't have four years ago.

"I guess the worst part of inflation is the taxes. They're the most damaging because I can't find anything that makes up for the increase."

Snyder expects both taxes and prices will go higher in the next few years, but he's hoping, too, that his income will keep up with them.

For Ex-Manager's Acts

Dropped Singer Sure He'll Not Be Punished

NEW YORK—(UPI)—Singer Tommy Leonetti, who lost a television date after his former manager was linked with mobsters, said Sunday he was confident he would not be punished for something allegedly done long ago and without his knowledge or consent.

The 26-year-old Lodi, N.J., crooner best known for his juke box hit "I'm Available," was dropped from Saturday night's "Dick Clark Show" on the American Broadcasting Co. network.

Leonetti said he was dropped as a result of testimony Friday before the Senate Rackets Committee in Washington accusing his former manager, John Ambrosia, of having used intimidation to push Leonetti's records.

Ambrosia was Leonetti's manager in 1954 and 1955.

"I had a manager and our agreement was that I do the singing and that he get me work," Leonetti said. "It was really that simple.

"What does a white collar worker know about his boss when he starts on a new job? My relationship with Mr. Ambrosia was such that I saw him seldom. I knew nothing about his personal life, nor anything about any reputation he may or may not have had in Chicago.

"We parted simply because I felt I was making little progress. My current manager, Dick Linke, is one of the most respected in show business. I'm confident that I shall not be punished because of something someone else is said to have done years ago without my knowledge, much less my consent."

Quotas Cut On Sugar

LONDON—(AP)—The International Sugar Council Sunday announced an immediate 2½ per cent cut in world export quotas and met urgently to decide if it should slash them lower.

The cut was caused by falling prices. It was expected to reduce exports of sugar-growing countries by a total of 159,750 metric tons during the year.

About 40 states participate in sugar council agreements, either as importers or exporters.

As the council met, there were indications that further quota cuts might be on the way. An extension to five per cent is automatic if the council session is unable to agree on policy. Well-informed British financial sources have been freely predicting a sharp cut for several weeks.

Moscow Warns Tehran -

Link With U.S. Riles Soviet

TEHRAN, Iran — (UPI) — The Soviet ambassador to Tehran warned Sunday that Iran "definitely will become our enemy" if it signs a planned mutual military aid pact with the U.S.

In a separate statement, Iranian Premier Manutscher Eghbal retorted: "We are not afraid of any threats."

The semi-official newspaper Etelaat reported the government Saturday sent the Soviets a strongly-worded note protesting against recent anti-Iranian propaganda.

Ambassador Nikolai Pegov bitterly assailed Iran's "open insult" to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev by abruptly breaking off nonaggression pact talks in Tehran earlier this month. He said Iran brushed off Russia as it would a postage stamp power.

"Iran treated us as if we were Luxembourg," he complained.

"We cannot tolerate this insult and we withdraw our proffered hand of friendship. Since Iran has taken such an attitude, she herself must be expected to suffer the consequences."

Iran, he warned, "definitely will become our enemy if it signs a bilateral military agreement with the U.S."

The Shah of Iran announced Saturday that such a pact would be signed. Only last Sunday, the government announced that despite Russian threats, it was remaining solidly in the Western camp.

Iranian Premier Eghbal appeared unruffled.

"Let them shout and abuse us until they get tired," he said. "If they think they can intimidate us and force us to relinquish our rights and interests by these means, they are sadly mistaken. On the contrary, the more the Russians attack, the greater will be the unity of the Iranian nation.

"We must all die once, and it is much better to die honorably than live dishonorably.

"We know the Soviets would not dare invade Iran because if a single Red Army soldier steps on our soil, it will mean the beginning of World War III and the destruction of the Soviets themselves."

Floodwater Drains Off

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill. —(AP) — With a section of more than 100 feet blown out of a Wabash River levee, a floodwater lake over some 33,000 acres of Illinois farmland Sunday drained back into the river.

The clay dike, east of and across the Wabash from Vincennes, Ind., was dynamited late Saturday by Lawrence County farmers seeking to save their soaked grain plantings.

The affected land in southeastern Illinois was inundated Wednesday when the levee collapsed at a point near Russellville, Ill., some 10 miles north of Vincennes.

In effect, the second breach downstream was like pulling the stopper from a bathtub. Water boiled through the opening into the falling Wabash River. Upstream, the river level was low enough so that no new flood water came into the area from the Wabash.

Jobless Aid Skirmish Coming Up

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Battle lines began forming Sunday for a third major budget skirmish between congressional Democrats and the Eisenhower administration. The issue will be legislation to help areas plagued by chronic unemployment.

Already partially successful in their drive to push through housing and airport aid bills which exceed the President's requests, the Democrats were expected to press for an ambitious area redevelopment program.

Eisenhower vetoed a big redevelopment bill last year that carried a 275-million-dollar price tag. He followed up this year by resubmitted his own 55-million-dollar program.

The Senate Banking Committee will begin looking at the administration program and Democratic counter proposals Wednesday. A House banking subcommittee will start its hearings on the widely varying bills March 9.

Both houses were expected to come up with programs that would cost more than the administration wants to spend despite Republican objections that this would upset the President's delicately balanced 77-billion-dollar budget.

In announcing the House hearings, Chairman Brent Spence (D., Ky.) of the banking committee said area redevelopment legislation is "urgently needed."

"Despite extreme effort, people in many economically depressed areas have been unable to improve their economic position," Spence said. "Continued and persistent unemployment in these areas now constitutes a national problem."

Or maybe you bet horses and Jackie ran your money to the book. Or you bet fights and Jackie was stakeholder. Joseph Noceri is Jackie Mason — full of spaghet.

Of all the bangers we ever had around here none was more colorful than this cocky little loud-mouth.

He was his own manager, trainer and financial adviser. He wasn't much of a fighter, but no man could be more cute for two minutes of each round, and more furious and slambang the last minute. Jackie always went to the corner with the fans whooping. So he worked his way up to main bouts, and was careful not to get overmatched.

Jackie was a money hustler after he quit fighting in 1931. Then he drifted up to Columbus, Ga., where he went into business. He now has three restaurants there. Friday was his 51st birthday. The years have added plenty of poundage. You know how those Italians can eat.

Jax Mayor A Hopeful?

By JOHN BOYLES
Capitol Bureau Chief

BOYLES

TALLAHASSEE — Jacksonville's Mayor Hayden Burns is seen by some capital observers as a definite starter in the 1960 gubernatorial derby.

Burns frequently has been mentioned as an aspirant for higher office — governor, U.S. Senator, or perhaps a state cabinet post.

Well informed sources believe the veteran mayor is counting on being able to develop a strong organization through friends in the state municipal league.

His long association with that organization has helped him develop contacts in city halls throughout Florida.

And Faircloth

IS EARL Faircloth preparing for the next gubernatorial primary on the banquet circuit?

The Miami attorney sounded like a candidate the other night in a speech before the Orange County Bar Association and he indicated he thinks former Gov. Millard Caldwell may be in the race.

In fact, Faircloth hinted he's ready to contest Caldwell for the office.

He told the lawyers that "according to the papers, former Gov. Caldwell pitches a temper tantrum every time he makes a public appearance."

Faircloth said Caldwell "would lead us to believe that breathing fire and brimstone toward Washington will reverse procedures well established."

Faircloth, however, commended Sen. Talmadge of Georgia for what he called being truthful with the people in advising that the Supreme Court decision desegregating schools can be changed only by a reversal of the court itself, or by a constitutional amendment.

Caldwell told us recently he isn't a candidate, but he just wants to arouse the people to meet the issues of the day. It is evident that if he is going to run for governor he has "aroused" a possible opponent.

New Hit Tune

GOV. LEROY Collins predicts that the snappy tune "Follow The Sun," which happily tells about the wonderful Florida weather while they are shuffling through the snow in Chicago and Buffalo, is going to be a hit.

Dick Pope of Cypress Gardens gave the recording of Ken Somerville's song by Ray Trotta and his orchestra to Collins, who played it for newsmen at a recent press conference.

Chemicals Boom Due For State

WASHINGTON — Chemical-producing facilities costing an estimated $13,250,000 will be constructed in Florida during 1959 and 1960, according to the Manufacturing Chemists' Association.

This includes $10,450,000 for three projects underway and $2,800,000 for three projects scheduled for early groundbreaking.

According to the annual MCA survey, Florida chemical producers in 1958 completed 13 projects, costing approximately $100,375,000.

The estimated Florida total on these construction expenditures for the three-year survey period, 1958-60, is $113,625,000—10th highest figure in the nation.

This represents 19 privately-financed projects in 14 communities by 14 companies and 3.4 per cent of the total domestic chemical construction for that period.

Construction of facilities for plastics, resins, and synthetic fibers leads in the classification by use category for Florida, with a three-year figure of 70 million dollars.

Following are general organic chemicals, $26,750,000; general inorganics, $8,550,000; petrochemicals, six million dollars; fertilizer chemicals, $2,225,000, and laboratories, $100,000.

The MCA also said $368,420,000 has been spent to build chemical plants in Florida during the past five years. The figure is conservative because the survey was more limited in its early years.

Chemical production is the third largest industry in Florida. The state ranks 19th in chemical production, with a value added by manufacture of more than $156,300,000 annually.

Jacksonville Company Sold

NORFOLK, Va.—(AP)—Southern Materials Co. Inc. today announced the purchase of Ingram Concrete Co., Jacksonville, Fla.

Board Chairman Henry C. Hofheimer III made the announcement in a letter to shareholders. Purchase price was about one million.

The acquisition of Ingram, trading as Jacksonville Concrete Co., would increase consolidated sales four million dollars in the next fiscal year, Hofheimer said. The move is Southern's first in Florida.

Hofheimer said Ingram owns and operates ready-mixed concrete plants at Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Macclenny, and a concrete block plant in Jacksonville.

Como Turns The Tables On Court

JUPITER — Crooner Perry Como apparently turned the joke on the "Brothers of the Brush" who planned to put him on trial Saturday in a "kangaroo court" on charges of not growing any chin whiskers.

COMO

The way it turned out, Perry — who was arrested about 2,500,000 less than last the Jupiter Lighthouse Centennial Festival — appeared in an artificial beard, plug hat and red coat.

Thus disguised as a beachcombing tourist, the Jupiter kangaroo court failed to recognize him.

When the singer finally doffed the beard he was virtually overcome in the large crowd that pressed around and had to be rescued by mounted cops.

Como recently has been vacationing at his Hobe Sound home.

Five Killed In Mishaps In Florida

At least five persons perished in Florida accidents during the weekend.

Two men died in the same wreck when their automobile rammed the rear of a turning truck near Boynton Beach Saturday night. The Florida Highway Patrol identified them as Ramon Mancilla, 49, and Jack Solano, 20, both Mexican migrant farm workers.

Willie Doyle, 34, of Miami, was killed in a Sunday morning traffic accident on State Rd. 9, in North Dade County.

James Wilbur Kirkland, 14, of Jacksonville was killed Saturday in the discharge of a shotgun which a chum said he fired involuntarily when a playful dog jumped on his back.

Robert Smetak, 41, of Miami was killed in a four-car collision in Miami Friday night.

Scientists To Compete

TALLAHASSEE —(UPI)— High schoolers with a yen for science will compete in April for awards in the annual Florida Science Fair.

Top winners in the senior division will go the national fair at Hartford, Conn. The sophomore or junior winner will get a five-day cruise aboard a Navy ship.

Original exhibits in the show, to run from April 9-11, will include everything from insects to atoms. Some 230 entrants are expected.

The students who bring exhibits to the fair, held at Florida State University, won regional contests, held earlier

They'll Head For the Sun

PROVIDENCE, R.I. — (AP) — Seventeen Boy Scouts and four adult leaders gladly waved goodbye to relatives in subfreezing temperatures and started a two-week tour of the South.

The Scouts will travel in a station wagon caravan, stopping to camp at military bases in Maryland, North and South Carolina en route to Tampa.

Valencia Outlook Is Bright

LAKELAND — (UPI) — Florida Citrus Mutual reported the color and quality of the new crop of Valencia oranges are good, with sizes running normal to large. Volume movement is expected to begin early in April.

Robert W. Rutledge, mutual general manager, based his report on a survey made by field representatives in 16 counties.

Sectional summaries included:

HARDEE — Some young trees are now meeting maturity standards but it is expected to be April 1-15 before any volume will be moved.

HIGHLANDS — A number of older trees with little or no crop this year due to last year's cold weather, are showing bloom for a potentially good crop next season.

DE SOTO — Some ratios are low because of high acids although solids (sugars) are high. Bloom buds showing heavy on most groves and if present weather continues should open within two weeks.

ST. LUCIE, INDIAN RIVER and BREVARD — Some splitting has been reported due to abnormal moisture conditions. Movement in volume not expected before March 1.

POLK — Sizes are about normal with good quality and color with the exception of areas severely damaged by last year's freeze.

ORANGE, OSCEOLA and SEMINOLE — Valencias are generally expected to pick-out better than mid-season oranges. Pounds of solids are very good with some running as high as 12.

HILLSBOROUGH — Maturity is advancing with some Valencias beginning to move, although it is expected to be April before volume is reached.

LAKE — Heaviest planting are in Valencias and a large percentage of these are young trees, 14 years old and younger. Young trees are reaching maturity and are being harvested in light volume for fresh fruit and chilled juice outlets.

MARION — Volume is short as a result of last year's freeze. Trees should be in bloom in 10 days to two weeks.

VOLUSIA and PUTNAM — There is no buying activity in this area on Valencias, since none are passing maturity standards yet. In Oak Hill area there is about normal crop as to quality and volume. In West Volusia the volume of Valencias will be light, due to last year's freeze damage.

PASCO — Some dropping of Valencias, which growers believe is due to high winds of Feb. 4. Bloom is coming slowly, and so far, a bumper crop for next year is not expected.

Modification of '3 and Out' Driver License Law Urged

By STEPHEN TRUMBULL
Herald Staff Writer

The next Legislature will be asked to make drastic changes in the law that arbitrarily suspends the driver's license of anyone convicted of three "moving violations" in a one-year period.

Hundreds of persons have lost their licenses for periods up to six months under the law, with such trivial "moving violations" as improper left turns contributing to the "three and out" count.

Most of the legislators and organizations out to change the law will urge a point system substitute, with the points toward license lifting varying with the seriousness of the offense.

A survey by The Herald showed Sunday that even such safety crusading organizations as the Dade County Citizens Safety Council believe that the law has led to gross injustices and "hardship cases" and should be changed.

They believe hundreds of licenses have been unjustly lifted under the law.

The survey also revealed that the Miami Beach Bar Association, representatives of trucking and taxi firms, and a lot of individual "victims" of the law are massing against it. These are asking to be heard when the Dade lawmakers hold their pre-session conferences March 2 and 3.

All agencies and individuals contacted believed that the law is "fine in principle," but that the inclusion of such trivial offenses as improper left turns in adding up the "three moving violations" has penalized many non-hazardous drivers.

State Sen. Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson of West Palm Beach said similar resentment to the arbitrary features of the law also is sweeping his county, and that he will propose a modification.

He is a member of the Senate Highway Safety Committee headed by Sen. Joe Eaton of Miami.

SEN. EATON HEADLEY

Miami Police Chief Walter Headley said he was "heartily in favor of a change."

"I would urge a point system on violations, and revocation of license after a specified number of points have been totaled," he said. "Give the hot-rodder and the habitual speeder a stiff number of points, but it's not right to penalize as severely the fellow who does nothing worse than turn the wrong way into a one-way street."

Robert Finley, South Florida manager of the American Automobile Association, said state directors will meet here Friday to discuss needed changes in the law. His agency favored the point system when the law was adopted at the last session of the Legislature. This suggestion was opposed as "to difficult to administer."

J. I. Jackson, executive director of the citizen's safety council, said his agency also had suggested the point system — plus a driver re-education program.

State Rep. David Eldredge of Miami said he has been swamped with complaints about the law. He added that he is "ready and willing to listen to any suggestion."

"I still think we must have laws to ground the hot-rodders and the really dangerous drivers," he said.

State Rep. George L. Hollahan of South Miami also went on record as favoring some form of a point system as against the blanket knock out for any three "moving violations."

Capt. J. W. Jourdan, in charge of the Florida Highway Patrol for this district, was the only staunch defender of the law that could be found. He admitted there were some arbitrary rulings when the law first went into effect.

But, he said, in the last few months investigations have been made in individual cases and the period of suspension has been governed by the seriousness of the violation.

To Report July 1

Presbyterian College Names Bevan Prexy

ST. PETERSBURG—(AP)—Dr. John M. Bevan, 34, an associate professor of psychology at Davidson (N.C.) College, will become dean of Florida Presbyterian College at St. Petersburg July 1.

Announcement of Bevan's appointment came Sunday from Dr. William H. Kadel, president of the new four-year liberal arts college.

Kadel said Bevan will spend four months seeking faculty members for the college and helping to work out a schedule of classes to be offered.

Plans call for opening the college at the former U.S. Maritime Training School at St. Petersburg until completion of buildings at the campus, which will be on Boga Ciega Bay, just northwest of Sunshine Skyway, the bridge across Tampa Bay.

Kadel termed Bevan one of the most outstanding young educators in the South. He holds bachelors, masters and Ph.D. degrees from Duke University. Bevan also was graduated from Franklin and Marshall College.

The Presbyterians have launched a 10 million dollar building fund drive for the new college. They also seek an endowment of five million dollars.

Teamsters Want Airlines, Citrus, Sears

Hoffa Sets Sights on New Fields

By DOM BONAFEDE
Herald Staff Writer

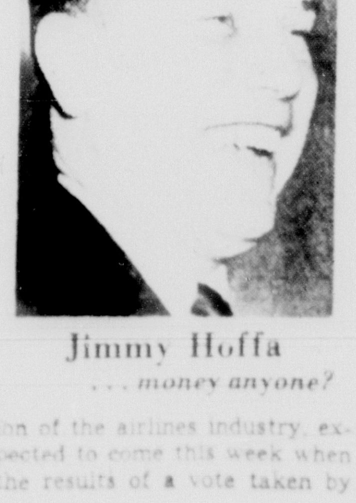
Jimmy Hoffa, bulldozing Teamsters Union boss, and his top aides meet in Miami Beach today looking for new fields to conquer.

While here the 15-man Teamsters executive board will map strategy for a series of upcoming labor battles.

Never one to run from a fight, Hoffa will have his hands full the next few months masterminding organizational drives and warding off blows aimed at toppling him from his perch.

The board, with Hoffa calling the shots, will gather in high style at the Eden Roc Hotel to discuss:

INFILTRATION by the union of the airlines industry, expected to come this week when the results of a vote taken by Pan American World Airways' stock clerks is announced.



Jimmy Hoffa
. . . money anyone?

WAYS to push their campaign to capture citrus workers in Florida.

HOW to make gains in the South, using Dade County as a wedge.

METHODS to defeat a threat by Gov. Luis Munoz and AFL-CIO President George Meany to block a full-blown Teamsters invasion of Puerto Rico.

PLANS to oil up their drive on some 70,000 Sears Roebuck employes.

Also while here Hoffa is certain to personally survey potential investment plums in which to sink some of the Teamsters' millions.

He already has loaned more than three million dollars to operators of the Castaways Motel, Miami Beach, and the Everglades Hotel in Miami. Chances are good other Greater Miami businessmen have gone into hock to the Teamsters, although it has not yet come to light.

During the sessions here the Teamsters will have an eye and an ear tuned into the AFL-CIO executive council parley in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Hoffa is expected to strike up a flirtation with the 850,000-member Carpenters Union if its president, Maurice Hutcheson, is suspended by the AFL-CIO brass.

That possibility dwindled Saturday, however, when the council under Meany's urging decided to postpone action against Hutcheson.

Confidence Vote Given Legislators

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — The Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce went on record here gsunday in opposition toyna Sunday in opposition to any move to abolish Florida's free public school system.

Without mentioning the segregation-integration issue, the Jaycees adopted a resolution supporting the free public school system established under the constitution of Florida.

It ordered copies of the resolution be sent to all members of the Legislature.

"The Jaycees believe the public schools must be preserved and that it is the responsibility that preservation and control of the public school system rest in the hands of the citizens of Florida," the resolution prepared by the Jaycees Public education section declared.

The Jaycees also said it is the "inherent duty" of civic organizations to involve themselves in issues which effect the life of the community it serves, and "the Jaycees are deeply concerned with the invaluable role which public education plays in the continued growth in Florida."

In another resolution, the Jaycees expressed full confidence in the existing public school program in Florida and urged adequate financing of the minimum foundation program for public schools.

It turned down a resolution which called for strengthening of the federal pollution control act and doubling the current sewage treatment plant construction grant program to provide for a maximum of $500,000 for any one grant.

It passed resolutions that:

CALLS for enactment of a law requiring annual automobile inspections at private garages approved by the state.

REQUIRE erection of warning equipment at every railroad crossing in Florida, complying with safety standards of the American Railroad Association.

REQUESTS FOR adoption of a four-cent stamp bearing the American flag in its true colors.

Other resolutions asked enactment of state laws requiring a license for "cane pole" fishermen, a state boat licensing law, and a law requiring those 18 and under to complete a hunter safety program before being issued a hunting license.

Congress was urged to adopt legislation withholding federal aid from drainage projects affecting wildlife and the Jaycees endorsed the "Wilderness bill preserving wilderness areas in the U.S.

The conference also petitioned Congress to amend the federal power act to provide that no license affecting fish and wildlife resources be issued until plans of the dam, or other project, has been approved by the Secretary of the Interior.

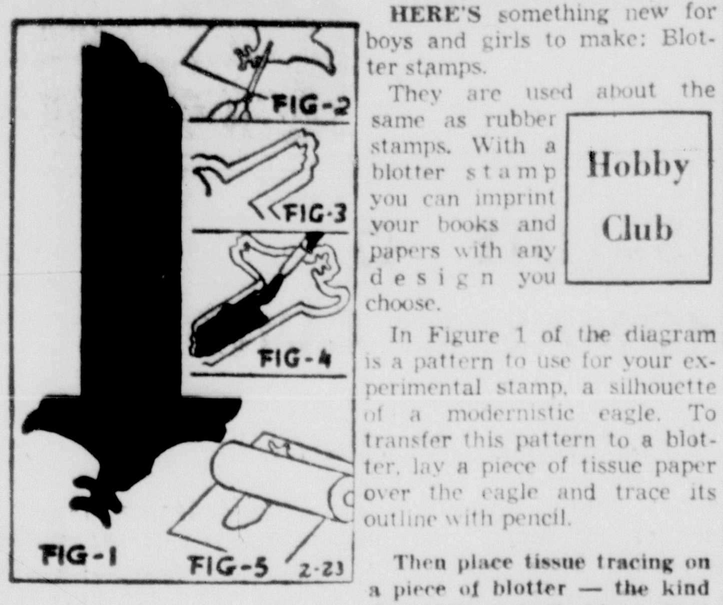
Stamp Your Property With Homemade Blotter

By CAPPY DICK



Hobby Club

HERE'S something new for boys and girls to make: Blotter stamps.

They are used about the same as rubber stamps. With a blotter stamp you can imprint your books and papers with any design you choose.

In Figure 1 of the diagram is a pattern to use for your experimental stamp, a silhouette of a modernistic eagle. To transfer this pattern to a blotter, lay a piece of tissue paper over the eagle and trace its outline with pencil.

Then place tissue tracing on a piece of blotter — the kind that blots on both sides is best — and with a sharp-pointed pencil and plenty of pressure trace the outline of the eagle. When you have done so, lift the tissue pattern and you will find the pencil point has neatly impressed the outline on on the blotter.

With scissors, cut the eagle out of the blotter as in Figure 2. The scissors must follow the outline exactly. In small corners where it is hard to manipulate the scissors, use the point of a sharp knife.

The next step is to make an underlay for the blotter eagle. This also is cut out of the blotter. Simply place the eagle on the blotter and trace its general outline with pencil, making the shape about one-eighth of an inch larger all around than the original eagle. Cut this underlay out and glue the two eagles together as in Figure 3.

When the glue has dried, brush ink over the entire surface of the first blotter eagle (Figure 4). Do not put ink on the underlay. Place the inked side of the blotter stamp on a piece of paper, then roll an empty bottle or rolling pin over it lightly (Figure 5). Lift the stamp and you will discover the eagle has been imprinted on the paper. To print again, simply brush more ink over the stamp.

Should Ike Name Successor?

Key Demo Senators Split on Dulles Stand

Neuberger Criticizes Colleagues

Says Secretary Entitled to Time

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Key Democratic senators split sharply Sunday over whether President Eisenhower should immediately name a successor to ailing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D., Ore.) now back in the Senate after an attack by cancer, the same ailment suffered by Dulles, commented sharply on suggestions by some of his Democratic colleagues that Dulles be replaced.

Neuberger said that President Eisenhower and Dulles doctors "should be allowed a decent interval in which to decide the secretary's future without being hounded to force his resignation.

Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (D., Minn.) and Stuart Symington (D., Mo.) called for an early decision by the President. But Neuberger was joined by two others—Sens. John J. Sparkman (D., Ala.) and John F. Kennedy (D., Mass.) — in urging that the President be given a little time.

A Republican, Sen. Karl E. Mundt (S.D.) summed up most GOP reaction when he said he hoped Dulles would remain.

Symington touched off the controversy Saturday when, after voicing sympathy for the stricken Dulles, he said Eisenhower should promptly name a successor so the nation would have a firm hand at the foreign policy helm.

Humphrey endorsed the suggestion Sunday asserting that the nation must have its strongest and best qualified spokesman at the foreign policymaking level "at this very critical period."

Humphrey is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee — as are Kennedy and Sparkman.

Sparkman, in taking a go-slow approach to any Dulles replacement, said the secretary may bounce back from his hernia operation and cancer ailment if given a reasonable time. Sparkman said, "if anyone can, I believe he will."

Neuberger said "the faithful service of Mr. Dulles to our country merits a reasonable time in which to appraise his future."

Meanwhile vice president Richard M. Nixon paid a hospital call on Dulles Sunday —his first since the secretary underwent his operation Feb. 13. They discussed the Berlin situation for 45 minutes.

Dulles brother, Allen W., head of the Central Intelligence Agency, also called to give the secretary a briefing on the world situation.

There was no indication whether Dulles discussed with Nixon the Democratic calls for a new secretary.

Red Press Hushes Attacks on Britain

Macmillan, Khrushchev Chat On Berlin, Cold War Thaw

MOSCOW —(AP)— Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Premier Nikita Khrushchev talked over world affairs privately Sunday at a Soviet government villa in a pine woods 50 miles southeast of Moscow. They toasted Britain's royal family.

The visiting British leader was the overnight guest of Premier and Mrs. Khrushchev at the villa, a sprawling, one-story house once owned by Joseph Stalin.

Soviet and British spokesmen announced the government chiefs, accompanied by top aides, discussed all subjects of mutual interest in informal sessions before and after lunch.

Although the announcements did not go into detail, West Berlin's future and the issue of German unity rank high among subjects of mutual interest.

Formal conferences open today in the Kremlin.

Macmillan was accompanied at the villa by his Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, and Sir Patrick Riley, the British ambassador to Moscow.

With Khrushchev were Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, a recent visitor to the U.S.; Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, and Jacob A. Malik, Soviet ambassador to Britain.

The villa lies outside the 25-mile limit beyond which foreign correspondents and photographers are forbidden to travel from Moscow. So Western newsmen were dependent on the Soviet news agency Tass and briefings from Western officials for the news.

A British spokesman said the ministers' conversations—one lasting 75 minutes before lunch and the second lasting two hours — were held in a relaxed atmosphere.

"The two great men got on very well together," he said.

The villa was built in 1939 for Stalin, who often used it to entertain guests. The British spokesman said he saw no police or soldiers on the grounds.

People fished and skated on a lake near the house.

All unfavorable mention of Britain appeared banished from Soviet newspapers with the arrival of Macmillan Saturday for a 10-day visit avowedly aimed to see about chances of easing cold war tensions. Attacks against West Germany and the U.S. were printed as usual.

The Soviet press was full of news of Macmillan.

The full text of his speech at a Kremlin dinner Saturday night in which he warned against the danger of "muddling" into war was carried in the papers, including his declaration that colonialism and imperialism were bygone episodes.

Observers noted it was the first time in years that the Soviet picture of "the aggressive West" had been contradicted so effectively in the papers reaching millions of Russians.

The papers hailed Macmillan's "return visit" for a 10-day state tour — a reference to the fact that he said Saturday he had last been in Russia as a private tourist in 1929.

Fignole Readies Move Against Regime

Haiti Told to Expect General Strike Call

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti —(AP)— Daniel Fignole, ousted as Haiti's provisional president by a 1957 army coup after 19 days in office, Sunday told his followers to get ready for a general strike against the government.

Broadcasting over Radio Havana's Radio Progresso, Fignole urged his backers to join with other opposition groups in a drive to oust President Francois Duvalier.

A check around the city showed listeners tuned in to his broadcast in all sectors of Port-au-Prince. It had been scheduled since Thursday.

In many slum areas, long lines of prospective listeners formed outside of homes with radios hours before the broadcast. The United Opposition, which includes former Sen. Louis DeJoie and onetime presidential candidate Clement Jumelle, broadcasts three times a week over Radio Progresso.

'Millions Can Be Saved'

End Payroll Padding, U.S. Agencies Told

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The chairman of the House Appropriations Committee called Sunday for a crackdown on what he described as payroll padding by government agencies.

"Untold millions of dollars can be saved by getting rid of some of the thousands of unnecessary jobs," Rep. Clarence E. Cannon (D. Mo.) said.

"Since the agencies themselves aren't likely to cooperate in an employment curtailment move," Cannon said, "Congress must step in."

He proposed that Congress use its power of the purse string to get results.

Cannon said he would urge the House to include in its next appropriation bill a provision which would have the effect of cutting payrolls an estimated 20 per cent without anyone being fired.

It would require that three out of every four vacancies occurring during the year be left vacant until an agency's overall personnel roster dropped to 80 per cent of what it was in the preceding year.

The only exceptions would be vacancies occurring in policy-level jobs requiring Senate confirmation.

"Payrolls constitute one of the largest items of expense in the federal budget," Cannon said. "If we are going to cut down expenditures and balance the budget, the payrolls are the best starting place.

"All the agencies have more employes than they need. There is not a single one of them which couldn't do its job efficiently and effectively with fewer employes to get in each other's way.

"If the administration is sincere in its professed desire to cut down expenses, then the agencies should willingly go along with this proposal."

Kennedy Not in Race --Just Yet

Talmadge Gives Plug to Johnson

The New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts said Sunday that "the appropriate time" for him to announce his plans regarding the Democratic presidential nomination would be in 1960.

The senator, generally regarded as the leading contender for the nomination, declared on the CBS-TV program, "Face the Nation," that he was "not a candidate at this time."

He said he thought Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas had a "practical chance" to win the nomination, and that Adlai E. Stevenson, the defeated candiate of 1952 and 1956, could conceivably be nominated again if the convention were deadlocked over other candidates.

Sen. Herman Talmadge, (D., Ga.), appearing on ABC-TV's "College News Conference," endorsed Sen. Johnson for the nomination. He said he was one of the ablest men he had ever seen and was qualified to hold any office in the country.

House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, appearing on another program, emphasized the obvious by predicting that "established candidates will start in ahead of the game" at next year's Republican convention. The "established candidates," he explained on Mutual radio's "Reporter's Roundup," were Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Rep. Halleck said he did not think the vice president was assured of the nomination. The convention, he said, would as usual be "unbossed" and would consider "all the best candidates."

Kennedy denied again, as he had in other public appearances, a recent assertion by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt that his father, Joseph E. Kennedy, was making large financial contributions to his campaign and had "agents" working for him in many states to line up delegates.

"There are no such expenditures and no such agents," Kennedy said. He said he had so informed Mrs. Roosevelt, who said she had heard the reports in "casual conversations" with persons whose names she couldn't remember.

Masferrer Friends Shot

HAVANA, Cuba —(AP)— Two civilians and two policemen were wounded Sunday in an exchange of gunfire involving friends of former Sen. Rolando Masferrer, a Batista supporter now in exile in Miami.

Police identified the civilians as Manuel Morales and Jose Alberto Garcia, Masferrer's friends.

Officers had arrested Garcia and Jesus Basulto for lack of proper identification, then stopped to let Morales identify them. An exchange of shots followed, and Basulto escaped.

'Sent Up My Buddy,' Assailant Says

Three Thugs Slash Judge

GREENSBURG, Ind. —(AP)— Three thugs lured Mayor Sheldon Smith to his downtown office late Saturday night and methodically sliced his face, hands and body with a double-edged razor blade.

He was reported in fair condition Sunday.

The 39-year-old mayor, former state chairman of Indiana Young Republicans, also is judge of the Greensburg City Court.

He told police the man who did the slicing, while his companions held Smith, snarled:

"You sent up my buddy, and you're going to pay for it."

Smith, mayor of this town of 7,000 for 10 years, said all three men were strangers to him, but he had seen the razor-blade wielder Saturday afternoon in a restaurant.

One of the men enticed Smith to his private accountant's office by telephone, saying he wanted help in preparing an income tax return. He gave the name, J.B. Patton, but Police Chief Warren Melick said it undoubtedly was fictitious.

The mayor was able to call police before he collapsed. He was sliced on both hands, the end of the nose, behind both ears, on the abdomen and on the right thigh.

Under heavy sedation, the mayor could give only meager descriptions of his attackers. He said two were in their 20s and the man with the razor blade was in his 30s.

Higher Wages Come First

Shortened Work Week? Hoffa Gives It the Cold Shoulder

By TOM LOWNES
Herald Staff Writer

Teamster Boss Jimmy Hoffa turned his back on the mainstream of America's labor leaders in Miami Sunday when he came out strongly against any shortening of the 40-hour work-week.

"I'd be the first to oppose it if it came up before the board," said Hoffa, who met with his 15-man Teamster executive board at Miami Beach's Eden Roc Hotel to begin a four-day quarterly business session.

Hoffa said members of his truckers' union are more interested in higher wages than shorter working hours.

"We're not going to worry about a few hours off until we've raised living standards first," said Hoffa.

"Who wants to stand still with the same wages for two or three years just to have the extra time." Hoffa asked reporters gathered in one of the Teamsters' ocean-front suites.

"If you took a vote on it, I don't think the workers in our union would stand for it — and they're no different from the workers in any other union," said Hoffa.

His remark was pointed at Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, who dropped his fight for shorter hours in favor of other demands during the UAW's last bargaining campaign in Detroit.

"And shorter hours," said Hoffa, "wouldn't change the employment situation one bit. If a man had to work only four eight-hour days at one job, he'd just take another part-time job — probably for less pay."

On the subject of secondary jobs, Hoffa — who is part owner of at least one trucking firm — defended his right to have as many outside businesses as time permits.

"A labor leader is no different from anybody else," said Hoffa. "As long as he takes care of his union, he shouldn't be limited to one professional pursuit."

Hoffa said his board may meet this week with the three court-appointed monitors who oversee the union he heads only as "provisional" president.

Even while discussing charges in the Teamster auditing system with the monitors, Hoffa and his lieutenants will huddle with their lawyers to duscuss new ways of getting rid of the monitors.

Trouble on the national front, or not, Hoffa was pleased with "the model campaign" his six full-time organizers are waging in Dade County.

"We have 4,900 Teamsters in Miami now," said Hoffa, "and the ones who are organized are in good positions to organize the rest."

What pleased him most, Hoffa said, was the local drive on the concrete industry, which resulted last month in a Teamster contract with Acme Cement. Acme is second in size only to Maule Industries, which was already a Teamster holding.

"We'll get the whole industry now," said Hoffa. "It's an important break because it gives us a base to work from in the construction industry."

Next on the Teamster's Dade list, said Hoffa, will be building supply firms, block shops, and lumber yards.

He also said his organizers are beginning to make progress with Dade's hotel doormen and gas stations.

Hoffa had news for loan-hungry Florida businessmen: "There will not be any more Teamster investments in Florida," said Hoffa, who has put nearly four million dollars from his union's retirement fund into Dade mortgages.

"The poeple here — particularly the newspapers — didn't like it," said Hoffa.

Doctor Beaten Fatally

RICHMOND, Va. —(AP)— Dr. Austin I. Dodson Sr., 67, nationally known urologist and head of the urology department at the Medical College Virginia, was found beaten to death early Sunday in Monroe Park in midtown Richmond.

While robbery apparently was the motive for the attack, said Detective Patrolman George Perkins, it appeared nothing had been taken from the physician.

DR. DODSON

Dr. Dodson and his wife were planning to attend a musical concert at the nearby City Auditorium. Mrs. Dodson said her busband dropped her off at the auditorium and then went to park the car.

Police theorized the doctor parked the car and was on his way through the park to the auditorium when he was attacked.

Newfoundland Cable Is Out

LONDON —(AP)— The 35-million-dollar telephone cable between Scotland and Newfoundland was still out of operation Sunday night, 24 hours after developing a fault toward the western end.

The British post office said service was being maintained by radio channels "but there may be delays in connecting telephone calls to North America."

In Montreal, Douglas F. Bowie, president of the Canadian Overseas Telecommunication Corp., said the fault had been tracked to a spot about 200 miles east of Clarenville, Nfld. A cable ship has been sent to the area, he said.

Boatmen Eager To Be Shown

Miamians—30,289 of them — jammed Dinner Key Auditorium Sunday night to see the latest in boats at the International Boat Show.

It brought three-day attendance at the show to 66,976.

The show runs from 1 until 11 p.m. each day through Wednesday.

Ike Bee-Lines To Gettysburg

GETTYSBURG, Pa. — (AP) — President Eisenhower went for a drive Sunday and made a bee-line for his country estate.

Eisenhower motored up from the White House just to spend the day. His son and daughter-in-law and their four children already were at their cottage in a corner of the Eisenhower estate.

Darned Clever . . .

Tomato, Tomahto, Potato-- Ah, Nuts

TOKYO—(UPI)—A Chinese Red with a green thumb claims he has developed a plant which grows fat potatoes on its roots below ground and plump red tomatoes above ground, it was reported Sunday.

An issue of the magazine "China Reconstructs," a Peiping publication, arrived in Tokyo Sunday and described the work of Chiang Shao-fang, 22, who is rapidly approaching the status of hero in China and is, by his own account, leaving Luther Burbank in the shade.

Chiang, who had a "cleaner's job" at the Normal College at Yulin, Kwangsi province, in 1955 reported "surprising results" with animals as well as plants.

"By taking the white from a goose egg and injecting it into a hen's egg, I also succeeded in producing a large bird of great stamina with very fine grade meat," he said.

But his "proudest achievements" were in the plant world.

Along with his potato-tomato plant, he said he developed drought-resistant rice by crossing rice with sorghum. He admitted that even Communist textbooks said this was impossible.

Merry Cypriot Prisoners Stream Out to Freedom

Liberation Joy Rocks The Island

NICOSIA, Cyprus —(UPI) — Nearly 1,000 Cypriot prisoners released by the British streamed out of detention camps to freedom Sunday. Their liberation touched off one of the greatest outbursts of celebration ever seen on this once-embattled island.

British troops were confined to their camps to cut down the risk of clashes with the jubilant Cypriots, who poured into the streets at the first reports that all detention camps had been closed and their prisoners freed.

Troops in one section of the Mediterranean island were reported to have stoned carloads of released Cypriots — an incident reflecting bitterness over the amount of blood spilled in the past four years.

To Cypriots, however, the release meant the official end of the long "emergency" on this disputed island, the acceptance of their independence.

As wildly cheering detainees, many of them bearded, streamed into the island's cities, the emotions of Greek Cypriots exploded into celebration.

It was virtually impossible to move in the heart of Nicosia because of the crowds shouting, "the emergency is really ending," and, "we're happy — we're happy."

The detainees, many of them political prisoners, had been ordered released by Cyprus Gov. Sir Hugh Foot, who returned from London Saturday. The release was a result of last week's London Cyprus government which established independence for the island.

But the bitterness of years of struggle between Greek Cypriot and Briton still remained like an ugly cloud over the celebration.

Inflation Necessary?

NEW YORK—(AP)—Dr. Sumner Slichter, Harvard economist, took issue Sunday with efforts of the Eisenhower administration to balance the federal budget.

To achieve maximum production, he said, about 97 per cent of the labor force would have to be at work — three per cent more than the present level of employed.

Slichter, appearing on the NBC-TV program, "Meet the Press," said a measure of inflation is a necessary cost of achieving maximum economic growth.

The administration, he said, is placing too much emphasis on a stable price level and halting inflation, and too little on maximum growth.

Molasses Even Slower

GOSHEN, Ind. — (UPI) — Goshen firemen discovered something as slow as molasses in January.

It's molasses in February.

A tank truck sprang a leak during the night and, by morning, 300 pounds of the stuff had oozed its way across a Goshen street. The temperature was below zero and firemen had to use a high pressure hose to get rid of it.

Pro-Nasser Mobs Riot In Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon, —(UPI) —Pro-Nasser crowds battered and burned five street cars in downtown Beirut Sunday in an outburst of rioting that climaxed the city's celebration of the United Arab Republic's first anniversary.

Gangs of pro and anti-Nasser youths clashed in fist fights in the heart of the capital following the trolley attacks.

The Lebanese army rushed seven truckloads of helmeted troops into the city to separate the rival gangs and prevent the outburst from erupting into wider violence.

At least two persons were injured, both of them members of the Christian Falangist Party that backed ex-President Camille Chamoun.

The fighting broke out after pro-Chamoun youths scrawled slogans denouncing U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser on street cars traveling through the city's Basta Moslem quarter where the population was celebrating the U.A.R. anniversary.

Crowds of Nasser backers angered by the slogans ordered passengers out of the street cars, then smashed the windows, ripped out seats and attempted to set them afire.

Two double trolley cars and a single car were badly damaged before police scattered the demonstrators.

After attacking the street cars the angry crowd surged down the main street of the Basta quarter in an attempt to track down the slogan writers.

It was the first incident to mar the U.A.R. anniversary celebrations in Lebanon and the first major outburst in Beirut since the nation's civil strife ended last autumn.

SOUTHAMPTON, England —(AP)— The liner Queen Elizabeth sailed for New York Sunday 48 hours late because of fog. She carried 600 passengers.

Farmland Drained Of Flood Waters

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill. —(AP) — With a section of more than 100 feet blown out of a Wabash River levee, a floodwater lake over some 33,000 acres of Illinois farmland Sunday drained back into the river.

The clay dike, east of and across the Wabash from Vincennes, Ind., was dynamited late Saturday by Lawrence County farmers seeking to save their soaked grain plantings.

The affected land in southeastern Illinois was inundated Wednesday when the levee collapsed at a point near Russellville, Ill., some 10 miles north of Vincennes.

In effect, the second breach downstream was like pulling the stopper from a bathtub. Water boiled through the opening into the falling Wabash River. Upstream, the river level was low enough so that no new flood water came into the area from the Wabash.

'Changed His Position'

Collins Should Quit, Says Segregationist

By JOHN McDERMOTT
Herald Political Writer

Tampa segregationist Sumter Lowry said Sunday night in Miami Gov. LeRoy Collins should resign, charging that Collins has "changed his position" on segregation by not resisting integration of a Dade school.

Lowry, who was runnerup to Collins in the 1956 gubernatorial campaign, said Florida's governor has ignored the state constitution by his willingness to accept some racial mingling in Florida schools.

The retired National Guard general said that during the campaign for reelection, Collins "made the people believe that he was for segregation."

Lowry made his statements while being quizzed on the Channel 10 television show, "Important."

In calling for the governor's resignation, Lowry said, "He should let someone do the job, provide the leadership which we need to prevent integration in the schools."

He said he does not believe that the Dade school board's decision allowing four Negro students to enter Orchard Villa Elementary School next September will have a deterring effect upon integration in other parts of Florida.

Many observers feel the Dade decision will strengthen the pupil assignment law by showing that under the law "some" Negroes were admitted to white schools.

Lowry said that the only way to insure segregation is "total resistance," and if he were governor, he would permit integration only if federal troops with fixed bayonets forced the issue.

Philip's Visit Starts a Riot

SINGAPORE — (AP) — A crowd of 150,000 surged out of control at the Singapore Constitution Exposition Sunday during a visit by Prince Philip. Several persons were hurt in the crush, but the prince, surrounded by police, escaped harm.

The Prince, husband of Britain's Queen Elizabeth II, toured the fair on foot and by car.

Moscow Warns Tehran

Link With U.S. Riles Soviet

TEHRAN, Iran — (UPI) — The Soviet ambassador to Tehran warned Sunday that Iran "definitely will become our enemy" if it signs a planned mutual military aid pact with the U.S.

In a separate statement, Iranian Premier Manutscher Eghbal retorted: "We are not afraid of any threats."

The semi-official newspaper Etelaat reported the government Saturday sent the Soviets a strongly-worded note protesting against recent anti-Iranian propaganda.

Ambassador Nikolai Pegov bitterly assailed Iran's "open insult" to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev by abruptly breaking off non-aggression pact talks in Tehran earlier this month. He said Iran brushed off Russia as it would a postage stamp power.

"Iran treated us as if we were Luxembourg," he complained.

"We cannot tolerate this insult and we withdraw our proffered hand of friendship. Since Iran has taken such an attitude, she herself must be expected to suffer the consequences."

Iran, he warned, "definitely will become our enemy if it signs a bilateral military agreement with the U.S."

The Shah of Iran announced Saturday that such a pact would be signed. Only last Sunday, the government announced that despite Russian threats, it was remaining solidly in the Western camp.

Iranian Premier Eghbal appeared unruffled.

"Let them shout and abuse us until they get tired," he said. "If they think they can intimidate us and force us to relinquish our rights and interests by these means, they are sadly mistaken. On the contrary, the more the Russians attack, the greater will be the unity of the Iranian nation.

"We must all die once, and it is much better to die honorably than live dishonorably.

"We know the Soviets would not dare invade Iran because if a single Red Army soldier steps on our soil, it will mean the beginning of World War III and the destruction of the Soviets themselves."

Mother of 2 Kills Self

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Mrs. Helen T. Gardner, 51, former wife of Trevor Gardner, onetime assistant Air Force secretary, was found shot through the heart at her suburban McLean, Va., estate Sunday, police said.

Detective Sgt. William Haines of the Fairfax County, Va., police said Mrs. Gardner was shot with a .22 caliber pistol. Haines termed the death a suicide.

Haines said Mrs. Gardner was found in a bedroom of her home by her son, Trevor Jr., 17, who had been downstairs with his sister, Anne, 15. He said neither child heard the shot.

Haines said the children told him their mother had been despondent over the breakup of her marriage with Gardner, who has since remarried.

Jobless Aid Skirmish Coming Up

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Battle lines began forming Sunday for a third major budget skirmish between congressional Democrats and the Eisenhower administration. The issue will be legislation to help areas plagued by chronic unemployment.

Already partially successful in their drive to push through housing and airport aid bills which exceed the President's requests, the Democrats were expected to press for an ambitious area redevelopment program.

Eisenhower vetoed a big redevelopment bill last year that carried a 275-million-dollar price tag. He followed up this year by resubmitting his own 55-million-dollar program.

The Senate Banking Committee will begin looking at the administration program and Democratic counter-proposals Wednesday. A House banking subcommittee will start its hearings on the widely varying bills March 9.

Both houses were expected to come up with programs that would cost more than the administration wants to spend despite Republican objections that this would upset the President's delicately balanced 77-billion-dollar budget.

In announcing the House hearings, Chairman Brent Spence (D., Ky.) of the banking committee said area redevelopment legislation is "urgently needed."

"Despite extreme effort, people in many economically depressed areas have been unable to improve their economic position," Spence said. "Continued and persistent unemployment in these areas now constitutes a national problem."

TV Ads Haunt Us --Even on Road

Metro police don't hold up traffic for license-check roadblocks anymore. They hold up traffic for television commercials.

At 3 p.m. Sunday, smack dab in the midst of the home-from-the-beach crowd, three officers stopped traffic on the Miami-bound lanes of Rickenbacker Causeway on Crandon Park.

The reason: Filming of television commercials displaying pretty young models driving Studebaker cars.

As Sunday afternoon motorists fumed, traffic backed up bumper-to-bumper for blocks.

It was only last week that Judge George E. Holt ruled that police roadblocks for license checking was unconstitutional.

All's Faroe in Love

Little Fishin' Smack Smacks of Cupid

ABERDEEN, Scotland —(AP) — A Faroese fishing smack bobbing over the North Sea was Cupid's little helper Sunday.

It was taking U.S. Airman Walter Baldwin, 28, of Cleveland, to the remote Faroe Islands. There, if chance boat schedules can be fitted together, he will pick up Kristen Anthons and take her off to Iceland, where they plan to be married.

Baldwin, on a short leave, has been under way for a week. He has covered 1,600 miles by sea, to call for his bride-to-be. He went from Iceland to the Shetland Islands, north of Scotland, from which, normally, small ships ply to the Faroes. But not even for love — in the winter time.

Unable to go directly to the Faroes Baldwin caught a cattle boat for Aberdeen. Here he hoped to make contact with a fishing boat headed for the Faroes. He was in luck.

Tramping along the waterfront talking to seamen with whom he hoped to hitch a ride, Baldwin encountered Hans Jenssen, master of the Faroese fishing smack Grunnigen, which was homeward bound.

Who, asked Jenssen, is the prospective bride?

Baldwin said Kristen Anthons, and skipper Jenssen exclaimed:

"Why, I know Kristen, and a fine girl she is."

When the Grunnigen left Aberdeen, Baldwin was aboard.

There is some urgency. Baldwin needs a good combination of weather at sea and boat timing. His tour of duty ends on April 2. To marry before then, Kristen must be in Iceland by Feb. 28 to comply with Icelandic marriage laws.

Paper Strike In Second Day

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — The American Newspaper Guild said Sunday it will present a revised pension plan to striking members of the Globe-Democrat unit in a meeting today.

A guaranteed pension plan is the only matter of contention in negotiating a new contract. The newspaper strike is in its second day.

The guild said it intends to ask for federal conciliators to call a meeting of the union and management as soon as the plan is completed and approved by the membership.

The guild said it is calling in a representative of a Detroit firm which specializes in setting up pension plans to aid it in making the revised plan.

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

BELL

JOSEPH NOCERA dropped in Friday. What, you don't know Joe? Maybe you don't remember Jackie Mason either — unless you were a fight fan away back yonder. Or maybe you bet horses and Jackie ran your money to the book. Or you bet fights and Jackie was stakeholder. Joseph Nocera is Jackie Mason — full of spaghet.

Of all the bangers we ever had around here none was more colorful than this cocky little loud-mouth.

He was his own manager, trainer and financial adviser. He wasn't much of a fighter, but no man could be more cute for two minutes of each round, and more furious and slam-bang the last minute. Jackie always went to the corner with the fans whooping. So he worked his way up to main bouts, and was careful not to get overmatched.

Jackie was a money hustler after he quit fighting in 1931. Then he drifted up to Columbus, Ga., where he went into business. He now has three restaurants there. Friday was his 51st birthday. The years have added plenty of poundage.

Well, she huffed and she puffed and she almost blew the Fontainebleau down trying to get close to the president. No luck. In desperation she mailed him an old Christmas card, asking please would el presidente????

He would, and did. It came up from Buenos Aires this week and now is on its way back to Andres Jose de Poinsteau.

Six Miamians Plucked From Sharks

By GENE MILLER
Herald Staff Writer

A Miami couple, and the three daughters they lashed to a dinghy as sharks circled their sinking yacht, landed safe in Los Angeles Sunday — thousands of miles from their Haiti destination.

It was 17 days ago that a sudden Caribbean storm broke up the 62-foot yacht Harpoon about 400 miles southeast of Miami.

The dramatic story unfolded Sunday as a rescue ship docked in Los Angeles after taking the survivors through the Panama Canal.

Miamian Al Ard, 45, his wife, Betty, 39, their children, Sharon, 20, Candy, 12, and Sandy 10, the Ards' pet chihuahua, Penny, were 23 out of Miami on a pleasure cruise to Haiti when they ran into a fast tropical storm.

Ard radioed for help as the once-expensive 42-year-old yacht began to take on water in rough seas and a driving rain.

"The whole ship was opening up," said Ard. "We knew she was going down and we were getting pretty nervous.

"The pumps didn't help. We couldn't control the water. So I got on the radio and started calling 'May Day, May Day.'

"Nothing happened. We didn't get any confirmation immediately.

"So we lashed the kids to a small dinghy. We figured maybe they would be saved even if we drowned. We were going to take our chances in the water."

But a San Juan Air Base radioman picked up the distress signal. He relayed it immediately to the Miami-based U.S. Coast Guard Air and Rescue Headquarters.

And from here an all-ships bulletin promptly went out.

Just as the Ards were ready to cast off the dinghy, the Greek ship Igor, a 9,000-ton freighter, came into sight through a lashing rain.

Los Angeles newsmen who interviewed the Ards described the Igor as a rusty old tub.

"To us," said Arb, "it looked like Noah's Ark, the Queen Mary and the Salvation Army. It was the most beautiful ship in the world."

"Sharks were circling the Harpoon," said Igor Capt. Issadores Los. "We knew we had to get them off in a hurry.

"We dropped a lifeboat and had them, their dog and a crewmen safely up in no time."

"We lost everything," Ard said. His three blonde daughters escaped barefooted.

"We stood on the deck and watched my boat sink — 35 minutes by my watch after we left her."

The Igor dropped off the crewman in the Panama Canal Zone, then continued to California.

"We plan to stay here a few days," Ard said in Los Angeles. "Then we'll go back to Florida."

Ard said he sailed from Dania Jan. 13.

The Ard family is believed to reside at 5901 SW 113th Ave. here.

Miami Family Doesn't Mind Close Race With Inflation

Second of a Series

By STAN JOHNSON
Herald Business Writer

A Miami family with an income of $5,600 a year finds that it's not hard to live with inflation.

"Sure, we have to spend more to live these days, but we've got more to spend," says Gardiner Snyder, an outside plant engineer for Southern Bell Telephone Co.

Cost-of-living indexes hold no special interest for Snyder. He has his own yardsticks:

His youngest child, born six months ago, cost $400 in doctors' and medical expenses — twice as much as his oldest, born eight years ago.

A few years ago, he remembers, his wife paid a dollar for three pounds of hamburger. Now she pays 69 cents a pound.

His electric bill averages $20 a month, compared with $10 a month in 1952.

He spends twice as much on gasoline as he did two years ago because he lives farther from his job.

His automobile insurance costs $160 a year, compared with $100 in 1956.

His income tax has climbed from $137 in 1952 to $680 last year, real estate tax has increased from $5 to $40, and gasoline tax is two cents higher.

On the other hand, Snyder's income has jumped from $1,500 in 1951, when he was going to college and working at part-time jobs, to $5,600.

He figures his home at 3000 SW 81st Ave. is worth $2,700 more than it was when he bought it in 1954.

He's wearing better clothes than he used to, and he has better furniture and more appliances at home.

Summing up inflation, Snyder has this to say:

"We're eating more macaroni and cheese and less steak than we used to, but that's because we're paying for a new car now.

"We don't go to as many movies, and I've cut down on my hunting trips, but we've got a TV set that we didn't have four years ago.

"I guess the worst part of inflation is the taxes. They're the most damaging because I can't find anything that makes up for the increase."

Snyder expects both taxes and prices will go higher in the next few years, but he's hoping, too, that his income will keep up with them.

No Fare Bus Rides On Today

By TOM LOWNES
Herald Staff Writer

Miami's downtown merchants want to take you for a ride — and it all seems pretty unfare.

In fact, there'll be no fare at all for the free shuttle bus service offered to shoppers by the Downtown Miami Business Council starting today.

The round-trip buses will leave the city's free Orange Bowl parking area at eight-minute intervals from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily and deposit shoppers right in the heart of Miami's business district and take them back again.

The service, paid for by some 1,200 Miami business and professional men, may bring in as many as 1,500 customers a day, according to Kendrick Clifford, merchandise manager for Burdine's and president of the DMBC.

Clifford said the no-pay buses, operated by the Miami Transit Co., will be run on a five-week trial basis and continued if it brings in the business.

Arthur Darlow, Miami's traffic engineer, suggested the new free-ride plan after a survey showed the present free-park-but-pay-ride system was used mainly by downtown workers, instead of shoppers.

Miami Transit spokesmen said the old Park-Ride plan will also be continued from 7:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. and from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. with regular 20-cent fare and free parking at the Orange Bowl.

If the all-free plan works out, Clifford said, the DMBC will open similar operations from locations in the southwest and northeast sections of Miami.

Gerstein Set To Continue Bookie War

State Attorney Richard Gerstein vowed Sunday to "keep the pressure on" Greater Miami police agencies to continue the crackdown on bookie operations.

"They should keep making arrests," he said.

Since disclosure of wide-open bookmaking here in last Sunday's Herald, 13 suspects have been arrested in raids.

Gerstein said he will meet again with the police officials on Friday to hear their reports on what they have done to stop hoodlum activities.

Gruesome String Of Wrecks Kill Three, Injure 10

By JOY WINANS and EDDIE GONG
Herald Staff Writers

Three persons were killed and 10 injured Sunday in a gruesome succession or wrecks which boosted Dade's 1959 highway death toll to 35.

Five major accidents and dozens or minor ones plagued county and city police as Greater Miamians jammed the highways on Sunday outings.

The two fatal accidents occurred in unincorporated areas. They helped push this year's death count six notches higher than the 29 recorded at this time in 1958.

The first came about 2:30 a.m. on State Road Nine about a half-mile north of Opa-locka when a speeding car carrying three Negroes veered off the highway for some 90 feet, smacked the abutment of the Snake Creek bridge, rolled down a bank and landed upside-down in four-feet of water.

Killed were Willie Doyle, 34, of 1437 NW Sixth Ct., and Eugene Clark, 23, of 1521 NW 68th St. In critical condition at Jackson Memorial Hospital was James Gray, 30, who lived at the same address as Doyle.

Highway Patrol Trooper W. E. Turnley said Clark's body was not found until about 12 hours after the wreck when volunteer divers pulled it from eight feet of water in the canal. Apparently Clark was hurled from the careening car after it hit the bridge.

Shortly after 11 a.m., Herbert Rose, 37-year-old construction worker of 10945 SW 40th Ter., turned abruptly from talking with friends in his car parked on the Tamiami Trail 28 miles west of Miami — and stepped to his death in the path of a passing car.

Trooper Charlie Johnson said Rose died of a skull fracture, multiple other fractures and internal injuries. He was knocked 50 feet by a car driven by J. A. Kurtz, 18, of Hanover, N.J., who was driving here with his family for a vacation.

Johnson said no charges would be pressed against Kurtz.

Six passengers in an auto were injured Sunday afternoon when their car smashed into a truck at Silver Palm Dr. and Farmlife Rd. in Homestead.

In serious condition at James Archer Smith Hospital were Mary Ellen Huffstetter, 30, of 420 S. Krome Ave., Homestead, driver of the car, and Mayo Bridges, 32, of 100 S. Second Ave., Homestead.

Four other persons were treated for less serious injuries.

Mrs. Sylvia Crawford, 29, of 1001 Caribbean Blvd., Cutler Ridge, and Ethel Carroll, 46, of 1181 SW 59th Ave., Miami, were seriously injured about dusk Sunday when their car collided with another at Caribbean Blvd. and South Dixie Highway.

Two University of Miami students in the other car and Mrs. Crawford's two children received minor injuries. Police said Mrs. Crawford's car ran a stop sign.

Airman 1C Roland L. Clemne, 29, stationed at Homestead Air Force Base, was seriously injured south of Goulds Sunday night when his motorcycle was struck by a car driven by Willie Lee, Goulds Negro. Police said Lee would be charged with failure to yield the right of way.

In Dynamite Cap Blast

Explosion Tears Boy's Finger Off

A seven-year-old South Miami boy lost one of his fingers, split his hand and received severe cuts over his body Sunday when a dynamite cap exploded while he was playing with it.

Andy Learner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Learner of 6171 SW 72nd Ave., was taken to Variety Children's Hospital following the accident at his home about 2:30 p.m.

The boy's father said Andy apparently was playing with a dynamite cap brought home the week before by his older brother, Dennis, 11.

He said Dennis found a box of dynamite caps in a shack on Lower Matecumbe Key, where he went last weekend with neighbors.

After Andy was sent to his room for a nap Sunday, his father said, the parents and a visiting neighbor heard a bang "that didn't sound very loud" in the upper part of the house where the boy's bedroom is located.

They found the boy in the bathroom trying to wash the blood off, Learner said. The father said the boy lost a finger on his right hand, split the hand, and had deep lacerations "from head to foot."

The boys' parents said they found a flashlight battery in Andy's room, and that apparently the youngster had sent an electrical charge into the dynamite cap.

Physicians reported Andy was "resting comfortably" at the hospital following emergency surgery Sunday night to remove dozens of tiny metal pieces which peppered him in the blast.

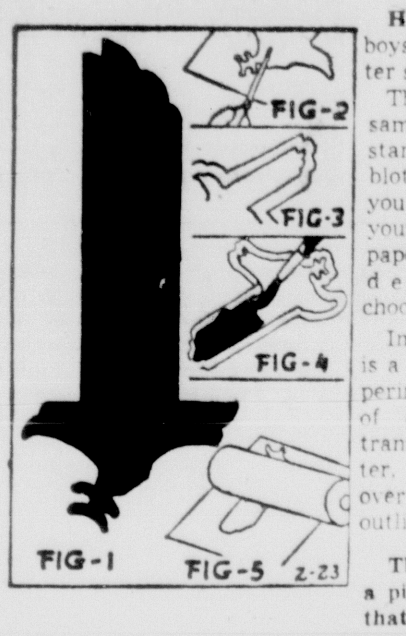
Stamp Your Property With Homemade Blotter

By CAPPY DICK



Hobby Club

HERE'S something new for boys and girls to make: Blotter stamps.

They are used about the same as rubber stamps. With a blotter stamp you can imprint your books and papers with any design you choose.

In Figure 1 of the diagram is a pattern to use for your experimental stamp, a silhouette of a modernistic eagle. To transfer this pattern to a blotter, lay a piece of tissue paper over the eagle and trace its outline with pencil.

Then place tissue tracing on a piece of blotter — the kind that blots on both sides is best — and with a sharp-pointed pencil and plenty of pressure trace the outline of the eagle. When you have done so, lift the tissue pattern and you will find the pencil point has neatly impressed the outline on on the blotter.

With scissors, cut the eagle out of the blotter as in Figure 2. The scissors must follow the outline exactly. In small corners where it is hard to manipulate the scissors, use the point of a sharp knife.

The next step is to make an underlay for the blotter eagle. This also is cut out of the blotter. Simply place the eagle on the blotter and trace its general outline with pencil, making the shape about one-eighth of an inch larger all around than the original eagle. Cut this underlay out and glue the two eagles together as in Figure 3.

When the glue has dried, brush ink over the entire surface of the first blotter eagle (Figure 4). Do not put ink on the underlay. Place the inked side of the blotter stamp on a piece of paper, then roll an empty bottle or rolling pin over it lightly (Figure 5). Lift the stamp and you will discover the eagle has been imprinted on the paper. To print again, simply brush more ink over the stamp.

Miamians Rescued From Sinking Craft

Haiti Cruise Ends in Los Angeles

By GENE MILLER
Herald Staff Writer

A Miami couple, who lashed their three daughters to a dinghy as sharks circled their sinking yacht, landed safely in Los Angeles Sunday — thousands of miles from their destination.

A Caribbean storm broke up the 61-foot yacht Harpoon on Feb. 5 about 400 miles southeast of Miami.

Aboard were Al Ard, 45, his wife, Betty, 39, their three children, of 5901 SW 113th Ave., and a crewman, Bruce Roberts.

They were 23 days out of Miami on a pleasure cruise to Haiti when they ran into a storm.

As Ard radioed a SOS signal to Florida, the 25-year-old Harpoon began to break up.

A San Juan air force radioman picked up the distress call and relayed it to Miami. The Miami-based Air and Sea Rescue headquarters promptly radioed an all-ships bulletin.

Ard and his wife lashed their daughters to a dinghy and were about to cast it off when the Greek ship Igor came into sight through a lashing rain and 10-foot waves.

"Sharks were circling the Harpoon," said Igor Captain Issadore Los. "We knew we had to get the survivors off in a hurry.

"We dropped a lifeboat and had them, their dog, and a crewman safely up in no time."

The Igor, bound from Europe to Pacific Coast ports, went through the Panama Canal and on to Los Angeles. Roberts left the Igor in Panama.

The Ards disembarked Sunday in Los Angeles when the freighter put in.

"We lost everything," Ard said. "Our yacht sank 35 minutes after we were rescued.

"We plan to stay here a few days, then go back to Florida."

The Harpoon sailed from Miami Jan. 13.

Red Press Hushes Attacks on Britain

Macmillan, Khrushchev Chat On Berlin, Cold War Thaw

MOSCOW —(AP)— Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Premier Nikita Khrushchev talked over world affairs privately Sunday at a Soviet government villa in a pine woods 50 miles southeast of Moscow. They toasted Britain's royal family.

The visiting British leader was the overnight guest of Premier and Mrs. Khrushchev at the villa, a sprawling, one-story house once owned by Joseph Stalin.

Soviet and British spokesmen announced the government chiefs, accompanied by top aides, discussed all subjects of mutual interest in informal sessions before and after lunch.

Although the announcements did not go into detail, West Berlin's future and the issue of German unity rank high among subjects of mutual interest.

Formal conferences open today in the Kremlin.

Macmillan was accompanied at the villa by his Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, and Sir Patrick Riley, the British ambassador to Moscow.

With Khrushchev were Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, a recent visitor to the U.S.; Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, and Jacob A. Malik, Soviet ambassador to Britain.

The villa lies outside the 25-mile limit beyond which foreign correspondents and photographers are forbidden to travel from Moscow. So Western newsmen were dependent on the Soviet news agency Tass and briefings from Western officials for the news.

A British spokesman said the ministers' conversations—one lasting 75 minutes before lunch and the second lasting two hours — were held in a relaxed atmosphere.

"The two great men got on very well together," he said.

The villa was built in 1939 for Stalin, who often used it to entertain guests. The British spokesman said he saw no police or soldiers on the grounds.

People fished and skated on a lake near the house.

All unfavorable mention of Britain appeared banished from Soviet newspapers with the arrival of Macmillan Saturday for a 10-day visit avowedly aimed to see about chances of easing cold war tensions. Attacks against West Germany and the U.S. were printed as usual.

The Soviet press was full of news of Macmillan.

The full text of his speech at a Kremlin dinner Saturday night in which he warned against the danger of "muddling" into war was carried in the papers, including his declaration that colonialism and imperialism were bygone episodes.

Observers noted it was the first time in years that the Soviet picture of "the aggressive West" had been contradicted so effectively in the papers reaching millions of Russians.

The papers hailed Macmillan's "return visit" for a 10-day state tour — a reference to the fact that he said Saturday he had last been in Russia as a private tourist in 1929.

Higher Wages Come First

Hoffa Won't Go For Shorter Week

Teamster Boss Jimmy Hoffa turned his back on the mainstream of America's labor leaders in Miami Sunday when he came out strongly against any shortening of the 40-hour work-week.

"I'd be the first to oppose it if it came up before the board," said Hoffa, who met with his 15-man Teamster executive board at Miami Beach's Eden Roc Hotel to begin a four-day quarterly business session.

Hoffa said members of his truckers' union are more interested in higher wages than shorter working hours.

"We're not going to worry about a few hours off until we've raised living standards first," said Hoffa.

"Who wants to stand still with the same wages for two or three years just to have the extra time," Hoffa asked reporters gathered in one of the Teamsters' ocean-front suites.

"If you took a vote on it, I don't think the workers in our union would stand for it — and they're no different from the workers in any other union," said Hoffa.

His remark was pointed at Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, who dropped his fight for shorter hours in favor of other demands during the UAW's last bargaining campaign in Detroit.

"And shorter hours," said Hoffa, "wouldn't change the employment situation one bit. If a man had to work only four eight-hour days at one job, he'd just take another part-time job — probably for less pay."

Wouldn't Foil You; It IS Aluminum

A shiny example of the versatility of aluminum foil and The Herald's presses is in your hands today.

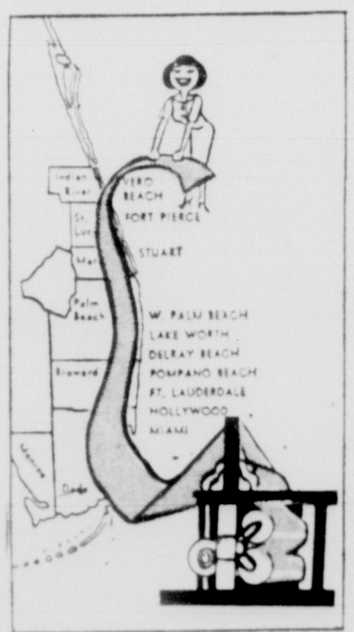
In Section E you'll find a full, newspaper-sized sheet of the super-thin metal foil that is so familiar to housewives as a convenient wrapper for foodstuffs.

Alcoa Aluminum Foil manufacturers wanted to put samples in the home of Floridians, and chose The Herald as the logical distributor.

Two-hundred-pound rolls of the foil — enough to stretch 150 miles from Homestead to Vero Beach — were placed on Herald presses in the space usually occupied by newsprint.

The foil proved its great tensile strength by holding up through the press runs which at times reach a speed of 52,000 copies an hour.

Actually, it is only seven ten-thousandths of an inch thick—just one-fifth the thickness of a regular newspaper sheet. Tests you can make yourself show a one-inch wide strip will support a weight of six pounds.



Alcoa's message is carried by The Herald throughout Florida in all editions — an exciting "first" in newspaper advertising.

Senator Irate At 'Favoritism'

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Sen. John Marshall Butler (R., Md.) Sunday joined New York senators in protesting what he called favoritism toward California in the award of defense missile contracts.

Butlr said he would go to President Eisenhower, if necessary, to combat "the present inclination of the Defense Department to put all of its eggs in one basket."

New York Sens. Kenneth Keating (R.) and Jacob K. Javits (R) announced last week they intend to sponsor legislation to require a greater percentage of defense contract awards on competitive bids. Like Butler, they contend that California has better than 20 per cent of all defense contracts.

Judge Slashed By Thugs

'Sent Up Pal,' Assailant Says

GREENSBURG, Ind. —(AP)— Three thugs lured Mayor Sheldon Smith to his downtown office late Saturday night and methodically sliced his face, hands and body with a double-edged razor blade.

He was reported in fair condition Sunday.

The 39-year-old mayor, former state chairman of Indiana Young Republicans, also is judge of the Greensburg City Court.

He told police the man who did the slicing, while his companions held Smith, snarled:

"You sent up my buddy, and you're going to pay for it."

Smith, mayor of this town of 7,000 for 10 years, said all three men were strangers to him, but he had seen the razor-blade wielder Saturday afternoon in a restaurant.

One of the men enticed Smith to his private accountant's office by telephone, saying he wanted help in preparing an income tax return. He gave the name, J.B. Patton, but Police Chief Warren Melick said it undoubtedly was fictitious.

The mayor was able to call police before he collapsed. He was sliced on both hands, the end of the nose, behind both ears, on the abdomen and on the right thigh.

Under heavy sedation, the mayor could give only meager descriptions of his attackers. He said two were in their 20s and the man with the razor blade was in his 30s.

Doctor Dies Of Beating

RICHMOND, Va. —(AP)— Dr. Austin I. Dodson Sr., 67, nationally known urologist and head of the urology department at the Medical College of Virginia, was found beaten to death early Sunday in Monroe Park in midtown Richmond.

While robbery apparently was the motive for the attack, said Detective Patrolman George Perkins, it appeared nothing had been taken from the physician.

Dr. Dodson and his wife were planning to attend a musical concert at the nearby City Auditorium. Mrs. Dodson said her husband dropped her off at the auditorium and then went to park the car.

Police theorized the doctor parked the car and was on his way through the park to the auditorium when he was attacked.

Key Demos Split On Dulles' Future

Pro-Nasser Mobs Riot In Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon, —(UPI)—Pro-Nasser crowds battered and burned five street cars in downtown Beirut Sunday in an outburst of rioting that climaxed the city's celebration of the United Arab Republic's first anniversary.

Gangs of pro and anti-Nasser youths clashed in fist fights in the heart of the capital following the trolley attacks.

The Lebanese army rushed seven truckloads of helmeted troops into the city to separate the rival gangs and prevent the outburst from erupting into wider violence.

At least two persons were injured, both of them members of the Christian Falangist Party that backed ex-President Camille Chamoun.

The fighting broke out after pro-Chamoun youths scrawled slogans denouncing U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser on street cars traveling through the city's Basta Moslem quarter where the population was celebrating the U.A.R. anniversary.

Crowds of Nasser backers angered by the slogans ordered passengers out of the street cars, then smashed the windows, ripped out seats and attempted to set them afire.

Two double trolley cars and a single car were badly damaged before police scattered the demonstrators.

After attacking the street cars the angry crowd surged down the main street of the Basta quarter in an attempt to track down the slogan writers.

It was the first incident to mar the U.A.R. anniversary celebrations in Lebanon and the first major outburst in Beirut since the nation's civil strife ended last autumn.

The rival groups clashed along the city's main square in a quick flurry of fist fights before the police and troops moved in.

Solders with rifles slung over their backs sealed off entrances to the Basta quarter and the Christian Ash Rafieh sector across the town, to keep the fighting from spreading.

Rocks Tumble In Swiss Winds

HERBRIGGEN, Switzerland —(AP)— A strong wind on the Nadelhorn Mountain sent earth and small rocks rippling down Sunday from a huge slide — most of which remained frozen to the slope high above this threatened Alpine hamlet.

An observation post reported a thin layer slipped off the foot of the slide and spread a few feet down toward the precipice leading to the village. Earth and stones came to rest harmlessly in the deep snow of the slope. Most of the 250 villagers have left their homes.

The bulk of rocks, earth and ice did not slip down the mountain, however, and still rests more than 200 yards away from the edge of the precipice.

THIS FREEZY STREET is in Topeka, Kan. A freezing rain deposited a coat of ice on the street, and Harling Jennings, a gay blade, got out his skates and glided across the thin ice. He said he wasn't worried about falling through, either.

Three-Way Tussle Looms

Control Battle Rages For Broward Airport

By PETER LAINE
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Port Board designs on the future control of Broward International Airport produced sparks Sunday from the County Commission, which administers it now.

Current revisions of the port charter include provision for the board to take over the airport if this becomes desirable.

"The idea's ridiculous," said George Petersen, County Commission chairman.

"They'd better learn how to run the port first," he said.

"Perhaps we should abolish the Port Board, and start running Port Everglades. That would make more sense," he added.

The Port's entry into the booming airport picture may some day make it a three-way tussle for control.

The third party is the Dade County Port Authority, which has the right — under a 1945 bill — to operate in Broward. The County Commission is now trying to terminate this right.

Port Everglades Chairman Ed Crowells argues that his group is in better shape financially than the County Commission to run the airport.

"The Port made more than one-million dollars net last year," he said. "All this — plus airport revenue — could be pledged to the airport program.

"The County Commission could not appropriate more than $500,000 a year," he claimed.

Petersen retorted: "If the Port's making so much, why doesn't it cut its taxes?"

County Commissioner Frank Adler suggested the Port Board use the money to make improvements at the port.

Petersen and Crowells agreed on one thing — keeping the Dade board out of Broward.

Crowells said he'd heard the Dade group was planning a 30-million-dollar bond issue for airport expansion in both counties.

But Robert Haverfield, Dade board member, said this was news to him. In Dade, the county and port boards are the same.

"We are aware of the needs further north, but no action is contemplated now to my knowledge," Haverfield said.

He sympathized with Broward's desire to run its own airport. But he cautioned that the modern air age requires inter-county planning.

"Jet airports are tremendously expensive," Haverfield said. "We need to help each other."

Newfoundland Cable Is Out

LONDON —(AP)— The 35-million-dollar telephone cable between Scotland and Newfoundland was still out of operation Sunday night, 24 hours after developing a fault toward the western end.

The British post office said service was being maintained by radio channels "but there may be delays in connecting telephone calls to North America."

In Montreal, Douglas F. Bowie, president of the Canadian Overseas Telecommunication Corp., said the fault had been tracked to a spot about 200 miles east of Clarenville, Nfld. A cable ship has been sent to the area, he said.

Neuberger Leads His Defense

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Key Democratic senators split sharply Sunday over whether President Eisenhower should immediately name a successor to ailing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D., Ore.) now back in the Senate after an attack by cancer, the same ailment suffered by Dulles, commented sharply on suggestions by some of his Democratic colleagues that Dulles be replaced.

Neuberger said that President Eisenhower and Dulles doctors "should be allowed a decent interval in which to decide the secretary's future without being hounded to force his resignation.

Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (D., Minn.) and Stuart Symington (D., Mo.) called for an early decision by the President. But Neuberger was joined by two others—Sens. John J. Sparkman (D., Ala.) and John F. Kennedy (D., Mass.) — in urging that the President be given a little time.

A Republican, Sen. Karl E. Mundt (S.D.) summed up most GOP reaction when he said he hoped Dulles would remain.

Symington touched off the controversy Saturday when, after voicing sympathy for the stricken Dulles, he said Eisenhower should promptly name a successor so the nation would have a firm hand at the foreign policy helm.

Humphrey endorsed the suggestion Sunday asserting that the nation must have its strongest and best qualified spokesman at the foreign policymaking level "at this very critical period."

Humphrey is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee — as are Kennedy and Sparkman.

Sparkman, in taking a go-slow approach to any Dulles replacement, said the secretary may bounce back from his hernia operation and cancer ailment if given a reasonable time. Sparkman said, "if anyone can, I believe he will."

Neuberger said "the faithful service of Mr. Dulles to our country merits a reasonable time in which to appraise his future."

Meanwhile vice president Richard M. Nixon paid a hospital call on Dulles Sunday —his first since the secretary underwent his operation Feb. 13. They discussed the Berlin situation for 45 minutes.

Dulles brother, Allen W., head of the Central Intelligence Agency, also called to give the secretary a briefing on the world situation.

There was no indication whether Dulles discussed with Nixon the Democratic calls for a new secretary.

Merry Cypriot Prisoners Stream Out to Freedom

Liberation Joy Rocks The Island

NICOSIA, Cyprus —(UPI) — Nearly 1,000 Cypriot prisoners released by the British streamed out of detention camps to freedom Sunday. Their liberation touched off one of the greatest outbursts of celebration ever seen on this once-embattled island.

British troops were confined to their camps to cut down the risk of clashes with the jubilant Cypriots, who poured into the streets at the first reports that all detention camps had been closed and their prisoners freed.

Troops in one section of the Mediterranean island were reported to have stoned carloads of released Cypriots — an incident reflecting bitterness over the amount of blood spilled in the past four years.

To Cypriots, however, the release meant the official end of the long "emergency" on this disputed island, the acceptance of their independence.

As wildly cheering detainees, many of them bearded, streamed into the island's cities, the emotions of Greek Cypriots exploded into celebration.

It was virtually impossible to move in the heart of Nicosia because of the crowds shouting, "the emergency is really ending," and, "we're happy — we're happy."

The detainees, many of them political prisoners, had been ordered released by Cyprus Gov. Sir Hugh Foot, who returned from London Saturday. The release was a result of last week's London Cyprus government which established independence for the island.

But the bitterness of years of struggle between Greek Cypriot and Briton still remained like an ugly cloud over the celebration.

Cap Goes Off, Takes Boy's Finger

A seven-year-old South Miami boy lost one of his fingers, split his hand and received severe cuts over his body Sunday when a dynamite cap exploded while he was playing with it.

Andy Learner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Learner of 6171 SW 72nd Ave., was taken to Variety Children's Hospital following the accident at his home about 2:30 p.m.

The boy's father said Andy apparently was playing with a dynamite cap brought home the week before by his older brother, Dennis, 11.

He said Dennis found a box of dynamite caps in a shack on Lower Matecumbe Key, where he went last weekend with neighbors.

After Andy was sent to his room for a nap Sunday, his father said, the parents and a visiting neighbor heard a bang "that didn't sound very loud" in the upper part of the house where the boy's bedroom is located.

They found the boy in the bathroom trying to wash himself off, Learner said. The father said the boy lost a finger on his right hand, split the hand, and had deep lacerations "from head to foot."

Miami Family Doesn't Mind Close Race With Inflation

Second of a Series

By STAN JOHNSON
Herald Business Writer

A Miami family with an income of $5,600 a year finds that it's not hard to live with inflation.

"Sure, we have to spend more to live these days, but we've got more to spend," says Gardiner Snyder, an outside plant engineer for Southern Bell Telephone Co.

Cost-of-living indexes hold no special interest for Snyder. He has his own yardsticks:

His youngest child, born six months ago, cost $400 in doctors' and medical expenses — twice as much as his oldest, born eight years ago.

A few years ago, he remembers, his wife paid a dollar for three pounds of hamburger. Now she pays 69 cents a pound.

His electric bill averages $20 a month, compared with $10 a month in 1952.

He spends twice as much on gasoline as he did two years ago because he lives farther from his job.

His automobile insurance costs $160 a year, compared with $100 in 1956.

His income tax has climbed from $137 in 1952 to $680 last year, real estate tax has increased from $5 to $40, and gasoline tax is two cents higher.

On the other hand, Snyder's income has jumped from $1,500 in 1951, when he was going to college and working at part-time jobs, to $5,600.

He figures his home at 3000 SW 81st Ave. is worth $2,700 more than it was when he bought it in 1954.

He's wearing better clothes than he used to, and he has better furniture and more appliances at home.

Summing up inflation, Snyder has this to say:

"We're eating more macaroni and cheese and less steak than we used to, but that's because we're paying for a new car now.

"We don't go to as many movies, and I've cut down on my hunting trips, but we've got a TV set that we didn't have four years ago.

"I guess the worst part of inflation is the taxes. They're the most damaging because I can't find anything that makes up for the increase."

Snyder expects both taxes and prices will go higher in the next few years, but he's hoping, too, that his income will keep up with them.

'Changed His Position'

Collins Should Quit, Says Segregationist

By JOHN McDERMOTT
Herald Political Writer

Tampa segregationist Sumter Lowry said Sunday night in Miami Gov. LeRoy Collins should resign, charging that Collins has "changed his position" on segregation by not resisting integration of a Dade school.

Lowry, who was runnerup to Collins in the 1956 gubernatorial campaign, said Florida's governor has ignored the state constitution by his willingness to accept some racial mingling in Florida schools.

The retired National Guard general said that during the campaign for reelection, Collins "made the people believe that he was for segregation."

Lowry made his statements while being quizzed on the Channel 10 television show, "Important."

In calling for the governor's resignation, Lowry said, "He should let someone do the job, provide the leadership which we need to prevent integration in the schools."

He said he does not believe that the Dade school board's decision allowing four Negro students to enter Orchard Villa Elementary School next September will have a deterring effect upon integration in other parts of Florida.

Many observers feel the Dade decision will strengthen the pupil assignment law by showing that under the law "some" Negroes were admitted to white schools.

Lowry said that the only way to insure segregation is "total resistance," and if he were governor, he would permit integration only if federal troops with fixed bayonets forced the issue.

Voroshilov Is Linked to 'Anti' Group

NEW YORK — (AP) — East European Communist sources have reported aged Soviet President Marshal Klementi Y. Voroshilov was a member of the "anti-party group" which almost toppled Party Leader Nikita Khrushchev in mid-1957.

Orginally included in the group were former Premier Georgi Malenkov, ex-Foreign Ministers V. M. Molotov and Dmitri Shepilov, and former Deputy Premier Lazar Kaganovich.

Late last year former Premier Nikolai Bulganin was identified as a supporter of the anti-party group in its activities against the economic programs of Khrushchev, first secretary of the Communist Party.

After the group was ousted from top party and government jobs, Khrushchev became premier while retaining his party post.

Moscow Warns Tehran

Link With U.S. Riles Soviet

TEHRAN, Iran — (UPI) — The Soviet ambassador to Tehran warned Sunday that Iran "definitely will become our enemy" if it signs a planned mutual military aid pact with the U.S.

In a separate statement, Iranian Premier Manutscher Eghbal retorted: "We are not afraid of any threats."

The semi-official newspaper Etelaat reported the government Saturday sent the Soviets a strongly-worded note protesting against recent anti-Iranian propaganda.

Ambassador Nikolai Pegov bitterly assailed Iran's "open insult" to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev by abruptly breaking off non-aggression pact talks in Tehran earlier this month. He said Iran brushed off Russia as it would a postage stamp power.

"Iran treated us as if we were Luxembourg," he complained.

"We cannot tolerate this insult and we withdraw our proffered hand of friendship. Since Iran has taken such an attitude, she herself must be expected to suffer the consequences."

Iran, he warned, "definitely will become our enemy if it signs a bilateral military agreement with the U.S."

The Shah of Iran announced Saturday that such a pact would be signed. Only last Sunday, the government announced that despite Russian threats, it was remaining solidly in the Western camp.

Iranian Premier Eghbal appeared unruffled.

"Let them shout and abuse us until they get tired," he said. "If they think they can intimidate us and force us to relinquish our rights and interests by these means, they are sadly mistaken. On the contrary, the more the Russians attack, the greater will be the unity of the Iranian nation.

"We must all die once, and it is much better to die honorably than live dishonorably.

"We know the Soviets would not dare invade Iran because if a single Red Army soldier steps on our soil, it will mean the beginning of World War III and the destruction of the Soviets themselves."

Floodwater Drains Off

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill. —(AP) — With a section of more than 100 feet blown out of a Wabash River levee, a floodwater lake over some 33,000 acres of Illinois farmland Sunday drained back into the river.

The clay dike, east of and across the Wabash from Vincennes, Ind., was dynamited late Saturday by Lawrence County farmers seeking to save their soaked grain plantings.

The affected land in southeastern Illinois was inundated Wednesday when the levee collapsed at a point near Russellville, Ill., some 10 miles north of Vincennes.

In effect, the second breach downstream was like pulling the stopper from a bathtub. Water boiled through the opening into the falling Wabash River. Upstream, the river level was low enough so that no new flood water came into the area from the Wabash.

Jobless Aid Skirmish Coming Up

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Battle lines began forming Sunday for a third major budget skirmish between congressional Democrats and the Eisenhower administration. The issue will be legislation to help areas plagued by chronic unemployment.

Already partially successful in their drive to push through housing and airport aid bills which exceed the President's requests, the Democrats were expected to press for an ambitious area redevelopment program.

Eisenhower vetoed a big redevelopment bill last year that carried a 275-million-dollar price tag. He followed up this year by resubmitting his own 55-million-dollar program.

The Senate Banking Committee will begin looking at the administration program and Democratic counter-proposals Wednesday. A House banking subcommittee will start its hearings on the widely varying bills March 9.

Both houses were expected to come up with programs that would cost more than the administration wants to spend despite Republican objections that this would upset the President's delicately balanced 77-billion-dollar budget.

In announcing the House hearings, Chairman Brent Spence (D., Ky.) of the banking committee said area redevelopment legislation is "urgently needed."

"Despite extreme effort, people in many economically depressed areas have been unable to improve their economic position," Spence said. "Continued and persistent unemployment in these areas now constitutes a national problem."

Philip's Visit Starts a Riot

SINGAPORE — (AP) — A crowd of 150,000 surged out of control at the Singapore Constitution Exposition Sunday during a visit by Prince Philip. Several persons were hurt in the crush, but the prince, surrounded by police, escaped harm.

The Prince, husband of Britain's Queen Elizabeth II, toured the fair on foot and by car.

JOSEPH NOCERA dropped in Friday. What, you don't know Joe? Maybe you don't remember Jackie Mason either — unless you were a fight fan away back yonder. Or maybe you bet horses and Jackie ran your money to the book. Or you bet fights and Jackie was stakeholder. Joseph Noceri is Jackie Mason — full of spaghet.

Of all the bangers we ever had around here none was more colorful than this cocky little loud-mouth.

He was his own manager, trainer and financial adviser. He wasn't much of a fighter, but no man could be more cute for two minutes of each round, and more furious and slam-bang the last minute. Jackie always went to the corner with the fans whooping. So he worked his way up to main bouts, and was careful not to get overmatched.

Jackie was a money hustler after he quit fighting in 1931. Then he drifted up to Columbus, Ga., where he went into business. He now has three restaurants there. Friday was his 51st birthday. The years have added plenty of poundage.

It Leaked

The "watered" course at Naples sprung a leak Sunday but you couldn't tell it by the drivers as they squished around in the 10th renewal of the Swampbuggy Classic. Billed as a "wintertime exhibition" for 3,000 spectators because it was the first running other than the day before hunting season opens, form (?) ran true with H. H. (Bookie) McCurry of Sarasota (insert) winning his third straight victory in "Short Cut." And the inevitable happened in the Powderpuff Derby, won by Mrs. Lena Bembry of Naples, when the leading woman driver was disqualified. Rules required her to jump out of her buggy and remount, but the judges detected her "just sticking one toe in" the mud.

THE NUMBER of man-hours (and woman-hours) lost from work Friday while a goodly percentage of the county's car owners stood in line for license tags must have been astronomical. Trucks Okay -- On Streets

MANY RESIDENTS of the county apparently believe that certain zoning categories prohibit the parking of trucks on residential streets. This may be unfortunate, but it isn't so.

Regulations on R-1 zoning prohibit the parking of trucks over one ton on private property, but there's nothing—apparently—to keep people from parking them on the public road right of way.

Ken Leathers and a number of his neighbors in Broadview Park have objected to the parking of a big tractor and flat-bed trailer along the street. He's sent two letters to the county zoning board about it without getting a reply.

There's not much excuse for the board's failure to reply, but as far as his protest is concerned, he seems to be out of luck.

Bob Berg, the zoning department's chief permit officer, says he gets many such complaints from various parts of the county, and has to answer each one in the same way.

Trucks of more than one ton may not be parked on private property—in a driveway, for example—but they can be parked on the road right of way and the zoning department has no jurisdiction in that regard . . .

The Beach Optimist Club is thinking of a bicycle road race around Broward County for teenagers, as a means of emphasizing safety . . . 7 Survive Dip, Flip Of Cars

By ERWIN POTTS
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Luck played No. 7 Sunday in two freak automobile accidents.

Seven survived mishaps in which a mis-shift of gears tumbled a car with four occupants into a canal and a speeding sports car went out of control and threw three 19-year-old Fort Lauderdale youths free before flipping over and coming to a stop on its top.

Only one person received minor injuries when the car belonging to Jane Marge Woods, 1701 NE 8th Ave., plunged into the Intracoastal Waterway bout 150 feet north of the SE 17th Ave. bridge.

Police said that around 2 a.m. the Woods girl, along with Evelyn Augustine of 515 NE 14th Ct. and two sailors from HMCS Restigouche, Earl R. Chisholm and James Ernest, got into the car.

Chisholm was driving, according to police, and slipped the automatic transmission into forward instead of reverse and the car shot into the canal. All four managed to get out of the sinking vehicle and swim ashore, but Chisholm was treated for shock and minor bruises at Broward General Hospital.

Naval Air Station drivers Sunday found the car in 20 feet of water.

In fair condition in local hospitals after being thrown from their careening car were Richard Taggart Marx, 2449 Sugerloaf Lane, Gilbert Stewart Mitchell, 1467 SW 18th Ter., and Donald Lee Maines, 2300 SW 35th Ave.

Police said their vehicle, driver of which was not determined, was traveling an estimated 80 mph when it went out of control and skidded off N. Federal Highway onto a lawn about 150 feet north of NE 19th St.

Police said a service station attendant near the crash scene had seen the car drag racing with two other cars a few moments before the accident.

School Bonds Building Lags Behind Needs

By GREG TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Broward County school administrators are almost finished with a school construction program encompassed in the 18.5 million dollar bond issue passed three years ago.

But the school construction program has been enlarged upon all the time and the county is far from catching up with a continuous growth in the school population.

Charles Lowery, county school planner, describes the operation as "trying to outguess the future."

"The bond issue was based on a survey in 1955 which predicted the school enrollment by September 1959 would be 43,900," he said. "Presently there are about 52,000 students, with 10,000 of them on double sessions.

"The latest State Department of Education survey on school plant needs estimates the county is roughly 13 million dollars short to provide the facilities for the anticipated enrollment by December of 1960," Lowery continued.

"People may think they will soon have another bond issue staring them in the face. We won't know about that until we find out what the legislature does in appropriating school funds."

The predicted enrollement for December 1960 is 78,000. Lowery thinks that, for once, the estimate may be high. So the 13 million dollar figure may also be high.

The bond issue program originally included 61 new schools and additions. Of these 49 projects are completed, under construction or being readied for bids soon. Twelve projects are untouched.

"All the bond issue projects should be completed or under contract by late summer," Lowery said.

Right now there are 4.5 million dollars in school buildings under construction. Eleven jobs will be awarded in the next four or five weeks.

The bond issue is just part of the program, and in the past four years the planning department has either built or planned 85 projects.

"Besides the bond issue, we've spent 2.5 million dollars in state matching funds and one million in state capital outlay funds," Lowery said.

"We've also asked the State Board of Education to sell 2.4 million dollars in state bonds for us."

The state bond revenue would be needed in addition to the estimated 13 million dollars to meet expected needs in the next two years, Lowery explained.

All school planning is based on staff and state estimates.

"We have to make the estimates on school enlargement a year ahead in order to have the building ready when the children get there.

"Not only do estimates have to be accurate but increases in enrollment have to be fairly evenly distributed throughout the county in order for planning to be effective."

Last year Lowery told the school board: "We should be off double sessions by September of 1958 if the overall estimates and individual school estimates are right and enrollemtn distribution is equal.

"But we had labor difficulties and five jobs were delayed because some construction firms went broke."

No '59 Tag--

Got Your Excuse, Driver?

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — What's your story? could be the password today.

That's what Broward County police officials said they would ask any motorists who "come to their attention" with delinquent Florida automobile license tags.

The deadline was Saturday and thousands of motorists missed it.

But if they're stopped by Florida Highway troopers, "We'll give them another chance if they've got a good excuse for not having their new tags on the car," said Sgt. N. N. Sharron of the Highway Patrol.

Like city and county police, the Highway Patrol "has no specific instructions" to apprehend laggards. Patrolmen are to "use their discretion" in picking up "willful violators," one official explained.

How do you tell a scofflaw from a "forgetful Philbert?"

"If an officer happens to see one he'll probably pick him up," said the law.

The fine: $25 to $50 in Broward.

But there were no arrests reported late Sunday.

The "lenient" enforcement policy on license tags was not the case, however, in Dade County. There, Metro Road Patrol officers were ordered to start nabbing expired-tag drivers at 4 p.m. Sunday.

In Tallahassee, Highway Patrol Inspector H. Lee Simmons said that his state force will make "no wholesale arrests for about two weeks — but city and county authorities can begin their campaigns whenever they want."

Chip's Yapping's Busting His Pal

By DUANE JONES
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — John Williams is learning that a yapping dog can be doggone expensive.

The 15-year-old schoolboy is paying a local animal hospital 75 cents a day to baby sit with his dog, Chip.

"I had to," John explained. "My folks work and there's no one at home while I'm in school."

The Fort Lauderdale High School sophomore said the expense may force him into taking a part-time job.

"It's pretty expensive," he admits, "another few days and I'll be bankrupt."

John said he could leave the dog at home if he didn't bark so much. The Williamses live in a duplex at 2201 NE Ninth Ave., Wilton Manors.

"I don't know what's wrong with Chip," John continued.

"He didn't give us any trouble until we moved down here about three months ago. Now all he does is bark. I suppose he's afraid or lonely."

Johnny's father takes Chip to the hospital in the morning and the boy picks him up after school.

"He doesn't like it there, but hasn't the good sense to know he could stay home if he'd stop barking," John said. said. "He barks so much his throat is always sore."

The Williamses got Chip when he was a pup, and the dog and John hit it off immediately.

"He follows me wherever I go and sleeps with me at night," John said. "He's supposed to sleep at the foot of the bed, but usually ends up with my pillow."

Engineer's Job May Go To Amman

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — A $450 a month port engineering employe was mentioned Sunday to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Acting Port Engineer Charles Chavalier Jr.

Port Everglades Commission Chairman E. J. Crowell said he would nominate Howard Amman when the commissioners choose Chavalier's successor at Wednesdays' commission meeting. Amman has been a draftsman and co-ordinator with the port's engineering department for the past two and a half years.

Port Manager R. T. Spangler said Amman is not a graduate engineer, but added that this is not a requirement for the post.

Chavalier handed in his resignation, effective March 31, to Spangler Friday. The 49-year-old engineer took charge of the engineering department last December when E. W. Bassett resigned.

Spangler said the commission will have to vote Wednesday to accept or reject Chavalier's resignation.

Chavalier, who lives at 802 NW Seventh Ave., Dania, was severely criticized by port commissioners last week for allowing his department to spend almost $90,000 during 1958. Chavalier protested that he had not been in the job all year.

Confidence Vote Given Legislators

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — The Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce went on record here Sunday in opposition to any move to abolish Florida's free public school system.

Without mentioning the segregation-integration issue, the Jaycees adopted a resolution supporting the free public school system established under the constitution of Florida.

It ordered copies of the resolution be sent to all members of the Legislature.

"The Jaycees believe the public schools must be preserved and that it is the responsibility that preservation and control of the public school system rest in the hands of the citizens of Florida," the resolution prepared by the Jaycees Public education section declared.

The Jaycees also said it is the "inherent duty" of civic organizations to involve themselves in issues which effect the life of the community it serves, and "the Jaycees are deeply concerned with the invaluable role which public education plays in the continued growth in Florida."

In another resolution, the Jaycees expressed full confidence in the existing public school program in Florida and urged adequate financing of the minimum foundation program for public schools.

It turned down a resolution which called for strengthening of the federal pollution control act and doubling the current sewage treatment plant construction grant program to provide for a maximum of $500,000 for any one grant.

It passed resolutions that:

CALLS for enactment of a law requiring annual automobile inspections at private garages approved by the state.

REQUIRE erection of warning equipment at every railroad crossing in Florida, complying with safety standards of the American Railroad Association.

REQUESTS FOR adoption of a four-cent stamp bearing the American flag in its true colors.

Other resolutions asked enactment of state laws requiring a license for "cane pole" fishermen, a state boat licensing law, and a law requiring those 18 and under to complete a hunter safety program before being issued a hunting license.

Capital Corner

Jax Mayor an Entry In 'Florida Derby'?

By JOHN BOYLES
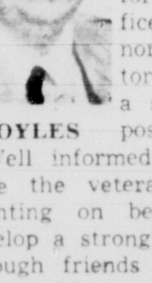
Capitol Bureau Chief

TALLAHASSEE — Jacksonville's Mayor Hayden Burns is seen by some capital observers as a definite starter in the 1960 gubernatorial derby.



BOYLES

Burns frequently has been mentioned as an aspirant for higher office — governor, U.S. Senator, or perhaps a state cabinet post.

Well informed sources believe the veteran mayor is counting on being able to develop a strong organization through friends in the state municipal league.

His long association with that organization has helped him develop contacts in city halls throughout Florida.

And Faircloth

IS EARL Faircloth preparing for the next gubernatorial primary on the banquet circuit?

The Miami attorney sounded like a candidate the other night in a speech before the Orange County Bar Association and he indicated he thinks former Gov. Millard Caldwell may be in the race.

In fact, Faircloth hinted he's ready to contest Caldwell for the office.

He told the lawyers that "according to the papers, former Gov. Caldwell pitches a temper tantrum every time he makes a public appearance."

Faircloth said Caldwell "would lead us to believe that breathing fire and brimstone toward Washington will reverse procedures well established."

Faircloth, however, commended Sen. Talmadge of Georgia for what he called being truthful with the people in advising that the Supreme Court decision desegregating schools can be changed only by a reversal of the court itself, or by a constitutional amendment.

Caldwell told us recently he isn't a candidate, but he just wants to arouse the people to meet the issues of the day. It is evident that if he is going to run for governor he has "aroused" a possible opponent.

Oscar Lee Battle and his wife went to bed as usual Saturday night, their three-month-old child snuggled between them.

There had been no cries in the night — no signs of discomfort.

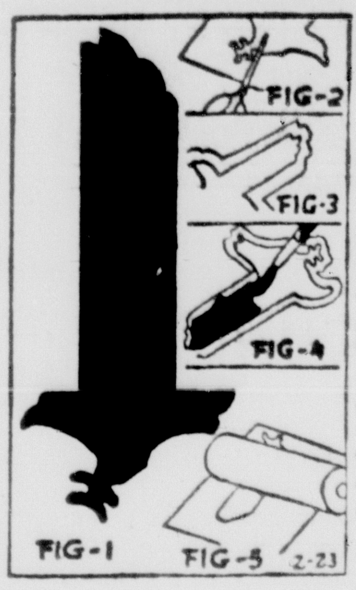
Stamp Your Property With Homemade Blotter

By CAPPY DICK



Hobby Club

HERE'S something new for boys and girls to make: Blotter stamps.

They are used about the same as rubber stamps. With a blotter stamp you can imprint your books and papers with any design you choose.

In Figure 1 of the diagram is a pattern to use for your experimental stamp, a silhouette of a modernistic eagle. To transfer this pattern to a blotter, lay a piece of tissue paper over the eagle and trace its outline with pencil.

Then place tissue tracing on a piece of blotter — the kind that blots on both sides is best — and with a sharp-pointed pencil and plenty of pressure trace the outline of the eagle. When you have done so, lift the tissue pattern and you will find the pencil point has neatly impressed the outline on on the blotter.

With scissors, cut the eagle out of the blotter as in Figure 2. The scissors must follow the outline exactly. In small corners where it is hard to manipulate the scissors, use the point of a sharp knife.

The next step is to make an underlay for the blotter eagle. This also is cut out of the blotter. Simply place the eagle on the blotter and trace its general outline with pencil, making the shape about one-eighth of an inch larger all around than the original eagle. Cut this underlay out and glue the two eagles together as in Figure 3.

When the glue has dried, brush ink over the entire surface of the first blotter eagle (Figure 4). Do not put ink on the underlay. Place the inked side of the blotter stamp on a piece of paper, then roll an empty bottle or rolling pin over it lightly (Figure 5). Lift the stamp and you will discover the eagle has been imprinted on the paper. To print again, simply brush more ink over the stamp.

Patrolman Jack Bliss Checks Items

. . . outboard motor, bobby pins stolen, too

Candy, Cigarets, and Beer Included in Juvenile Loot

By TOM MORGAN
Naples Bureau Chief

NAPLES—Loot from thefts, which included 105 packages of cigarets, 105 sticks of peppermint candy, and 12 cans of beer, a stolen auto and three juveniles were bagged by Naples police early Saturday.

The juveniles were two 16-year-old youths from Old Hickory, Tenn.—one bespectacled and sullen, the other more friendly and near tears and a 14-year-old girl with an angelic face and dirty fingers, from Pensacola.

The three were caught when Patrolman Ed Jones saw their car turn off the Tamiami Trail into a street in the Lake Manor residential district. The driver turned off the lights as the car made the turn.

The girl attempted to run as the three were brought to the police station but she was caught after a very short chase. She said she had been on her way to school in Pensacola when the Tennessee youths picked her up, but would say nothing more.

Jones said the driver admitted the car had been stolen in Decatur, Ala., and the Florida license plate it bore had been taken from a parked auto in Pensacola.

The three admitted to Police Chief S. B. Caruthers they had committed several robberies and thefts, including some in St. Petersburg and Fort Myers. They said they snatched purses from several women in St. Petersburg.

Stolen articles found in the car, in addition to the cigarets, candy and beer, included an outboard motor, three pairs of ear muffs, clothing, bobby pins, home permanent wave sets, and other items from sundry stores.

Since the stolen auto was transported across state lines, a federal offense, Naples police are holding the three for the FBI.

It's a Holiday For Some Today

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — Governmental agencies throughout the greater West Palm Beach area will close tight today in a general observance of Washington's birthday.

Actually the holiday this year fell on Sunday but there is a gimmick in the way governmental employes celebrate.

They are entitled to so many holidays a year and Washington's birthday is one of them. In the event one of those fixed "days off" falls like this one did, when the employes are off anyway, they get the first available weekday.

Meetings scheduled today have been set back to Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

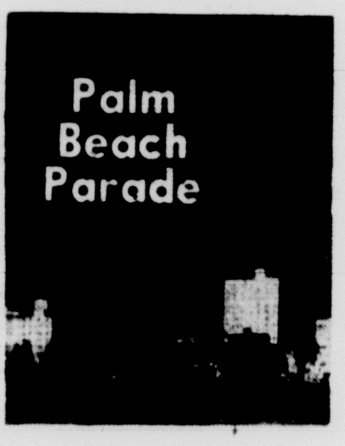
Board to Meet

THE BOARD of directors of the Chamber of Commerce Merchants Division will meet at noon today in the Pennsylvania Hotel.

★ ★ ★

Enabling Act

TUESDAY night residents of Haverhill and adjacent areas will get together in a meeting at the Mounts Building on Military Trail to decide whether they will seek an enabling act in the legislature to permit the town to annex adjacent property.



★ ★ ★

Attempt Due

TUESDAY afternoon an attempt will be made to rezone seven parcels of ocean front property in Palm Beach out of the strictly residential classification that prevails. Opposition has developed, the zoning board of appeals meeting may be somewhat torrid.

★ ★ ★

Roundtable

U.S. REP. Paul G. Rogers, of West Palm Beach, has been named as one of 18 Democratic congressmen who will take part in a series of eight roundtable conferences on Congress arranged by the Brookings Institute.

★ ★ ★

Travel Folders

THE CITY of West Palm Beach is going to go around the world in 15,000 travel folders. The city has made arrangments to take part in NATO's 1960-travel USA year program. The folders will be distributed to travel agencies and carriers throughout the world.

Miamians Rescued From Sinking Craft

Haiti Cruise Ends in Los Angeles

By GENE MILLER
Herald Staff Writer

A Miami couple, who lashed their three daughters to a dinghy as sharks circled their sinking yacht, landed safely in Los Angeles Sunday — thousands of miles from their destination.

A Caribbean storm broke up the 61-foot yacht Harpoon on Feb. 5 about 400 miles southeast of Miami.

Aboard were Al Ard, 45, his wife, Betty, 39, their three children, of 5901 SW 113th Ave., and a crewman, Bruce Roberts.

They were 23 days out of Miami on a pleasure cruise to Haiti when they ran into a storm.

As Ard radioed a SOS signal to Florida, the 25-year-old Harpoon began to break up.

A San Juan air force radioman picked up the distress call and relayed it to Miami. The Miami-based Air and Sea Rescue headquarters promptly radioed an all-ships bulletin.

Ard and his wife lashed their daughters to a dinghy and were about to cast it off when the Greek ship Igor came into sight through a lashing rain and 10-foot waves.

"Sharks were circling the Harpoon," said Igor Captain Issadore Los. "We knew we had to get the survivors off in a hurry.

"We dropped a lifeboat and had them, their dog and a crewman safely up in no time."

The Igor, bound from Europe to Pacific Coast ports, went through the Panama Canal and on to Los Angeles. Roberts left the Igor in Panama.

The Ards disembarked Sunday in Los Angeles when the freighter put in.

"We lost everything," Ard said. "Our yacht sank 35 minutes after we were rescued.

"We plan to stay here a few days, then go back to Florida."

Red Press Hushes Attacks on Britain

Macmillan, Khrushchev Chat On Berlin, Cold War Thaw

MOSCOW —(AP)— Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Premier Nikita Khrushchev talked over world affairs privately Sunday at a Soviet government villa in a pine woods 50 miles southeast of Moscow. They toasted Britain's royal family.

The visiting British leader was the overnight guest of Premier and Mrs. Khrushchev at the villa, a sprawling, one-story house once owned by Joseph Stalin.

Soviet and British spokesmen announced the government chiefs, accompanied by top aides, discussed all subjects of mutual interest in informal sessions before and after lunch.

Although the announcements did not go into detail, West Berlin's future and the issue of German unity rank high among subjects of mutual interest.

Formal conferences open today in the Kremlin.

Macmillan was accompanied at the villa by his Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, and Sir Patrick Riley, the British ambassador to Moscow.

With Khrushchev were Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, a recent visitor to the U.S.; Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, and Jacob A. Malik, Soviet ambassador to Britain.

The villa lies outside the 25-mile limit beyond which foreign correspondents and photographers are forbidden to travel from Moscow. So Western newsmen were dependent on the Soviet news agency Tass and briefings from Western officials for the news.

A British spokesman said the ministers' conversations—one lasting 75 minutes before lunch and the second lasting two hours — were held in a relaxed atmosphere.

"The two great men got on very well together," he said.

The villa was built in 1939 for Stalin, who often used it to entertain guests. The British spokesman said he saw no police or soldiers on the grounds.

People fished and skated on a lake near the house.

All unfavorable mention of Britain appeared banished from Soviet newspapers with the arrival of Macmillan Saturday for a 10-day visit avowedly aimed to see about chances of easing cold war tensions. Attacks against West Germany and the U.S. were printed as usual.

The Soviet press was full of news of Macmillan.

The full text of his speech at a Kremlin dinner Saturday night in which he warned against the danger of "muddling" into war was carried in the papers, including his declaration that colonialism and imperialism were bygone episodes.

Observers noted it was the first time in years that the Soviet picture of "the aggressive West" had been contradicted so effectively in the papers reaching millions of Russians.

The papers hailed Macmillan's "return visit" for a 10-day state tour — a reference to the fact that he said Saturday he had last been in Russia as a private tourist in 1929.

Higher Wages Come First

Hoffa Won't Go For Shorter Week

Teamster Boss Jimmy Hoffa turned his back on the mainstream of America's labor leaders in Miami Sunday when he came out strongly against any shortening of the 40-hour work-week.

"I'd be the first to oppose it if it came up before the board," said Hoffa, who met with his 15-man Teamster executive board at Miami Beach's Eden Roc Hotel to begin a four-day quarterly business session.

Hoffa said members of his truckers' union are more interested in higher wages than shorter working hours.

"We're not going to worry about a few hours off until we've raised living standards first," said Hoffa.

"Who wants to stand still with the same wages for two or three years just to have the extra time." Hoffa asked reporters gathered in one of the Teamsters' ocean-front suites.

"If you took a vote on it, I don't think the workers in our union would stand for it — and they're no different from the workers in any other union," said Hoffa.

His remark was pointed at Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, who dropped his fight for shorter hours in favor of other demands during the UAW's last bargaining campaign in Detroit.

"And shorter hours," said Hoffa, "wouldn't change the employment situation one bit. If a man had to work only four eight-hour days at one job, he'd just take another part-time job — probably for less pay."

Another Newspaper First

Wouldn't Foil You; It IS Aluminum

A shiny example of the versatility of aluminum foil and The Herald's presses is in your hands today.

In Section E you'll find a full, newspaper-sized sheet of the super-thin metal foil that is so familiar to housewives as a convenient wrapper for foodstuffs.

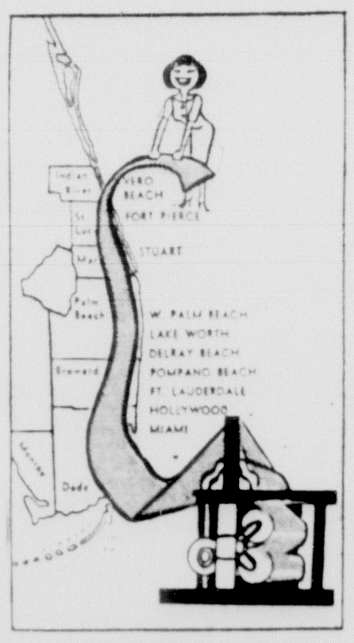
Alcoa Aluminum Foil manufacturers wanted to put samples in the home of Floridians, and chose The Herald as the logical distributor.

Two-hundred-pound rolls of the foil — enough to stretch 150 miles from Homestead to Vero Beach — were placed on Herald presses in the space usually occupied by newsprint.

The foil proved its great tensile strength by holding up through the press runs which at times reach a speed of 52,000 copies an hour.

Actually, it is only seven ten-thousandths of an inch thick—just one-fifth the thickness of a regular newspaper sheet. Tests you can make yourself show a one-inch wide strip will support a weight of six pounds.

Alcoa's message is carried by The Herald throughout Florida in all editions — an exciting "first" in newspaper advertising.



Senator Irate At 'Favoritism'

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Sen. John Marshall Butler (R., Md.) Sunday joined New York senators in protesting what he called favoritism toward California in the award of defense missile contracts.

Butlr said he would go to President Eisenhower, if necessary, to combat "the present inclination of the Defense Department to put all of its eggs in one basket."

New York Sens. Kenneth Keating (R.) and Jacob K. Javits (R) announced last week they intend to sponsor legislation to require a greater percentage of defense contract awards on competitive bids. Like Butler, they contend that California has better than 20 per cent of all defense contracts.

Judge Slashed By Thugs

'Sent Up Pal,' Assailant Says

GREENSBURG, Ind. —(AP)— Three thugs lured Mayor Sheldon Smith to his downtown office late Saturday night and methodically sliced his face, hands and body with a double-edged razor blade.

He was reported in fair condition Sunday.

The 39-year-old mayor, former state chairman of Indiana Young Republicans, also is judge of the Greensburg City Court.

He told police the man who did the slicing, while his companions held Smith, snarled:

"You sent up my buddy, and you're going to pay for it."

Smith, mayor of this town of 7,000 for 10 years, said all three men were strangers to him, but he had seen the razor-blade wielder Saturday afternoon in a restaurant.

One of the men enticed Smith to his private accountant's office by telephone, saying he wanted help in preparing an income tax return. He gave the name, J.B. Patton, but Police Chief Warren Melick said it undoubtedly was fictitious.

The mayor was able to call police before he collapsed. He was sliced on both hands, the end of the nose, behind both ears, on the abdomen and on the right thigh.

Under heavy sedation, the mayor could give only meager descriptions of his attackers. He said two were in their 20s and the man with the razor blade was in his 30s.

Doctor Dies Of Beating

RICHMOND, Va. —(AP)— Dr. Austin I. Dodson Sr., 67, nationally known urologist and head of the urology department at the Medical College of Virginia, was found beaten to death early Sunday in Monroe Park in midtown Richmond.

While robbery apparently was the motive for the attack, said Detective Patrolman George Perkins, it appeared nothing had been taken from the physician.

Dr. Dodson and his wife were planning to attend a musical concert at the nearby City Auditorium. Mrs. Dodson said her husband dropped her off at the auditorium and then went to park the car.

Police theorized the doctor parked the car and was on his way through the park to the auditorium when he was attacked.

Key Demos Split On Dulles' Future

Pro-Nasser Mobs Riot In Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon, —(UPI) —Pro-Nasser crowds battered and burned five street cars in downtown Beirut Sunday in an outburst of rioting that climaxed the city's celebration of the United Arab Republic's first anniversary.

Gangs of pro and anti-Nasser youths clashed in fist fights in the heart of the capital following the trolley attacks.

The Lebanese army rushed seven truckloads of helmeted troops into the city to separate the rival gangs and prevent the outburst from erupting into wider violence.

At least two persons were injured, both of them members of the Christian Falangist Party that backed ex-President Camille Chamoun.

The fighting broke out after pro-Chamoun youths scrawled slogans denouncing U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser on street cars traveling through the city's Basta Moslem quarter where the population was celebrating the U.A.R. anniversary.

Crowds of Nasser backers angered by the slogans ordered passengers out of the street cars, then smashed the windows, ripped out seats and attempted to set them afire.

Two double trolley cars and a single car were badly damaged before police scattered the demonstrators.

After attacking the street cars the angry crowd surged down the main street of the Basta quarter in an attempt to track down the slogan writers.

It was the first incident to mar the U.A.R. anniversary celebrations in Lebanon and the first major outburst in Beirut since the nation's civil strife ended last autumn.

The rival groups clashed along the city's main square in a quick flurry of fist fights before the police and troops moved in.

Solders with rifles slung over their backs sealed off entrances to the Basta quarter and the Christian Ash Rafieh sector across the town, to keep the fighting from spreading.

Rocks Tumble In Swiss Winds

HERBRIGGEN, Switzerland —(AP)— A strong wind on the Nadelhorn Mountain sent earth and small rocks rippling down Sunday from a huge slide — most of which remained frozen to the slope high above this threatened Alpine hamlet.

An observation post reported a thin layer slipped off the foot of the slide and spread a few feet down toward the precipice leading to the village. Earth and stones came to rest harmlessly in the deep snow of the slope. Most of the 250 villagers have left their homes.

The bulk of rocks, earth and ice did not slip down the mountain, however, and still rests more than 200 yards away from the edge of the precipice.

All's Faroe in Love

Little Fishin' Smack Smacks of Cupid

ABERDEEN, Scotland —(AP) — A Faroese fishing smack bobbing over the North Sea was Cupid's little helper Sunday.

It was taking U.S. Airman Walter Baldwin, 28, of Cleveland, to the remote Faroe Islands. There, if chance boat schedules can be fitted together, he will pick up Kristen Anthons and take her off to Iceland, where they plan to be married.

Baldwin, on a short leave, has been under way for a week. He has covered 1,600 miles by sea, to call for his bride-to-be. He went from Iceland to the Shetland Islands, north of Scotland, from which, normally, small ships ply to the Faroes. But not even for love — in the winter time.

Unable to go directly to the Faroes Baldwin caught a cattle boat for Aberdeen. Here he hoped to make contact with a fishing boat headed for the Faroes. He was in luck.

Tramping along the waterfront talking to seamen with whom he hoped to hitch a ride, Baldwin encountered Hans Jenssen, master of the Faroese fishing smack Grunnigen, which was homeward bound.

Who, asked Jenssen, is the prospective bride?

Baldwin said Kristen Anthons, and skipper Jenssen exclaimed:

"Why, I know Kristen, and a fine girl she is."

When the Grunnigen left Aberdeen, Baldwin was aboard.

There is some urgency. Baldwin needs a good combination of weather at sea and boat timing. His tour of duty ends on April 2. To marry before then, Kristen must be in Iceland by Feb. 28 to comply with Icelandic marriage laws.

Neuberger Leads His Defense

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Key Democratic senators split sharply Sunday over whether President Eisenhower should immediately name a successor to ailing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D., Ore.) now back in the Senate after an attack by cancer, the same ailment suffered by Dulles, commented sharply on suggestions by some of his Democratic colleagues that Dulles be replaced.

Neuberger said that President Eisenhower and Dulles doctors "should be allowed a decent interval in which to decide the secretary's future without being hounded to force his resignation.

Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (D., Minn.) and Stuart Symington (D., Mo.) called for an early decision by the President. But Neuberger was joined by two others—Sens. John J. Sparkman (D., Ala.) and John F. Kennedy (D., Mass.) — in urging that the President be given a little time.

A Republican, Sen, Karl E. Mundt (S.D.) summed up most GOP reaction when he said he hoped Dulles would remain.

Symington touched off the controversy Saturday when, after voicing sympathy for the stricken Dulles, he said Eisenhower should promptly name a successor so the nation would have a firm hand at the foreign policy helm.

Humphrey endorsed the suggestion Sunday asserting that the nation must have its strongest and best qualified spokesman at the foreign policymaking level "at this very critical period."

Humphrey is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee — as are Kennedy and Sparkman.

Sparkman, in taking a go-slow approach to any Dulles replacement, said the secretary may bounce back from his hernia operation and cancer ailment if given a reasonable time. Sparkman said, "if anyone can, I believe he will."

Neuberger said "the faithful service of Mr. Dulles to our country merits a reasonable time in which to appraise his future."

Meanwhile vice president Richard M. Nixon paid a hospital call on Dulles Sunday —his first since the secretary underwent his operation Feb. 13. They discussed the Berlin situation for 45 minutes.

Dulles brother, Allen W., head of the Central Intelligence Agency, also called to give the secretary a briefing on the world situation.

There was no indication whether Dulles discussed with Nixon the Democratic calls for a new secretary.

Merry Cypriot Prisoners Stream Out to Freedom

Liberation Joy Rocks The Island

NICOSIA, Cyprus —(UPI) — Nearly 1,000 Cypriot prisoners released by the British streamed out of detention camps to freedom Sunday. Their liberation touched off one of the greatest outbursts of celebration ever seen on this once-embattled island.

British troops were confined to their camps to cut down the risk of clashes with the jubilant Cypriots, who poured into the streets at the first reports that all detention camps had been closed and their prisoners freed.

Troops in one section of the Mediterranean island were reported to have stoned carloads of released Cypriots — an incident reflecting bitterness over the amount of blood spilled in the past four years.

To Cypriots, however, the release meant the official end of the long "emergency" on this disputed island, the acceptance of their independence.

As wildly cheering detainees, many of them bearded, streamed into the island's cities, the emotions of Greek Cypriots exploded into celebration.

It was virtually impossible to move in the heart of Nicosia because of the crowds shouting, "the emergency is really ending," and, "we're happy — we're happy."

The detainees, many of them political prisoners, had been ordered released by Cyprus Gov. Sir Hugh Foot, who returned from London Saturday. The release was a result of last week's London Cyprus government which established independence for the island.

But the bitterness of years of struggle between Greek Cypriot and Briton still remained like an ugly cloud over the celebration.

Miami Family Doesn't Mind Close Race With Inflation

Second of a Series

By STAN JOHNSON

Herald Business Writer

A Miami family with an income of $5,600 a year finds that it's not hard to live with inflation.

"Sure, we have to spend more to live these days, but we've got more to spend," says Gardiner Snyder, an outside plant engineer for Southern Bell Telephone Co.

Cost-of-living indexes hold no special interest for Snyder. He has his own yardsticks:

His youngest child, born six months ago, cost $400 in doctors' and medical expenses — twice as much as his oldest, born eight years ago.

A few years ago, he remembers, his wife paid a dollar for three pounds of hamburger. Now she pays 69 cents a pound.

His electric bill averages $20 a month, compared with $10 a month in 1952.

He spends twice as much on gasoline as he did two years ago because he lives farther from his job.

His automobile insurance costs $160 a year, compared with $100 in 1956.

His income tax has climbed from $137 in 1952 to $680 last year, real estate tax has increased from $5 to $40, and gasoline tax is two cents higher.

On the other hand, Snyder's income has jumped from $1,500 in 1951, when he was going to college and working at part-time jobs, to $5,600.

He figures his home at 3000 SW 81st Ave. is worth $2,700 more than it was when he bought it in 1954.

He's wearing better clothes than he used to, and he has better furniture and more appliances at home.

Summing up inflation, Snyder has this to say:

"We're eating more macaroni and cheese and less steak than we used to, but that's because we're paying for a new car now.

"We don't go to as many movies, and I've cut down on my hunting trips, but we've got a TV set that we didn't have four years ago.

"I guess the worst part of inflation is the taxes. They're the most damaging because I can't find anything that makes up for the increase."

Snyder expects both taxes and prices will go higher in the next few years, but he's hoping, too, that his income will keep up with them.

'Changed His Position'

Collins Should Quit, Says Segregationist

By JOHN McDERMOTT

Herald Political Writer

Tampa segregationist Sumter Lowry said Sunday night in Miami Gov. LeRoy Collins should resign, charging that Collins has "changed his position" on segregation by not resisting integration of a Dade school.

Lowry, who was runnerup to Collins in the 1956 gubernatorial campaign, said Florida's governor has ignored the state constitution by his willingness to accept some racial mingling in Florida schools.

The retired National Guard general said that during the campaign for reelection, Collins "made the people believe that he was for segregation."

Lowry made his statements while being quizzed on the Channel 10 television show, "Important."

In calling for the governor's resignation, Lowry said, "He should let someone do the job, provide the leadership which we need to prevent integration in the schools."

He said he does not believe that the Dade school board's decision allowing four Negro students to enter Orchard Villa Elementary School next September will have a deterring effect upon integration in other parts of Florida.

Many observers feel the Dade decision will strengthen the pupil assignment law by showing that under the law "some" Negroes were admitted to white schools.

Lowry said that the only way to insure segregation is "total resistance," and if he were governor, he would permit integration only if federal troops with fixed bayonets forced the issue.

Voroshilov Is Linked to 'Anti' Group

NEW YORK — (AP) — East European Communist sources have reported aged Soviet President Marshal Klementi Y. Voroshilov was a member of the "anti-party group" which almost toppled Party Leader Nikita Khrushchev in mid-1957.

Orginally included in the group were former Premier Georgi Malenkov, ex-Foreign Ministers V. M. Molotov and Dmitri Shepilov, and former Deputy Premier Lazar Kaganovich.

Late last year former Premier Nikolai Bulganin was identified as a supporter of the anti-party group in its activities against the economic programs of Khrushchev, first secretary of the Communist Party.

After the group was ousted from top party and government jobs, Khrushchev became premier while retaining his party post.

Cap Goes Off, Takes Boy's Finger

A seven-year-old South Miami boy lost one of his fingers, split his hand and received severe cuts over his body Sunday when a dynamite cap exploded while he was playing with it.

Andy Learner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Learner of 6171 SW 72nd Ave., was taken to Variety Children's Hospital following the accident at his home about 2:30 p.m.

The boy's father said Andy apparently was playing with a dynamite cap brought home the week before by his older brother, Dennis, 11.

He said Dennis found a box of dynamite caps in a shack on Lower Matecumbe Key, where he went last weekend with neighbors.

After Andy was sent to his room for a nap Sunday, his father said, the parents and a visiting neighbor heard a bang "that didn't sound very loud" in the upper part of the house where the boy's bedroom is located.

They found the boy in the bathroom trying to wash himself off, Learner said. The father said the boy lost a finger on his right hand, split the hand, and had deep lacerations "from head to foot."

Moscow Warns Tehran

Link With U.S. Riles Soviet

TEHRAN, Iran — (UPI) — The Soviet ambassador to Tehran warned Sunday that Iran "definitely will become our enemy" if it signs a planned mutual military aid pact with the U.S.

In a separate statement, Iranian Premier Manutscher Eghbal retorted: "We are not afraid of any threats."

The semi-official newspaper Etelaat reported the government Saturday sent the Soviets a strongly-worded note protesting against recent anti-Iranian propaganda.

Ambassador Nikolai Pegov bitterly assailed Iran's "open insult" to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev by abruptly breaking off non-aggression pact talks in Tehran earlier this month. He said Iran brushed off Russia as it would a postage stamp power.

"Iran treated us as if we were Luxembourg," he complained.

"We cannot tolerate this insult and we withdraw our proffered hand of friendship. Since Iran has taken such an attitude, she herself must be expected to suffer the consequences."

Iran, he warned, "definitely will become our enemy if it signs a bilateral military agreement with the U.S."

The Shah of Iran announced Saturday that such a pact would be signed. Only last Sunday, the government announced that despite Russian threats, it was remaining solidly in the Western camp.

Iranian Premier Eghbal appeared unruffled.

"Let them shout and abuse us until they get tired," he said. "If they think they can intimidate us and force us to relinquish our rights and interests by these means, they are sadly mistaken. On the contrary, the more the Russians attack, the greater will be the unity of the Iranian nation.

"We must all die once, and it is much better to die honorably than live dishonorably.

"We know the Soviets would not dare invade Iran because if a single Red Army soldier steps on our soil, it will mean the beginning of World War III and the destruction of the Soviets themselves."

Floodwater Drains Off

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill. —(AP) — With a section of more than 100 feet blown out of a Wabash River levee, a floodwater lake over some 33,000 acres of Illinois farmland Sunday drained back into the river.

The clay dike, east of and across the Wabash from Vincennes, Ind., was dynamited late Saturday by Lawrence County farmers seeking to save their soaked grain plantings.

The affected land in southeastern Illinois was inundated Wednesday when the levee collapsed at a point near Russellville, Ill., some 10 miles north of Vincennes.

In effect, the second breach downstream was like pulling the stopper from a bathtub. Water boiled through the opening into the falling Wabash River. Upstream, the river level was low enough so that no new flood water came into the area from the Wabash.

Jobless Aid Skirmish Coming Up

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Battle lines began forming Sunday for a third major budget skirmish between congressional Democrats and the Eisenhower administration. The issue will be legislation to help areas plagued by chronic unemployment.

Already partially successful in their drive to push through housing and airport aid bills which exceed the President's requests, the Democrats were expected to press for an ambitious area redevelopment program.

Eisenhower vetoed a big redevelopment bill last year that carried a 275-million-dollar price tag. He followed up this year by resubmitting his own 55-million-dollar program.

The Senate Banking Committee will begin looking at the administration program and Democratic counter-proposals Wednesday. A House banking subcommittee will start its hearings on the widely varying bills March 9.

Both houses were expected to come up with programs that would cost more than the administration wants to spend despite Republican objections that this would upset the President's delicately balanced 77-billion-dollar budget.

In announcing the House hearings, Chairman Brent Spence (D., Ky.) of the banking committee said area redevelopment legislation is "urgently needed."

"Despite extreme effort, people in many economically depressed areas have been unable to improve their economic position," Spence said. "Continued and persistent unemployment in these areas now constitutes a national problem."

Mid day temperatures were near zero over New England to the 20s in the Dakotas to the 60s along the Texas Coast. Considerable cloudiness with occasional rain or snow dominated the Rockies westward with the exception of Southern California where it was sunny.

Doctors Missing On Flight

CONCORD, N.H. —(AP)— A massive air and ground search was under way in northern New Hampshire Sunday for two doctors missing in a single engine aircraft since Saturday on a flight from Berlin, N.H., to Lebanon.

Sixteen Civil Air Patrol planes and two helicopters searched for a Piper Comanche piloted by Dr. Ralph Miller, 60, of Lebanon, and for his passenger Dr. Robert E. Quinn, 30, of Hanover. On the ground, 300 volunteers probed the rugged white mountain area for some sign of the plane or doctors.

'Preservation is Duty of Citizens'

Keep Schools Open, State Jaycees Urge

Confidence Vote Given Legislators

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — The Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce went on record here Sunday in opposition to any move to abolish Florida's free public school system.

Without mentioning the segregation-integration issue, the Jaycees adopted a resolution supporting the free public school system established under the constitution of Florida.

It ordered copies of the resolution be sent to all members of the Legislature.

"The Jaycees believe the public schools must be preserved and that it is the responsibility that preservation and control of the public school system rest in the hands of the citizens of Florida," the resolution prepared by the Jaycees Public education section declared.

The Jaycees also said it is the "inherent duty" of civic organizations to involve themselves in issues which effect the life of the community it serves, and "the Jaycees are deeply concerned with the invaluable role which public education plays in the continued growth in Florida."

In another resolution, the Jaycees expressed full confidence in the existing public school program in Florida and urged adequate financing of the minimum foundation program for public schools.

It turned down a resolution which called for strengthening of the federal pollution control act and doubling the current sewage treatment plant construction grant program to provide for a maximum of $500,000 for any one grant.

It passed resolutions that:

CALLS for enactment of a law requiring annual automobile inspections at private garages approved by the state.

REQUIRE erection of warning equipment at every railroad crossing in Florida, complying with safety standards of the American Railroad Association.

REQUESTS FOR adoption of a four-cent stamp bearing the American flag in its true colors.

Other resolutions asked enactment of state laws requiring a license for "cane pole" fishermen, a state boat licensing law, and a law requiring those 18 and under to complete a hunter safety program before being issued a hunting license.

Congress was urged to adopt legislation withholding federal aid from drainage projects affecting wildlife and the Jaycees endorsed the "Wilderness" bill preserving wilderness areas in the U.S.

The conference also petitioned Congress to amend the federal power act to provide that no license affecting fish and wildlife resources be issued until plans of the dam, or other project, has been approved by the Secretary of the Interior.

Jax Mayor A Hopeful?

By JOHN BOYLES
Capitol Bureau Chief

TALLAHASSEE — Jacksonville's Mayor Hayden Burns is seen by some capital observers as a definite starter in the 1960 gubernatorial derby.

BOYLES

Burns frequently has been mentioned as an aspirant for higher office — governor, U.S. Senator, or perhaps a state cabinet post.

Well informed sources believe the veteran mayor is counting on being able to develop a strong organization through friends in the state municipal league.

His long association with that organization has helped him develop contacts in city halls throughout Florida.

And Faircloth

IS EARL Faircloth preparing for the next gubernatorial primary on the banquet circuit?

The Miami attorney sounded like a candidate the other night in a speech before the Orange County Bar Association and he indicated he thinks former Gov. Millard Caldwell may be in the race.

In fact, Faircloth hinted he's ready to contest Caldwell for the office.

He told the lawyers that "according to the papers, former Gov. Caldwell pitches a temper tantrum every time he makes a public appearance."

Faircloth said Caldwell "would lead us to believe that breathing fire and brimstone toward Washington will reverse procedures well established."

Faircloth, however, commended Sen. Talmadge of Georgia for what he called being truthful with the people in advising that the Supreme Court decision desegregating schools can be changed only by a reversal of the court itself, or by a constitutional amendment.

Caldwell told us recently he isn't a candidate, but he just wants to arouse the people to meet the issues of the day. It is evident that if he is going to run for governor he has "aroused" a possible opponent.

Dick Pope of Cypress Gardens gave the recording of Ken Somerville's song by Ray Trotta and his orchestra to Collins, who played it for newsmen at a recent press conference.

Much Talk-Talk, But No Crossing

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

COCOA — Central Brevard's jammed roads are more than a nuisance — they're hurting the area, but a causeway to Port Canaveral could ease the pain, businessmen say.

They explain lack of a causeway has:

DELAYED construction of a Merritt Island shopping plaza because Food Fair Stores, Inc., wont' build until it's sure more roads will be built.

BROWN

STIFLED development of Port Canaveral because moving traffic in and out over State Rd. 401 — only road to the port and the south gate of Cape Canaveral — is difficult.

COMPLICATED sea shipment of citrus products and made at least one grower fear for his crop because State Rd. 401 traffic held up delivery of smudge pot oil bought at the port during the last cold snap.

FORCED Cape Canaveral missile contractors to stagger work times so their employes can get to work over 401. (The road carries about 20,000 carloads of missile workers every day).

★ ★ ★

Need Is There

WITH THESE and other arguments, the need for a causeway has been established.

But — although cross-river fill has been in place since 1953 — there is no causeway. Instead there are conflicting plans for construction.

The Brevard County Commission is committed to a plan to build a causeway from the port to Cocoa. Causeway tolls would pay the bonds.

But the commission admits such a causeway is at least three years off.

The Port Canaveral Authority — which owns the causeway right-of-way, although it has offered it to the county — doesn't want to wait that long It wants a causeway now . . . any kind of a causeway, even one with a wooden bridge, over the Banana River channel.

The authority isn't opposed to a toll road, but Cocoa Beach property owners, who are giving land for four-laning 401, want a free causeway to State Rd. 3 on Merritt Island, the same stretch the port board is most interested in.

★ ★ ★

Make a Move

AND SO THE talk continues—and there is no causeway.

The county commission has agreed to accept the port plan, if it can't swing a toll causeway right away, but both the port commission and the county commission are still talking about the plan.

So far, nobody has said when the talk will end and something will be done.

From this corner, it appears there had been enough talk—five years of it.

A military engineer company could have a road open across the Banana River in a few days. It would be a crude road, but it would carry traffic.

Brevard County should have the ability to do something.

Chemicals Boom Due For State

WASHINGTON — Chemical-producing facilities costing an estimated $13,250,000 will be constructed in Florida during 1959 and 1960, according to the Manufacturing Chemists' Association.

This includes $10,450,000 for three projects under way and $2,800,000 for three projects scheduled for early ground-breaking.

According to the annual MCA survey, Florida chemical producers in 1958 completed 13 projects, costing approximately $100,375,000.

The estimated Florida total on these construction expenditures for the three-year survey period, 1958-60, is $113,625,000—10th highest figure in the nation.

This represents 19 privately-financed projects in 14 communities by 14 companies and 3.4 per cent of the total domestic chemical construction for that period.

Construction of facilities for plastics, resins, and synthetic fibers leads in the classification by use category for Florida, with a three-year figure of 70 million dollars.

Following are general organic chemicals, $26,750,000; general inorganics, $8,550,000; petrochemicals, six million dollars; fertilizer chemicals, $2,225,000, and laboratories, $100,000.

The MCA also said $368,420,000 has been spent to build chemical plants in Florida during the past five years. The figure is conservative because the survey was more limited in its early years.

Chemical production is the third largest industry in Florida. The state ranks 19th in chemical production, with a value added by manufacture of more than $156,300,000 annually.

Seven Die In Mishaps In Florida

By the Associated Press

Florida's deaths in accidents this weekend climbed to seven.

Two men were killed Sunday morning in an automobile which hit a bridge abutment near Opa-locka, then plunged upside down into a canal.

The Florida Highway Patrol said the dead were Willie Doyle, 34, and Eugene Clark, 23, both Miami Negroes. Another occupant of the car, not fully identified, was critically injured.

A pedestrian was killed by an auto Sunday on the Tamiami Trail, more than 20 miles west of Miami. The victim was identified as Herbert Rose, 37, address unknown.

Ramon Mancilla, 49, and Jack Solano, 20, Mexican migrant farm workers, were killed Saturday night in the crash of their automobile into the rear of a truck turning off a road near Boynton Beach.

James Wilbur Kirkland, 14, of Jacksonville was killed Saturday in the discharge of a shotgun, which a chum said he fired involuntarily when a playful dog jumped on his back.

Robert Smetak, 41, of Miami was killed in a four-car collision in Miami Friday night.

Valencia Outlook Is Bright

LAKELAND — (UPI) — Florida Citrus Mutual reported the color and quality of the new crop of Valencia oranges are good, with sizes running normal to large. Volume movement is expected to begin early in April.

Robert W. Rutledge, mutual general manager, based his report on a survey made by field representatives in 16 counties.

Sectional summaries included:

HARDEE — Some young trees are now meeting maturity standards but it is expected to be April 1-15 before any volume will be moved.

HIGHLANDS — A number of older trees with little or no crop this year due to last year's cold weather, are showing bloom for a potentially good crop next season.

DE SOTO — Some ratios are low because of high acids although solids (sugars) are high. Bloom buds showing heavy on most groves and if present weather continues should open within two weeks.

ST. LUCIE, INDIAN RIVER and BREVARD — Some splitting has been reported due to abnormal moisture conditions. Movement in volume not expected before March 1.

POLK — Sizes are about normal with good quality and color with the exception of areas severely damaged by last year's freeze.

ORANGE, OSCEOLA and SEMINOLE — Valencias are generally expected to pick-out better than mid-season oranges. Pounds of solids are very good with some running as high as 12.

HILLSBOROUGH — Maturity is advancing with some Valencias beginning to move, although it is expected to be April before volume is reached.

LAKE — Heaviest plantings are in Valencias and a large percentage of these are young trees, 14 years old and younger. Young trees are reaching maturity and are being harvested in light volume for fresh fruit and chilled juice outlets.

MARION — Volume is short as a result of last year's freeze. Trees should be in bloom in 10 days to two weeks.

VOLUSIA and PUTNAM — There is no buying activity in this area on Valencias, since none are passing maturity standards yet. In Oak Hill area there is about normal crop as to quality and volume. In West Volusia the volume of Valencias will be light, due to last year's freeze damage.

Buggies Threw Bow Waves in Backstretch
. . . in first "winter" Swampbuggy Classis Sunday

Buggy Form(?) Ran True Even If the Field Leaked

By TOM MORGAN
Naples Bureau Chief

NAPLES — It was the third straight win and the fourth swamp buggy race victory for H. H. (Bookie) McCurry of Sarasota Sunday before a crowd of more than 3,000 here.

McCURRY

Mrs. Lena Bembry of Naples won the "powderpuff derby" for women.

The exhibition races were the first winter running of a 10-year-old event which, except for the winners, is never the same in any detail. This time one buggy ran out of gas while leading on the backstretch, two were left at the post — and the track sprung a leak.

To make the rack swamplike for the 53 competing buggies, officials had diked the edges and pumped water onto it for three days. Midway in the races a dike gave away and water gushed into the infield.

"If much more water gets away," cracked announcer Lovell Meadors, "we can subdivide the track and sell it. I'm beginning to see land here and there."

The drivers could see little but mud.

Buggy after buggie was swamped under sheets of water and slime, and many threw a "bow wave" swinging out of the backstretch.

Mud was a problem for women, too. Most tied up their hair in plastic covers but foundered on another problem — the rules require drivers half way around the half-mile track to jump out and jump in again.

Mrs. Jean McDaniels of Naples, leading in the second Powderpuff heat, was disqualified because judges said she touched only one toe in the mud — not both feet.

McCurry, with his "Short Cut," nosed out W. T. Bembry in his shark-nosed buggiy "Hurricane" after pulling ahead on the back loop. Bembry, whose wife won the powderpuff event, had been a strong contender in the fall races.

The women ran true to form established in the first, November powderpuff race, when the winner drove all the way with the brake on. Yesterday Mrs. Bernice Whidden, Immokalee, maneuvered her big buggy back and forth deftly to line up for the final race — then was left at the post with a dead motor. She finally started but couldn't make up the loss.

Another woman did well until she stopped and found she couldn't shift gears to start again.

Presbyterian College Names Bevan Dean

ST. PETERSBURG—(AP)—Dr. John M. Bevan, 34, an associate professor of psychology at Davidson (N.C.) College, will become dean of Florida Presbyterian College at St. Petersburg July 1.

Announcement of Bevan's appointment came Sunday from Dr. William H. Kadel, president of the new four-year liberal arts college.

Kadel said Bevan will spend four months seeking faculty members for the college and helping to work out a schedule of classes to be offered.

Plans call for opening the college at the former U.S. Maritime Training School at St. Petersburg until completion of buildings at the campus, which will be on Boga Ciega Bay, just northwest of Sunshine Skyway, the bridge across Tampa Bay.

Kadel termed Bevan one of the most outstanding young educators in the South. He holds bachelors, masters and Ph.D. degrees from Duke University. Bevan also was graduated from Franklin and Marshall College.

The Presbyterians have launched a 10 million dollar building fund drive for the new college. They also seek an endowment of five million dollars.

Como Turns The Tables On Court

JUPITER — Crooner Perry Como apparently turned the joke on the "Brothers of the Brush" who planned to put him on trial Saturday in a "kangaroo court" on charges of not growing any chin whiskers.

COMO

The way it turned out, Perry — who was arrested last week in connection with the Jupiter Lighthouse Centennial Festival — appeared in an artificial beard, plug hat and red coat.

Thus disguised as a beachcombing tourist, the Jupiter kangaroo court failed to recognize him.

When the singer finally doffed the beard he was virtually overcome in the large crowd that pressed around and had to be rescued by mounted cops.

Como recently has been vacationing at his Hobe Sound home.

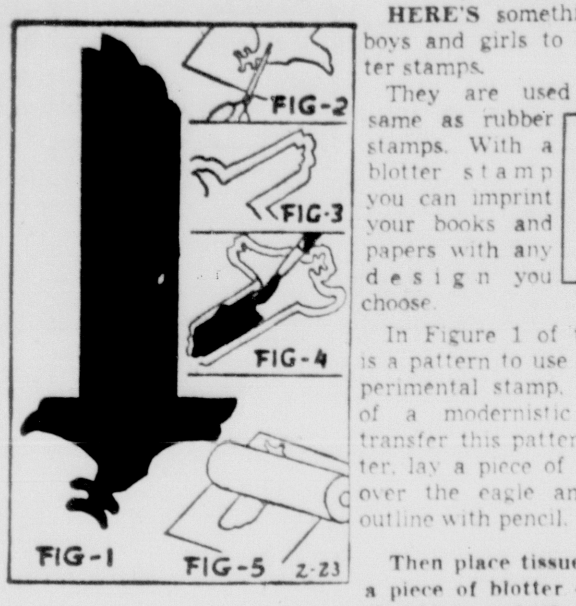
Stamp Your Property With Homemade Blotter

By CAPPY DICK

Hobby Club



HERE'S something new for boys and girls to make: Blotter stamps.

They are used about the same as rubber stamps. With a blotter stamp you can imprint your books and papers with any design you choose.

In Figure 1 of the diagram is a pattern to use for your experimental stamp, a silhouette of a modernistic eagle. To transfer this pattern to a blotter, lay a piece of tissue paper over the eagle and trace its outline with pencil.

Then place tissue tracing on a piece of blotter — the kind that blots on both sides is best — and with a sharp-pointed pencil and plenty of pressure trace the outline of the eagle. When you have done so, lift the tissue pattern and you will find the pencil point has neatly impressed the outline on on the blotter.

With scissors, cut the eagle out of the blotter as in Figure 2. The scissors must follow the outline exactly. In small corners where it is hard to manipulate the scissors, use the point of a sharp knife.

The next step is to make an underlay for the blotter eagle. This also is cut out of the blotter. Simply place the eagle on the blotter and trace its general outline with pencil, making the shape about one-eighth of an inch larger all around than the original eagle. Cut this underlay out and glue the two eagles together as in Figure 3.

When the glue has dried, brush ink over the entire surface of the first blotter eagle (Figure 4). Do not put ink on the underlay. Place the inked side of the blotter stamp on a piece of paper, then roll an empty bottle or rolling pin over it lightly (Figure 5). Lift the stamp and you will discover the eagle has been imprinted on the paper. To print again, simply brush more ink over the stamp.

Patrolman Jack Bliss Checks Items

. . . outboard motor, bobby pins stolen, too

Candy, Cigarets, and Beer Included in Juvenile Loot

By TOM MORGAN
Naples Bureau Chief

NAPLES—Loot from thefts, which included 105 packages of cigarets, 105 sticks of peppermint candy, and 12 cans of beer, a stolen auto and three juveniles were bagged by Naples police early Saturday.

The juveniles were two 16-year-old youths from Old Hickory, Tenn.—one bespectacled and sullen, the other more friendly and near tears and a 14-year-old girl with an angelic face and dirty fingers, from Pensacola.

The three were caught when Patrolman Ed Jones saw their car turn off the Tamiami Trail into a street in the Lake Manor residential district. The driver turned off the lights as the car made the turn.

The girl attempted to run as the three were brought to the police station but she was caught after a very short chase. She said she had been on her way to school in Pensacola when the Tennessee youths picked her up, but would say nothing more.

Jones said the driver admitted the car had been stolen in Decatur, Ala., and the Florida license plate it bore had been taken from a parked auto in Pensacola.

The three admitted to Police Chief S. B. Caruthers they had committed several robberies and thefts, including some in St. Petersburg and Fort Myers. They said they snatched purses from several women in St. Petersburg.

Stolen articles found in the car, in addition to the cigarets, candy and beer, included an outboard motor, three pairs of ear muffs, clothing, bobby pins, home permanent wave sets, and other items from sundry stores.

Since the stolen auto was transported across state lines, a federal offense, Naples police are holding the three for the FBI.

It's a Holiday For Some Today

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — Governmental agencies throughout the greater West Palm Beach area will close tight today in a general observance of Washington's birthday.

Actually the holiday this year fell on Sunday but there is a gimmick in the way governmental employes celebrate. They are entitled to so many holidays a year and Washington's birthday is one of them. In the event one of those fixed "days off" falls like this one did, when the employes are off anyway, they get the first available weekday.

Meetings scheduled today have been set back to Tuesday.

* * *

Board to Meet

THE BOARD of directors of the Chamber of Commerce Merchants Division will meet at noon today in the Pennsylvania Hotel.

* * *

Enabling Act

TUESDAY night residents of Haverhill and adjacent areas will get together in a meeting at the Mounts Building on Military Trail to decide whether they will seek an enabling act in the legislature to permit the town to annex adjacent property.

Palm Beach Parade

* * *

Attempt Due

TUESDAY afternoon an attempt will be made to rezone seven parcels of ocean front property in Palm Beach out of the strictly residential classification that prevails. Opposition has developed, the zoning board of appeals meeting may be somewhat torrid.

* * *

Roundtable

U.S. REP. Paul G. Rogers, of West Palm Beach, has been named as one of 18 Democratic congressmen who will take part in a series of eight roundtable conferences on Congress arranged by the Brookings Institute.

* * *

Travel Folders

THE CITY of West Palm Beach is going to go around the world in 15,000 travel folders. The city has made arrangements to take part in NATO's 1960-travel USA year program. The folders will be distributed to travel agencies and carriers throughout the world.
